Tariff Battle Upsets Diplomats' Plans.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Possibility that the Democrats and the Republicans from the sugar beet and dairy states will force legislation through congress this session granting the Philippine islands from American rule has added complications to the problem of American statesmanship and upset calculations regarding the London naval conference.

As a result of the movement by senators and congressmen from western agricultural states to put a crimp in the competition of cheap Philippine cane sugar with American beet sugar, and of Philippine coconut oil, as the base of butter substitutes, with dairy butter, the Filipinos suddenly find themselves closer to independence than at any time in their history.

Line Up with Democrats.

Failing to obtain the extension of the United States tariff to the products of the Philippines, which now enter free of duty, and balked in the effort to procure a limitation of the amount of Philippine sugar admitted, the sugar beet and dairy statesmen have lined up with Democrats in favor of an immediate grant of independence to the islands, which would automatically place them outside the American tariff wall.

Taking advantage of this situation, which has developed during the consideration of the tariff revision bill, the Filipinos have revived their demands for independence and are sending a delegation of their leaders to Washington for a hearing next month by the senate and house committees on the flotation legislation being urged by the American agricultural bloc.

Supporting Philippine independence is practically the solid coalition of Democrats and western Republicans which now controls the senate and has demonstrated its ability to dictate legislation by its rewriting of the tariff bill as passed by the house and revised by the senate finance committee. Coalition leaders are confidently predicting passage of a Philippine independence bill by the senate. The farm bloc in the house is no less confident of success in that body.

Hoover Inclined Toward Commission.

The administration is greatly worried by the situation. Nothing would be more embarrassing for the President than to receive a Philippine independence bill from congress which he would have to sign or veto or allow to become a law without his signature. Theoretically he favors the liberation of the islands from American rule, but there are practical complications that impel him to hesitate lest precipitate action. His inclination would be to send a commission to the islands to study the whole question, including the capacity of the Filipinos for self government, before the consideration of legislation.

From the administration viewpoint the future status of the Philippines presents the most important problem of American statesmanship today, not even excepting the London arms conference, great as that bulks in the affairs of the nation. For the future of the Philippines involves the future of the United States in the Pacific and the orient, in which region America made her bow as a world power thirty years ago.

Admits "Monroe Doctrine" Feared.

Are we to withdraw, our statesmen are asking themselves, from a region with destiny appears likely to make it theater within the next generation of a political and economic development the like of which the world has never seen? With our prosperity dependent more and more upon the expansion of our foreign trade, our manufacturers and other producers are looking to the development of a vast market in China when the most important people on the globe follow the example of Japan in adopting Occidentation of the ways of life.

The commercial "open door" in the Orient established by the statesmanship of John Hay has been kept open by the presence of the United States in the Philippines, from which naval and military forces have been quickly dispatched for the protection of American business men and missionaries in China. Many American statesmen are of the opinion that if we withdraw from the Philippines it will not be long before Japan closes the "open door" to American trade and proclaims an Asiatic Monroe Doctrine which will effectually bar us from the

STRAWN TALKS TO BANKS; CITY AID ALSO ASKED

Caldwell Plans Loan on 1930 Taxes.

Silas H. Strawn, head of the city's fiscal rescue committee, announced yesterday that he was "very hopeful" of completing a plan today which will permit the school board to borrow enough money from the banks to meet the pay rolls of teachers and school janitors before Christmas.

At the same time H. Wallace Caldwell, president of the board of education, after a day of conferences with bankers and city officials, declared that the chances of obtaining the pay roll money were improving. Mr. Strawn and Mr. Caldwell worked independently in their efforts.

Thus the 13,000 teachers who face a payless Christmas were offered hope from two sources yesterday. Many refused to believe that anything could be done with only 36 hours till Christmas eve.

Checks Already Made Out.

But if the money is available today the school board has the pay checks already made out and a plan has been evolved to put them in the hands of the teachers immediately.

The plight of the teachers, it was pointed out yesterday, is exceedingly difficult because they had no advance notice that they might not receive their Christmas pay. As a result many spent all their savings for gifts and are practically penniless without the money they expected.

"After talking to a number of bankers today, I have been encouraged to believe in probable success for our efforts to obtain money for the school teachers' pay rolls," said Mr. Strawn. "We will have a meeting on Monday at 12:30 p. m. of the members of the committee and the new plan will be submitted to them at that time."

Strawn Seeks $2,477,115.

Mr. Strawn would not reveal details of his plan, but he said it included getting wages for the janitors as well as the teachers. The amount of money to be raised will be $2,477,115, according to indications. This is a substantial reduction from the $4,000,000 first considered necessary for the pay rolls two weeks ago and the $3,598,457 which Mr. Caldwell has been attempting to raise.

The committee of which Mr. Strawn is head is composed of bankers, lawyers, manufacturers, railroad heads, department store executives, and real estate men. The seventeen members are Mr. Strawn, D. F. Kelly, E. N. Hurley, John P. Wilson, C. Ward Seabury, Clayton Marks, Fred W. Sargent, G. O. Fairweather, Rufus C. Dawes, Henry Zander, Sewell L. Avery, E. R. Graham, R. F. Carr, Graham Aldis, William P. Sidley, Harold W. White, and Victor Olander.

1930 Tax Loan Sought.

Mr. Caldwell revealed that no hope can longer be held out for borrowing money on tax anticipation warrants for the years 1928 and 1929. A firm of certified public accountants spent yesterday going over the school board books and finally reported that the board's borrowing power on tax warrants for those two years has been exhausted.

But, the board president asserted, money may be obtained in anticipation of the 1930 tax revenue. A special meeting of the school board is scheduled for 11 o'clock this morning. A resolution will be adopted, it was said, calling upon the city to lend the schools $3,000,000 on 1930 tax anticipation warrants.

Mr. Caldwell's plan therefore calls for assistance from the city, while Mr. Strawn's committee apparently plans to get the money directly from the banks.

City Has $10,000,000.

The city has some $10,000,000 in its surplus funds due to the recent sale of improvement bond issues and from other sources, it was pointed out. Thus the city, in addition to taking care of its own expenses for the next two months, could lend the school board the necessary $2,477,115. Whether it will do so is another question.

The city council has a meeting this afternoon and hundreds of school teachers are planning to appear at the session and appeal for help, according to reports.

Bandits Work by Boy Proxy; He Lands a Job

John Decosta, 19 years old, a pin boy at the Rienzi Arcade bowling alleys, 2809 Broadway, assisted in a robbery last night. As a result he has a new job at higher pay today and the two reticent bandits who sought to make him their tool are somewhere without the loot they had expected.

Decosta was in a poolroom near Dole avenue and Clark street when he was approached by two strangers who asked him to take a note to the Ricketts restaurant, a well known night life rendesvous at 2727 North Clark street. The note was addressed to John Ricketts, brother of Ernest Ricketts, the restaurant proprietor. It said:

"Take all the money out of the safe and the cash register. Put it in a paper bag and give it to the kid. If you fail you won't get home safe tonight. Don't ask the kid anything, and don't tell him what you give him."

Stand Outside Awaiting Cash.

But Decosta didn't know what was in the note. He put it in his pocket, walked to the restaurant, and handed it to Ricketts. The two strangers followed and stood on the sidewalk in front of the restaurant windows. As Ricketts finished reading the note one of the men rapped on the window and suggestively displayed a pistol.

Ricketts opened the safe and the cash register, took out $852, and placed it in a large envelope, which he gave to Decosta. The youth started out of the restaurant. Fifty patrons were dining in the place, unaware that a holdup was in progress.

Meanwhile across the street Sergts. James Patterson, William Higgins, John Lagatutte, and Victor Eck of the Sheffield avenue police were reporting to the station. Decosta walked out of the restaurant and looked for the men who gave him the note. They had disappeared, apparently frightened away by the sight of the policemen.

Ricketts Gets Money Back.

Decosta went back to the Rienzi Arcade and told his employer, Frank Pecardo, of his experience. Pecardo telephoned the restaurant. He learned of the robbery and took Decosta to the police station.

There Ricketts soon arrived and confronted the youth.

"That's the boy," said Ricketts. "Where's my money?"

"What money?" asked Decosta in surprise. "Here's the envelope if that's what you want."

Ricketts snatched the envelope and looked inside. "It's all there," he announced. "Good boy," he added, turning to Decosta. "Come around tomorrow and I'll give you a good job as a bus boy."

WINTER COMES TO MIDDLE WEST WITH MORE SNOW

The gray wintry skies, which hung lose over the central states yesterday, began sifting a powdery snow upon Chicago last night.

The weather man, C. A. Donnel, had forecast snow for this morning, not only for Chicago, but for eastern Illinois, Indiana, southern Michigan, and Wisconsin. But King Winter, who began his reign officially at 1:52 a. m. yesterday, anticipated the forecaster's prediction by many hours, in Chicago at least.

Middle western rail and automotive traffic, straining to make up the delays occasioned by the blizzard of last week, suffered a new setback as the skies opened again.

Trains operating in all directions from Chicago and carrying extra thousands of passengers homebound for Christmas as well as accumulated Yuletide mail, were one to seven hours late.

The Oriental Limited of the Great Northern road arrived seven hours late at the Union station from the northwest. Pennsylvania trains were between one and two hours behind, likewise New York Central trains.

Passenger, express, and mail planes were held all day at the Municipal airport on account of fog, and their chances of leaving today were diminishing.

Hoover's Aid Rebukes Drys' Lawless Acts

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 23.—[Special.]—Invasion and search of private homes without a legal warrant constitute one of the most serious evils of present day law enforcement, United States District Judge Paul J. McCormick declared today.

Judge McCormick had just returned home after serving on President Hoover's national commission on law enforcement and between sessions sitting on the federal bench of New York, where at times he padlocked night clubs.

"A man's home is his castle," said the jurist, "and the practice of entering it in the course of prohibition enforcement without legal procedure should be abolished."

Two Major Problems.

The national commission, the judge said, already has determined that two major problems require immediate settlement: One is the solution of prohibition enforcement and the other is the removal of "governmental lawlessness" and restoration of constitutional rights to citizens.

"Speaking as an individual," Judge McCormick pronounced fanaticism one of the most serious enemies of prohibition. He said fanatics were to be found in the ranks of both wets and drys.

Law Machinery Antiquated.

"The investigation by the national commission of law enforcement and observance," the judge said, "is the only wholly impartial investigation of its kind ever conducted. The work of the commission has been well outlined and the various matters within its province assigned to investigating committees for inquiry and report. The commission will convene again in the spring. There is no doubt also that the machinery of the law is antiquated and needs more up to date manipulation."

MUSIC OF WHOLE GLOBE ENLIVENS ALASKAN XMAS

POINT BARROW, Alaska, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Point Barrow, most northern tip of Alaska, is basking in one continuous round of Christmas music, gathered in from all parts of the world.

Because of its position near the top of the world, combined with the remarkable clarity of atmosphere and difference in time, Point Barrow radio fans are receiving programs of Christmas music from Japan, England, Germany, all parts of the United States, and virtually all corners of the globe.

The perpetual night at this season of the year insures perfect reception.

Reaches Port in Storm and Strikes Stump

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 22.—(AP)—A snow covered stump brought death to one man and injury to two others when a trimotored passenger ship of the Transcontinental Air Transport lines crashed on Stout field tonight. The ship was flying from St. Louis to Columbus, O., and was a half hour behind schedule.

D. W. BURFORD.

D. C. Law, 447 Harmon road, died from a fracture of the skull.

The injured are C. N. Kline, 105 North 5th street, Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Fearnow, secretary to Donald Bartlow, assistant manager of the Transcontinental Air Transport office at Washington.

Landing Because of Storm.

D. W. Burford, 28, pilot of the ship, 1404 Kohn street, Columbus, O., had planned to land here for the night because the heavy snowfall and darkening skies made further travel dangerous. H. S. Zimmerman, also of Columbus, was assistant pilot.

The other eight passengers were uninjured except for slight shock, and were cared for at the Transcontinental Air Transport office at Mars Hill.

The ship left St. Louis an hour late and gained time in the trip to Indianapolis. When it arrived at the field at 5:05 o'clock it circled the field in a snowstorm.

Disagree as to Wind.

Pilot Burford attempted to set the ship down at what he thought a safe speed. A sudden gust of wind influenced the landing, he said. C. F. De Voe, Indianapolis Transcontinental Air Transport manager, who looked at the wind indicator before the crash, said there was no wind.

The landing gear of the plane struck a stump at the end of the field, the impact tearing away the left wheel and part of the fuselage. The left motor also fell off.

The crash released a landing flare at the tail of the plane, and the sudden illumination led many to believe that the plane had caught fire.

Stunts Cost Pilot His Life.

Wichita, Kas., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Harold A. McCrary, 24, chief test pilot for the Yunkers Aircraft corporation here, was critically injured today when a cadet sport biplane, which, its owner said, McCrary was flying without permission, fell a few hundred feet. McCrary, flying alone, had been stunting at a low altitude.

MEN IN PLANE TALK TO VESSEL FAR OUT AT SEA

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—High over Manhattan in a hundred mile an hour flying telephone booth reporters today talked to the liner Leviathan 500 miles at sea.

As casually as if sitting in their own homes, two reporters and three engineers of the Bell Telephone laboratories soared 3,000 feet over the city in a big tri-motored plane, asked for and got the Leviathan as if they were calling for a number just around the corner. They passed the time of day and heard the gossip of the ship from Commodore Harry Cunningham and passengers aboard the vessel.

This new step in communication was effected by a radio-land wire-radio hookup.

There was hardly any static, the voices coming through almost as distinctly as over an ordinary telephone circuit.

GANG OF BANDITS BINDS WATCHMAN AND CRACKS SAFE

Five robbers early this morning "jimmied" a window of the Sheridan Recreation parlors, a four story building at 1092 Wilson avenue, bound the colored porter, smashed a safe by knocking off the combination, and escaped with its contents, estimated at several hundred dollars.

The watchman, William Brown, was on the second floor when he was confronted by an armed and masked man, who ordered him to throw up his hands. He did so. The other bandits appeared and tied him up with ropes, after which they attacked the safe. When they had gone, Brown hobbled to the office and sounded an alarm. Police were unable to ascertain the amount of the loot until they could find the manager of the place. Brown told them that usually $500 or $600 was kept in the safe over Sunday.

RUSSIA, CHINA END WAR; SIGN RAILWAY PACT

To Withdraw Troops on Frontiers.

MOSCOW, U. S. S. R., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The foreign commissariat today announced that Simanovsky and Tsai Yun-Shen, plenipotentiaries of the soviet union and Mukden governments, had signed a protocol at Habarovsk, Siberia, restoring the status quo ante on the Chinese Eastern railway and immediately restoring soviet consulates and commercial organizations in Manchuria and Chinese consulates and commercial organizations in the soviet far east.

It was stated that peace would follow on the frontiers, to be followed by withdrawal of troops of both sides. All persons arrested in connection with the six months' dispute over the railway are to be released, and the Chinese have promised to disarm White Guard Russians and deport organizers of these foes of the communist régime.

Statement Tells of Peace.

The announcement said: "Full restoration of diplomatic relations between soviet Russia and China are left open until a Russian-Chinese conference is to be held in Moscow, Jan. 25, at which all outstanding questions will be settled."

The new Russian general manager of the railway and his assistant are leaving for Harbin to assume their duties in connection with the joint operation of the railway, in accordance with terms of the treaties of 1924.

The agreement announced today appeared to have ended practically all points in dispute, which had led to almost an open state of war on the Manchurian borders and which had led the United States and other signatory powers to warn both China and Russia of their obligations under the Kellogg-Briand pact for renunciation of war.

Large Armies Massed.

The trouble began when the Chinese, in raids on Russian consulates in Manchuria, alleged that they found evidence that railway officials were using their offices to further communist propaganda. They detained many Russians and expelled others from the country.

Both Russia and China massed armed forces on the borders, but the Nanking government was soon preoccupied by serious revolts which broke out in central China. Negotiations with the soviet were then left to the provincial government of Manchuria, of which Gov. Chang Hseuh-liang is the head.

Russians Win Border Warfare.

The Chinese were defeated in border skirmishes and the Russians occupied a considerable section of western Manchuria. Soviet officials stated that this action was to protect Siberian villages from border raids by irresponsible White Russians and Chinese.

An agreement was finally reached to replace both Russian and Chinese officials of the railway with new men mutually acceptable. Negotiation of the protocol announced today followed.

Text of Protocol.

The text of the protocol as issued by the Moscow government follows:

"The preliminary conditions of the soviet government are understood by both parties as the restoration of the situation existing prior to the conflict and based upon the Mukden and Peking agreements (of 1924). All outstanding questions, which arose during the joint soviet-Chinese management of the railway, are to be solved at the forthcoming soviet-Chinese conference.

"The following measures are to be carried out immediately:

"First, restoration on the basis of the old agreement of the activities of the board of management of the Chinese Eastern railway and resumption of their duties by the soviet members of the board. Henceforth the Chinese chairman of the board of management and the soviet vice manager of the board must act jointly and in conformity with point 6, article 1, of the soviet-Mukden agreement.

To Restore Rail Jobs.

"Secondly, restoration of the former proportion of offices held by the soviet and Chinese citizens and reinstatement (or immediate appointment of new candidates should such be recommended by the soviet government) of soviet citizens in the offices of heads and assistant heads of departments.

"Thirdly, orders and instructions of the railway issued in behalf of the board of management and the administration of the Chinese Eastern railway, beginning with July 10, 1929, are considered invalid unless properly confirmed by the local management and administration of the railway.

"All soviet citizens, without exception, arrested by Chinese authorities in connection with the dispute since May 1, 1929, will be immediately released without division into categories, including soviet citizens arrested during the search of the Harbin consulate on May 27, 1929. The soviet government will also immediately release all Chinese citizens without exception arrested in connection with the conflict and interned Chinese soldiers and officers.

Open Doors to Old Employés.

"All employés of the Chinese Eastern railway, citizens of the Union of Soviet Socialist republics, who were discharged, or who resigned as from July 10, 1929, shall be given the right and opportunity immediately to return to the positions they held prior to their discharge and to receive any money owing them from the railway. Those who fail to exercise this right must be paid immediately full wages, pensions, dues, etc., owing them. Vacancies may be filled only in the proper order by the lawful board of management and administration and all former Russian citizens or non-citizens of the U. S. S. R., employed by the railway during the dispute, must be summarily and immediately discharged.

"The Chinese authorities shall immediately disarm Russian white guard detachments and deport from the three eastern provinces (which make up Manchuria) their organizers and inspirers.

"Leaving open the question of resumption of full diplomatic and consular relations between the soviet union and China until the soviet-Chinese conference, both parties consider possible and necessary the immediate restoration of soviet consulates in the three eastern provinces and of Chinese consulates in their respective seats in the soviet far east."

HERO POLICEMAN ROUTS 2 BANDITS IN PISTOL FIGHT

Frank Sobol, a policeman attached to the state's attorney's office, who in 1924 won THE TRIBUNE bravery award for killing one gunman and routing four others, fought a gun battle with two bandits last night after they had robbed a north side drug store of $1,500. The bandits escaped when snow drifts hampered Sobol in his pursuit.

Sobol had gone from his home at 3546 North Oakley avenue to the drug store of William Mensching at 2132 Roscoe street. As he entered, two men standing by the cigar counter covered him with revolvers and forced him behind the prescription counter, where Mensching was lying on the floor. While Sobol stood with his hands in the air, the two men slipped out a side door, and Sobol started in pursuit after ascertaining that Mensching was not injured.

The bandits ran through an alley and Sobol leaped into his automobile and followed them to Leavitt and School streets, firing as he steered the car through the deep snow. The bandits exchanged shots with him until they reached their car and then sped away.

Sobol was given THE TRIBUNE award for August, 1924, after he had killed John Phillips, who with four companions, terrorized a crowd in the Northern Light café at Broadway and Devon avenue and tried to kidnap two policemen.

Blaze Ties Up Traffic in Downtown Evanston

Traffic in the heart of Evanston's business district was blocked for an hour yesterday afternoon when fire broke out in a small shed in an areaway at 1623 Orrington avenue, adjoining the Park garage. The blaze for a time threatened nearby buildings but was confined to the shed, although it poured smoke into the Library Plaza hotel, the Y. M. C. A. building and the offices of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. The fire is believed to have started from spontaneous combustion in a pile of rubbish in the shed. The damage was estimated at $3,000.

INDIA'S VICEROY ESCAPES BOMB; CAR WRECKED

Attendant of Lord Irwin Hurt by Blast.

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

DELHI, Monday, Dec. 23.—An attempt was made today to assassinate Lord Irwin, viceroy of India, while he was on his way to Delhi to occupy the new vice regal residence.

A bomb was thrown through the window of of the new Delhi station. One servant was injured, he being the only one in the car at the time. Lord Irwin had a narrow escape, for his compartment was only three away from the end of the dining car.

Crowds Hear Blast.

Crowds at the station heard the explosion, but thought it was a fog signal. Later Lord Irwin arrived safely at the great marble palace which will be the home of India's viceroys and which he will be the first to occupy.

The bomb outrage has heightened the prevailing atmosphere and political tension on the eve of the meeting of the Indian national congress in Lahore. The city of Lahore seems half peopled by police.

The provincial government has drafted 500 armed police from country districts and ten additional magistrates have been brought to deal with possible trouble.

Fear Serious Outbreak.

Feeling between Sikhs and Hindus is running high and at one time the authorities feared the Sikhs would hold a demonstration of 38,000 men, including 500 cavalry and 11 elephants, and seize the entire encampment where the congress was planning to meet.

The immediate danger is that some slight accidental circumstance may precipitate a bloody outbreak and responsible leaders of the Sikh and Hindu communities are doing their utmost to prevent any demonstration.

WHITING MAYOR DIES AFTER ONE WEEK IN OFFICE

Francis McNamara, 30 years old, who became mayor of Whiting last Monday, died last night at St. Catherine's hospital at East Chicago following an operation. McNamara was stricken with acute appendicitis the day after he took office and was taken to the hospital for an operation. He failed to rally after the operation and a second operation was performed yesterday in an effort to save his life.

McNamara was the Republican candidate for mayor of Whiting at the November election and was defeated by Thomas Boyle, the Democratic candidate, by seven votes. A recount, however, showed McNamara the victor by three votes, but Boyle refused to concede that he was defeated and intended to make a fight for the office when the next term begins on Jan. 6, having been given an election certificate by the city board.

Walter E. Schrage, the retiring mayor, appointed McNamara city controller on Dec. 13 and then resigned the following Monday, McNamara automatically succeeding him. McNamara had appointed John Spurrier as controller and he automatically becomes mayor today.

McNamara was single. He is survived by four brothers and one sister.

CHINA BARS JAPANESE AGENCY FOR SENDING OUT "WILD STORIES"

BY JOHN POWELL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, Dec. 22.—The Nationalist government's growing list of banned publications and correspondents was increased today when it announced that all radio and telegraphic facilities would be withdrawn from the Japanese Nippon Dempo News Agency.

The Nationalist foreign office statement cited three reasons for the action, all based on the circulation of "wild stories." The first being the alleged flight of President Chiang Kai-shek via airplane; the second that Gen. Yen Hsi-shan advised the resignation of President Chiang; the third the recent report of the resignation of Dr. C. T. Wang, foreign minister, due to the Chinese-Russian deadlock.

The Nippon Dempo is a large Japanese news agency, which is closely affiliated with the United Press of America, both in China and Japan.

The list of publications and correspondents that have been banned includes the British North China Daily News, the American papers, North China Star and Shanghai Evening Post, published in China; and two correspondents, Hallet Abend of the New York Times and George Sokolsky, now correspondent for the New York World.

However, the ban on the North China Daily News and the North China Star has been removed, upon the paper's apologizing for priting allegedely incorrect news reports bearing on the Chinese political situation, while the ban on dispatches of Mr. Abend and Mr. Sokolsky are largely ineffective due to their residence within the international settlement, in which Chinese jurisdiction does not extend.

SIX ARE KILLED WHEN AUTO RUNS INTO INTERURBAN

Fresno, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Six persons were killed on a state highway near here late today when a light touring car carrying eight persons ran head-on into a Corcoran-to-Fresno interurban car.

The identified dead were Tomas Ramirez of Fresno and Antonio Tonorio of Dos Palos. The unidentified dead included a woman and three young children.

Two other children were taken to the General hospital with injuries which were expected to prove fatal.

The driver failed to heed the signals of a state motorcycle officer.

Four Young Men Killed.

Nebraska City, Neb., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Four young men, three of them brothers, were killed instantly near here this afternoon when the light coupé in which they were riding was struck at a grade crossing by an Omaha-Kansas City train traveling 50 miles an hour. The dead are William Feilen, Henry Feilen, Frank Feilen, and Charles Reimer.

Auto-Bus Crash Kills Two.

Appleton, Wis., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Two persons were killed and four injured, two probably fatally, when their auto crashed head-on with a motor bus near here early today. The dead are Oscar Hedberg, 28, Appleton, and Mrs. Rudolph Vanden Putton, 26, Little Chute.

GUNMEN ROB OIL STATION.

Two armed men yesterday entered a Standard Oil station at 3140 North Western avenue, held up the attendant, Elmer Bush, 2516 North Artesian avenue, and escaped with $30.

U. S. TO PAY FOR EUROPEAN TRIPS OF WAR MOTHERS

Widow Also to Visit Graves of Loved Ones.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—War department officials are completing perparations to send 5,000 or more gold star mothers and widows of soldiers killed in the world war to American cemeteries in Europe this summer as guests of the government. The trips will be under an act of congress approved March 2, 1929, which provides that the mother or widow of any member of the military and naval forces of the United States during the world war will be afforded an opportunity to make a free pilgrimage to the European cemetery where a loved one is buried.

According to Maj. Gen. B. F. Cheatham, quartermaster general of the army and manager of the pilgrimage, 11,440 mothers and widows are entitled to the trips under the 1929 act. Of this number, he reported today, 6,730 have expressed a desire to go this year, while 5,323 want to go to Europe next year.

Some Details of Plans.

Gen. Cheatham plans to arrange the trips for times most favorable for the ease and comfort of the travelers. So far as practicable, invitations will be extended to mothers and widows from any state who visit the same cemetery to make the entire trip together. Separate groups, however, will be arranged for each cemetery.

According to Gen. Cheatham, all groups will be assembled in New York City. There a stay before the boat sails will range from one to two days. Each mother or widow accepting the invitation will be provided before her departure from home with railroad or other common carrier ticket, Pullman accommodations, funds to cover per diem food and other expenses, also an identification badge. Similar arrangements will be made on the return trip from New York to their homes.

Government to Arrange All.

Hotel or other accommodations, including meals, will be provided by the government in New York at the places where the tourists sojourn in Europe, where train, car, or automobile transportation will be supplied. The government will likewise provide such incidentals as custom fees, tips, medical attendance, laundry, etc.

All necessary personnel to accompany and arrange for the comfort of the mothers and widows making the pilgrimages, as interpreters, guides, etc., will be selected from the regular army, "the organized reserves called to active duty under existing law, civilian employés of the war department, and civilians employed for the purpose."

Woman Suffers Loss of Speech, but Still Can Sing

[Copyright: 1929: By the New York Times.]

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 22.—A woman of 56, who is being treated at a hospital here for loss of speech, has been found able to sing. All that is necessary is for somebody to start a song; then she joins in. The strange case is taken as new evidence that the speaking center and musical center are independent functions situated on opposite sides of the brain.

MERCHANT BODY OPPOSES 1932 NEW YORK FAIR

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Merchants' Association of New York City announced today its opposition to a proposal to hold a world's fair here in 1932 commemorating the 200th anniversary of George Washington's birthday, on the ground that such celebrations are obsolete. A plan for the fair had been urged for more than a year.

Action of the association's board of directors was unanimous. It was held that world's fairs are out of date because of "modern developments such as the motion picture, the radio, and the automobile."

The fact that Chicago is to have a world's fair in 1933 also was cited as a reason for opposing the proposal.

GERMANS REFUSE TO REJECT YOUNG PLAN AT POLLS

Only One-fourth of Needed Vote Is Secured.

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Nationalist bill "against the enslavement of the German people," which would have rejected the Young plan of reparations payments, failed today to obtain more than one-fourth of the required vote to give it effect.

A provisional total return for the entire 35 electoral districts showed that with 13,31,000 ballots cast, only 5,782,-000 votes favored the bill, submitted to the people by the German Nationalist party.

Only 13 Per Cent Favor Bill.

Since the German electorate numbers 41,530,000 only about 13.5 per cent voted in support of the bill, instead of the 21,000,000 necessary to pass it. The number in support was slightly greater than that which had supported the demand for the referendum last October. The increases were largely in the Berlin, Magdeburg, Breslau, Leipzig and Dresden districts.

The reichstag last month by an overwhelming majority had defeated a similar bill. Following that defeat the Nationalist party split into factions, and several of its leading representatives in the government withdrew from the party.

Gunmen Seize Vote Registers.

In the northern section of Berlin two unidentified men forced their way into a polling station at the point of pistols, seized part of the election registers and escaped in a waiting automobile. Police said they were convinced that the gunmen were communists.

Nowhere today were the usual election posters displayed, and voters making their way to the various polls in Berlin were inconspicuous in the Christmas shopping crowds.

All other of the larger cities reported that the referendum passed off quietly with little interest shown, especially in the Rhineland, where the event was practically unnoticed.

Bill's Five Provisions.

The provisions of the bill are:

1. The German government shall notify all foreign powers immediately and solemnly, that the enforced acknowledgment of war guilt in the treaty of Versailles is contrary to historical truth, is based on false premises and is not binding in international law.

2. The German government shall use all endeavors to secure the annulment of the war guilt acknowledgment. It shall also undertake to secure the immediate and unconditional evacuation of occupied German territories, without any remaining control commissions, independently of the acceptance or rejection of The Hague convention.

Refutes War Debts.

3. No further financial burdens or obligations based on the war guilt acknowledgment shall be assumed, inclusive of those arising from the reconstructions of the Paris reparations experts.

4. The chancellor and ministers or representatives of the reich, who lend their signatures to agreements contrary to the provisions of section 3, shall render themselves liable to prosecution for high treason.

5. This law enters into force at the moment of its proclamation.

DRIVES ACROSS CURB AND HITS 3 GIRLS; 1 KILLED

New York, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—An automobile driver, who police say was intoxicated, caused the death early this morning of Miss Evelyn Currie, 21, of Fairview, N. J., and serious injuries to her sister, Miss Winifred Currie, 19, and to Miss Catherine Passenditti, 20, also of Fairview.

Jacob Reck, a lawyer of Union City, was the driver of the automobile which ran down the three young women after it had jumped a curb.

Miss Evelyn Currie was dragged half a block before Reck's car was stopped by a collision with another car. She died while being taken to the Englewood hospital.

Sir Hubert Wilkins' Arctic Plane Destroyed by Fire

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Fire which started from a short circuit in a light socket destroyed one unit of the Alaskan Airways hangers here late last night. The Stinson Detroiter plane, formerly used by Sir Hubert Wilkins in his arctic explorations, and a large amount of equipment were destroyed. The loss was estimated at $40,000.

ROB DRUGGIST OF $56.

Two armed men held up William Enseking, owner of a drug store at 2132 Roscoe street, yesterday, forced him to lie face downward behind the counter, and fled with $56 from the cash drawer.

AGED WOMAN ADDED TO TOLL OF AUTO DEATHS

Cook county's 1929 motor toll reached 1,001 yesterday when Mrs. Amelia Lubitz, 70 years old, 4730 South Justine street, died in the county hospital of injuries inflicted by a motorist.

A dispatch from Indianapolis said that Mrs. Edna Wolf, 31 years old, 5312 South Halsted street, was killed and her husband, Nicholas Wolf, 35, was seriously injured when the car Mrs. Wolf was driving skidded over an embankment north of Speedway City, Ind. Chester Rice, 27 years old, brother of Mrs. Wolf, was also hurt.

Four Alleged Pickpockets Arrested on Surface Car

Two men and two women who the police said have long records as pickpockets were arrested last night by Sergt. Ernest Sloey and his detective squad as they were about to board a crowded surface car at Madison street and Crawford avenue. The gave their names as Mrs. Rose Kolonik, 30 years old, 3611 Douglas boulevard; Mrs. Rose Stone, 29 years old, 3330 Douglas boulevard; Abe Larman, 45 years old, 3124 15th street, and Morris Rothman, 49, 1155 South California avenue.

SUNDAY MAILING SERVICE SPEEDS TONS OF GIFTS

Postoffice Snowed Under with Late Parcels.

BY KATHLEEN M'LAUGHLIN.

Chicago's stores were closed yesterday, but the mail chutes were open so the city had a licking good time—licking stamps on Christmas mail and sending it on its merry way. For the first time in history it was possible to mail on Sunday, and tons of letters, packages and cards poured into the postoffice. Without the extra day of service, Postmaster Arthur C. Lueder reported, it would have been impossible to handle the holiday avalanche.

"One day means a lot to us," he said yesterday afternoon, "and when the blizzard tied up everything for two days, it simply meant that on the third day people were dumping into our laps a vastly greater volume of mail for distribution than could possibly be handled on schedule time. There wasn't any other solution than keeping open today. From the crowds in the parcel post division we can readily see what we have saved ourselves.

Christmas Mail Delayed.

"This year we conducted with what resources we could muster—having no funds to draw on—a more intensive campaign than ever before, urging people to mail early—and with less result. Up to the time of Thursday's blizzard the daily mailings were below the average for last year. Then a two days lull, and on Saturday, of course, we were swamped.

"If Chicago people would only get off their out of town packages in plenty of time the local Christmas mail could be coped with pretty efficiently, even if it is heavy and comes in late. But it is the tieup in train schedules and the resulting confusion that has snowed us under this year."

Special delivery and registered mail, having the right of way at all times, will be delivered on Christmas day. No other service will be available except one collection of mail throughout the city on the holiday, arriving at the main postoffice at 10:30 a. m. and sent out as usual to the trains. There will be no carrier delivery. General delivery will be available at the main branch from 8 to 10 o'clock Christmas morning.

Postal Workers on Job.

Employés were at work in all substations throughout Chicago yesterday sorting mail, and deliveries were made. No packages were accepted except at the main station, and no other business was transacted.

Twilight last night saw order brought out of chaos in most of the postoffice branches. Train schedules were fast returning to normal, and the Christmas shoppers breathed a bit easier as the hand painted whisk-broom for Cousin Janey out in Iowa thudded into the "out" receptacle along with the calico cat and the usual tidal wave of ties, socks and handkerchiefs and the occasional diamond solitaire for the fourth finger, left, of the only girl.

Hero of Haymarket Riot Dies Alone in Windswept Attic

On May 4, 1886, Patrick Nash was a hero. He was among the valiant policemen who put down the Haymarket anarchists' riot. Pat was wounded and flushed with glory.

Yesterday the body of the 72 year old veteran was found in his windswept garret room at 2341 Monroe street. He apparently had suffered a heart attack and froze to death before he could summon aid. Newspapers were stuffed in the windows where there were broken panes. Carpet was nailed over the door to keep out the cold.

On Beat for 35 Years.

Patrick Nash never sought any honor. He even shrank from joining the association of veterans of the Haymarket riot formed among policemen. He just kept on walking his beat. He kept it up for 35 years.

Meanwhile the World's Fair came along and every one honored the heroes of the riot. Then the city erected a statue in Union park. But Pat kept on walking his beat. He was not even made a sergeant.

"He didn't belong to our organization. I could never understand why," Capt. Frank Tyrrell, 68 years old, 823 South Lombard avenue, Oak Park, head of the Association of Veterans, said. "He left the service when I did, and I'd heard nothing of him in recent years."

Friend Misses Him.

But although he was a reticent man Pat occasionally reminisced to Roger Kells, an attendant at an oil station at 39 South Francisco avenue. It was Kells who missed the aged man's visits and, seeing his lights burning, reported it to the Warren avenue police station.

A brother, James Nash, lives at 2941 West Adams street. The body was taken to an undertaking establishment at 2346 West Madison street.

Nash is not the only hero of the Haymarket riot to die in obscurity. Tom Burmingham, said to be the city's most handsome policeman, was conspicuous for his feats and later posed for the statue in Union park, only to die forgotten in the County hospital, Sept. 25, 1917.

JANITOR HANGS HIMSELF.

The body of Charles Lemirov, 47 years old, 5758 Kenwood avenue, a janitor, was found hanging yesterday in the basement of a building at 6705 Kimbark avenue, where he was employed. A note to his wife, Mary, indicated that he committed suicide because of ill health.

ST. NICK PAYS EARLY VISITS TO POOR CHILDREN

Parties to Continue Till Christmas Day.

Advance agents for old St. Nick provided yuletide glee yesterday among the younger generation in diverse parts of the city with Christmas frolics. More of the same is scheduled for today and tomorrow, with the climax set for Christmas day.

Songs, gifts and stories made up the program at the old time German holiday festival which members of the German Club of Chicago held yesterday at the Morrison hotel for their children. Three hundred and fifty small guests were welcomed, and a present for each was found upon the tree. Joseph Immel, one of the directors, impersonated Santa Claus. Fred Haake was chairman of the arrangements committee, and Mrs. Arthur C. Lueder, wife of the postmaster, had charge of the purchasing of the gifts.

Tells of Hessian Tree.

Oscar Stoeffels, president of the organization, related to the children the story of the tree said to have been the first set up in this country. It was, he said, that tree around which the Hessian troops were gathered at Georgetown the night of Dec. 26, 1776, when Washington crossed the Delaware and broke up the party.

Clayton Smith, county recorder, was host yesterday at his home at 2445 North Maplewood avenue at an afternoon party for children of the neighborhood.

This morning 500 patients of the children's clinic at Northwestern university medical school will enjoy a Christmas tree party at the Levy Mayer hall of law on McKinlock campus. Dr. Isaac Abt heads the clinic.

To Give Toys and Candy.

This evening at 7 o'clock the Volunteers of America will entertain 1,000 poor children at 2841 West Washington boulevard. A motion picture will be shown and Santa Claus will distribute candy and toys.

James W. Washington has erected a large Christmas tree at 5122 Indiana avenue and will be host this afternoon to children of the neighborhood. He will give hundreds of toys.

N. Y. WILL RADIO YULE GREETINGS TO ALL WORLD

All Sects Join Songfest; 1,500 Voices in Choir.

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—New York, the "city without a heart," will send its Christmas greetings throughout America and to all the world Tuesday night at a big songfest in Madison Square park.

The international Christmas carol song, arranged under the general direction of the Advertising club of New York, with a chorus of 1,500 trained voices, will get under way at 7:30 p. m. Christmas eve.

On Short Wave Circuit.

A radio broadcast of the program will go out over the National Broadcasting company net work and will be relayed on the short wave transmitter of WGY, making the program available to all America, Europe and Australia.

The carol singers, composed of members of choirs from churches of every sect and denomination in New York City, will be augmented by vocal groups from 400 civic societies, fire and police department bands, the Police Glee club and other musical groups. The sing will be led by Albert Stoessel, conductor of the New York Oratorio society.

Mayor to Open Program.

Maria Kurenko, Russian coloratura soprano, will be heard in person during the program of the sing.

Mayor Walker will open the sing. In addition to the mayor, individual sponsors of the international Christmas carol sing include Bruce Barton, the Rev. S. Parkes Cadman, Barron G. Collier, the Rev. Frances P. Duffy, Will H. Hayes, G. F. McClelland, Bishop Francis J. McConnell, the Rev. Christian F. Reisner, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Dr. Minot Simmons, Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen, Alfred E. Smith and Robert F. Wagner.

HOLIDAY SEASON PLANS FINISHED AT WHITE HOUSE

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Led by President and Mrs. Hoover, official Washington today set about making last minute preparations for the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoover laid plans for a quiet holiday season at the White House. The regular Tuesday press conference was called off. Two Christmas trees were set up, one in the private quarters of the presidential family, and another downstairs in the east room, where official receptions are held.

Of their two sons, only Allan Hoover will join his parents for the Christmas season. Herbert Hoover Jr., his wife and their two youngsters are in California. To offset the absence of one son, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover planned a Christmas party for the children of their official family, including the secretaries and cabinet members.

President Hoover will participate in the community observance of Christmas Tuesday evening, switching on the lights at a tree set up in Sherman square, and Mrs. Hoover will pass out the first baskets of food to be distributed Tuesday afternoon by the Salvation Army.

10,000 PRESENTS CHEER WAR TORN MEN IN HOSPITAL

And They Send Christmas Card Nine Feet Long.

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

My goodness, neighbors, if you want to see Christmas on a heroic scale you ought to watch them planning and rejoicing and giving and receiving at Edward Hines Jr. hospital where nearly a thousand shattered men of the world war live.

DR. HUGH SCOTT. (Harris & Ewing Photo.)

It's like this:

Ten thousand seven hundred and twenty-five Christmas presents for the men.

An outdoor, commanding officer Christmas tree that you can see from a mile away on the prairie. It shimmers and tinkles with icicles and glows with colored lights. Edison post of the American Legion gave it and wired it and turned the hose on it to give it its every glory.

Three hundred tiny subaltern Christmas trees inside the half-mile long building—one for every room.

A Christmas card nine feet long for Col. Dr. Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the hospital. That's from the soldier patients and all of them signed it. It begins, "Our Friend, Our Comrade" and ends, "We are with you and for you." The colonel got it yesterday, and while he was reading it he seemed to have some eye trouble.

Colonel Gives Card to Men.

And the colonel's Christmas card to the men—it's all finished—was printed in two colors in the occupational therapy print shop of the hospital—but the men won't receive it until dinner time next Wednesday. Would you use a soldier's Christmas greeting to soldiers? Here are the words on the colonel's card:

I cannot mess with all of you today; to attempt to do so would, of course, be a physical impossibility. However, I can be with you in spirit, if not in person.

I wish you health, happiness, and prosperity; ever mindful of your welfare, sympathetic with your problems, guarding your interests, and in step with you marching onward through life to our last billet.

I salute you, my comrades.

HUGH SCOTT,
Medical Officer in Charge.

And Mrs. Sayers! Mrs. Maude Sayers is director of Red Cross service at the hospital all the year around, but at this time of the year she is general director for Santa Claus, a calamity that seems to be a profuse one, unless strictly directed, a highly unsystematic giver. For days—and nights—Mrs. Sayers' task has been to reduce to order the chaos of gifts rolling in upon the soldier patients.

Weary After Her Task.

She is so tired she could cry. Instead of that she laughs, which momentarily rests her and cheers everybody else.

Every year she has to begin planning this heroic Christmas as early as September—getting prices from wholesale houses, rallying and guiding organizations of men, women, and children who pay for and help wrap and beribbon the ten thousand Christmas gifts. Some days she has as many as forty volunteer women workers helping her. And the members of the Girls' league of nearby Proviso township High school march in on her with 150 Christmas trees and they carry them to the bedsides—as pretty a bit of Christmas pageantry as ever you saw.

And a delegation of beaming, ruddy cheeked Norwegians reports to her with gifts of cigarettes from Bjornstjerne Lodge of Sons of Norway, and they have to be thanked and sent away even happier than they came. Scores upon scores of flowering plants come from the Order of the Eastern Star and they have to be scheduled for correct distribution, for each bedridden patient is to receive one; and the convalescent patients who are decorating the 33 bulletin boards in this huge place turn to Mrs. Sayers when in doubt about anything.

You would think Maude Sayers would go distracted.

Cheer for Patients.

But it's wonderful the way she keeps her head and her temper. She is walking sunshine—with a ray for everybody. Once yesterday when she was tripping along those furlongs of corridors—with me puffing after—she paused at the open door of a patient's room and sang out, "I don't see you very often Mr. Tramer, but I think of you a lot!"

"Thank you very much for that, Mrs. Sayers," said Mr. Tramer and released a smile that seemed to follow her down the hall.

Then we passed Joseph De Moria's room, and Joseph—suffering seven years now with tuberculosis of the spine—cheerily wigwagged to Mrs. Sayers, and when we were out of hearing she chirped, "Always cheerful! You never see him with a grouch."

And believe me, the thirty-eight medical officers and the fourteen part time consultants and the eighty-four nurses and the twenty-seven aids and the four librarians and the two chaplains of this colossal seat of mercy encounter abundant grouches.

"You know the way it is," said Maude Sayers' serene voice, "when men are sick they're pretty cranky sometimes. Women stand suffering better."

Chaplains Are Busy.

These chaplains! Two soft speaking, cheery, elderly men planning the devotional services and the festival programs of songs and tableaus that are to make the holidays holy as well as happy. They are so busy they try to evade the commands of the autocratic newspaper photographers.

But we caught the Rev. John A. St. Clair M. A.; B. D., the Protestant chaplain, in time to pose him in a group, but Father Peter Hanley of the congregation of the Passionist Order and 50 years a priest—we don't know yet where he disappeared to.

"I'm proud," he was saying, "to serve the boys," and suddenly he was gone—no doubt on another errand of service.

Everybody calls him "Father Peter" and the 550 Protestant lads in the hospital love him as much as the Catholic lads do.

"It's beautiful," said Mrs. Sayers, "how harmoniously Father Peter and Mr. St. Clair work together."

Full of Christmas Boxes.

And there you are—the place just bustling with good will and good cheer. Administrative offices stacked ceiling high with Christmas boxes three tiers deep. Those boxes packed with sweaters, felt slippers, shaving brushes, hair brushes, handkerchiefs, combination fountain pens and pencils, ash trays, playing cards, soap, cigarettes, and packets of stamped postal cards so that the soldiers can conveniently write home.

Last year when the gifts were being unwrapped, man after man looked up from his pillow and tremulously said, "Why, nurse, I never had such a Christmas in my life!"

Who does it all?

Senders of Presents.

The American Legion and its women's auxiliaries, Woodrow Wilson chapter of the Disabled Veterans of America, Medinah temple, the Eastern Star, the federated women's clubs of the sixth district of Illinois, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, the Woman's Relief corps, the Lions, the War Mothers, the Woman's Overseas Service league, and individuals.

They told me that Christmas giving in this hospital will tot up about $25,000 in money value this year.

But that isn't the point.

The point is the patience and love and devotion and the downright hard work that go with the giving.

In the celestial bookkeeping I suppose that tots up in the millions.

Little, suave Costos Milos, world war man whose cruelly shattered right arm has been so wonderfully mended at this hospital that now he is doing a lot of helping on behalf of Woodrow Wilson chapter, said it all—all the lesson and inspiration of the scene and the work—when he sighed in his quaint, quiet way——

"Everybody happy. So happy!"

BRITISH CHURCH DISPUTE MAY GET INTO COURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The quarrel between high church and low church factions in the Church of England are likely to be dragged into court as the result of the action of Bishop Barnes of Birmingham refusing to accept the trustees' choice of the Rev. G. Doyle Simmonds to fill a vacancy in the parish of St. Aidans.

The trustees have the right to choose an incumbent, subject to the approval of the bishop, but the latter, who belongs to the low church party, refused to accept the Rev. Mr. Simmonds, who was unwilling to sign a promise not to employ "unauthorized" high church practices in his services.

The parishioners, who are high church advocates, refuse to contribute to diocesan funds, notified the bishop that they are asking a writ compelling him to install an incumbent of their choice. The bishop intends to ignore the legal proceedings, holding that the issue is a moral and spiritual, not a legal one.

MEXICO ALLEGES THAT ITS TROOPS KILLED BLANCO

State Paper on Calles Incident Sent to Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Gen. Lucio Blanco, for whose murder in 1922 Constable Duke Carver of San Antonio, Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, and others were indicted, was killed on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande by Mexican troops, according to a certified copy of a Mexican state department document received here.

The document was received by J. Franklin Spears, attorney for Carver, from the Mexican department of state, and was to have been used in the case against Carver which was dismissed by District Attorney John A. Valls in Laredo Wednesday.

Report Dated June 8, 1922.

The document is a copy of a report made by Col. Ramon Lopez, chief of the Nuevo Laredo garrison, to Brig. Gen. José Hurtado of the frontier line, dated June 8, 1922, concerning the killing of three persons who were attempting to cross the border.

The men had been bound together and fell into the river when shot by one of a Mexican troop patrol. The bodies of Blanco and his companions were found in the river handcuffed together and the indictment against Carver fixed the date of the killing as of June 7, 1922.

"I have the honor to advise you," the report of Col. Lopez said, "that yesterday at 7:30 p. m. Señor Ramon Garcia informed me that he had information that at a place known as Paso Del Indio, about five miles below Laredo, a band of expatriates would pass to Mexican territory with revolutionary intent.

"I immediately arranged to have twenty mounted men of the Fortieth regiment accompanied by the commandante of the customs house, Jesus Anaya Teran, who had under him 25 customs guards to intercept the party.

Tells of Order to Troops.

"On arrival at Paso Del Indio I surprised various individuals at that moment disembarking from small skiffs. Effecting the capture of three of those who had landed, I ordered Commandante Teran to bind them together and bring them to Neuvo Laredo.

"This work was scarcely completed before we were suddenly attacked from ambush by several persons who attempted to protect the passage of their companions. All of our party proceeded to repel the attack, leaving the care of the prisoners to Ramon Garcia, but the prisoners, taking advantage of the fact that our attention was occupied with the firing and without regard to the fact that they were securely bound, attempted to cross to the American side and escape.

"Garcia attempted to block the prisoners' retreat, and the fight resulted during which Commandante Teran fired upon the prisoners, who fell into the water, struggling with Garcia. All disappeared without coming to the surface again.

"Commandante Teran after the skirmish informed me that he believed one of the three prisoners was an ex-general, Lucio Blanco, whom he had known for some time, but due to the darkness he had been unable to identify him completely.

Merchandise Passes Border.

Laredo, Tex., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Developments in the closing of the port and the Valls-Calles controversy is being solved and end of the trouble is in sight. Twenty-two car loads of merchandise passed into Mexico today at this port and small purchases are being carried across the international foot bridge with duty charge demanded by Mexico.

Two minor employés, Daniel Macias and Raul Cancioeros, were transferred from the closed Laredo consulate to the San Antonio consulate today. Judge Valls is busy day and night answering letters and telegrams from people in both Mexico and the United States, congratulating him on his stand. Many magazines and newspaper owners are writing him also for full details.

Mexico Grabs Morrow's Idea to Settle Agrarian "Mess"

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—Mexico has at last had a vision of how to settle the agrarian question for all time. Behind the vision stands the shadow of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, who for over two years had studied this problem in all its phases.

He set experts to work to gather first hand information from agrarian centers, to study the agrarian law in all its extensions, to ascertain how it had been applied and with what results. The ambassador's stand was that the amount of land taken for agrarian purposes was not so much a disconcerting factor in the economic situation of the republic as the fact that the act of taking was continuous without any apparent end in view.

This left large land owners up in the air, prevented investment of capital in the development of rural estates and depressed agriculture to an alarming degree.

Goes Into Problem Deeply.

Mr. Morrow and his investigators discussed the agrarian question with Presidents Calles and Portes Gil, Ministers of Agriculture Leon and Martes Gomez, and with agrarian leaders throughout the country. As the investigation proceeded, it became evident that the government and the party behind it were committed to the carrying out of the agrarian program as laid down in the law and the constitution; that the aim and policy of both were to place land in the possession of Mexican peasants, and that neither could do otherwise with safety.

Apparently Ambassador Morrow recognized the situation as an internal matter and he offered his solution to the problem. If lands have to be given, give them and have it over with as soon as possible, so that both peasants and the larger land owners may work in peace, with full assurance that both will be protected to the full extent of the law in the future, he urged.

Minister of Agriculture Martes R. Momes announced the futurp agrarian policy in terms very like the solution of the question proposed by Ambassador Morrow:

"In the other states of the republic, as in Morelos, donation of agrarian lands will be stopped when all requests have been received and passed on."

Policy Is Detailed.

To understand just what this statement means and what effect it is destined to have on agriculture it is necessary to study Morelos, home of the agrarian movement.

On July 27, this year, the department of agriculture, on orders from President Portes Gil, served notice on the state of Morelos that all towns, villages and pueblos in the state, claiming the right to have donations of agrarian lands, must petition for them within the next 60 days, since, after that date, no further lands would be given.

The avowed object was to stabilize agriculture, to place the peasant in a position that he might work in peace, and to give assurance to the hacendandos, ranchers and planters that their lands would be safe from further danger of seizure for agrarian purposes.

Within these 60 days all pueblos in the state of Morelos, totaling 54, lacking communal lands and desiring them, hastened to apply for them. The agrarian commission forthwith passed on all claims, some of which dated back many months. In two months and a half from the day the last application for communal grants was received, the work had been finished, the conditions of the agrarian law declared complied with, the agrarian commission disbanded and peasants and land owners informed they were free to work out their destinies as they saw fit.

In closing his report, the minister of agriculture remarked that the agrarian movement in the state of Morelos had taken its course and that the peasants were now so powerful; the vast estates of the once omnipotent landed barons so reduced that the latter were no longer to be feared; and that the agrarian problem would now be safely left to take care of its own future development.

Morelos, two decades ago richest of all Mexican states, is today the poorest. Following the outbreak of the revolution against Porfirio Diaz in 1910, Emiliano Zapata, father of agrarianism, swept through the state at the head of hordes of ignorant peasants and Indians. Today, gaunt skeletons of sacked and burned villages, towns and farm buildings still rise up all along the way whatever road one travels through Morelos, as evidence of the fulfillment of the oath of vengeance Zapata swore against the prosperous industrous inhabitants of the state.

Morelos was the greatest sugar state of Mexico; but Zapata left not a single sugar mill or plantation. Even the peasants fled the state. Now Morelos, by decree of the president, is to have a chance to rise from its ashes.

In 1910 Morelos had 180,000 inhabitants. Today, when nearly every town and village in the state has communal lands and the peasant desiring farming land has been given it, Morelos has only 131,000 persons, or a little over 70 per cent of what it had in the days of the sugar barons.

Many Acres Granted.

Small though Morelos is, 185 villages, towns and communities were granted 525,000 acres, or 2,800 acres for each community. To this must be added 310,000 acres communal and other lands already possessed by the pueblos and peasants, making a total of 835,000 acres out of the total state area of 1,210,000 acres, or 69 per cent.

Yet the settlement of the agrarian question in Morelos means much for all concerned. Community lands will undoubtedly be distributed, on a homestead plan, among the peasants; land owners are free to develop lands without fear of losing them and the crops thereon, and they will be able to obtain credit at the banks.

RAID REVEALS PLOT FOR ARMED RISING IN MEXICO

50 Ringleaders Seized in Vasconcelos Center.

BULLETIN.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Dispatches tonight from Puebla said that one person was killed and two wounded in a clash in connection with municipal elections in the town of Atlixco in the state of Puebla.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Documents seized in a raid on Vasconcelista headquarters in Tampico disclosed a plot for an uprising, the general headquarters of which were to have been at Guaymas, Sonora, according to information given the press by the government here tonight.

The raid was made last Wednesday and 50 prisoners were taken, several of whom have been brought here. Among the documents were proclamations to the army inviting the troops to participate in the uprising.

A number of military commanders also were approached. It was stated that all of the officers had rejected the invitations and had advised the government of the plot. Through these denunciations the government was enabled to begin its investigation and raided the headquarters of the party which had supported José Vasconcelos in his unsuccessful candidacy for the presidency. He is now reported to be in the United States.

The raid was made while a meeting of the alleged plotters was going on in the building. A cordon of troops was thrown about the structure to prevent the escape of any one. Twenty alleged leaders who were brought here are being held as military prisoners, although the cases have been turned over to the department of the interior for disposal, since all of them are civilians.

The Vasconcelista plot has apparently been nipped in the bud with the arrests at Tampico, the recent roundup of alleged plotters at Guadalajara, and the detention of another group of alleged leaders at Nogales.

HAMBURG OPENED AS NEW PORT OF U. S. LINE SHIPS

HAMBURG, Germany, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Formal opening of the new port for cabin ships of the United States Lines took place here today with the arrival of the liner, George Washington, flagship of the line. Hereafter all steamers of the company, excepting the Leviathan, will dock here instead of at Bremen.

United States Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman, the two burgomasters of Hamburg, American consular officers, German officials, and shipping leaders from Paris, Cherbourg, London, Berlin, and Antwerp, were at the pier to welcome the largest steamer to enter this port since the world war. They and more than five hundred other guests had luncheon on the ship.

Dr. Petersen, first burgomaster of the city, welcomed the United States Lines in behalf of Hamburg Free State and assured the company it would have the heartiest cooperation by the authorities.

CAPTAIN NAPPER OF LAKE GENEVA 91 YRS. OLD TODAY

Capt. William M. Napper, whose home is in Lake Geneva, Wis., will celebrate the 91st anniversary of his birth today in his bungalow at Coronado, Cal., where he and his daughter are spending the winter.

Capt. Napper is said to be the only survivor of the good ship Great Eastern when that vessel in 1865-'66 engaged in laying the first Atlantic cable from Ireland to Newfoundland. He was born in Sussex, England, and was a ship's carpenter.

Capt. Napper built most of the sailing and steam yachts owned by Chicago merchants who maintain homes on the Wisconsin lakes.

He Gives Youth the Time and Youth Takes It Away

Four times yesterday a young man riding in the same seat with Frank J. Doyle, 1333 West 32d street, on a Western avenue street car asked Mr. Doyle for the time, and four times Mr. Doyle pulled out his watch and gave him the information. At 18th street the young man left the car and at Madison street, Mr. Doyle, an employé of the city building commissioner, discovered that his watch, chain and knife fob were gone.

Broker, Wakes Up to Find Big Owl in His Bedroom

A monkey faced owl, with a wing spread of four feet, was captured yesterday morning by Elmer O. Ericson, 551 Meadow road, Winnetka, head of the investment securities concern of Ericson, Dauber & Fisher, in a bedroom of his home. The bird apparently had flown in the open window during the night and awakened Mr. Ericson by its struggles to find its way out. Mr. Ericson will turn the bird over to the Lincoln park zoo today.

LINER WITH 853 ABOARD ANCHORS OFF NEW YORK

Forced Into Quarantine by Engine Trouble.

New York, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—The North German Lloyd liner Columbus arriving from Bremen with 553 passengers and 7,800 sacks of Christmas mail was off Sandy Hook bar early tonight showing signals "not under control."

Upon receipt of the report by radio from the captain of the ship, the marine superintendent and other officials of the company went down the bay to meet the liner and find out the trouble.

Move Slowly Up Harbor.

A second tug went with the officials to assist in towing the ship into quarantine. The Columbus moved at barely three knots and was 45 minutes steaming from the bar to Sandy Hook, about 800 yards.

Reports that came through from the Columbus to the company by the radio said the cause of the delay was engine trouble. It then was decided to anchor the ship for the night at quarantine to discharge the mails. In its crippled condition it would have taken until long after midnight for the ship to reach the pier in Brooklyn. Immigration officials decided that only American citizens among passengers would be passed.

Taking Out Old Engines.

The Columbus has been out of the New York and Bremen express service since last July to have its old engines taken out and replaced by new turbines larger than those in the record holder, the Bremen.

Among the 300 first cabin passengers on board are Fritz von Ope, designer of rocket-propelled automobiles and airplanes, and Ernest Lapointe, Canadian minister of justice.

Hungry Thief Pleads Clause in New Mexican Code

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The section of the new Mexican code which exempts from punishment first offenders who steal to satisfy hunger was invoked for the first time today when José de la Pena pleaded that he had become a robber to prevent his wife and children from starving. De la Pena was held pending action on his case.

A lawyer, a physician and two other men were being sought by the police yesterday after Mrs. Dorothy Harrington Van Hise Sweet, 927 Wilson avenue, confessed that she and three men held with her had faked a taxicab accident as part of a plot to defraud the Yellow Cab company. Held with her are John Sullivan, a paroled convict who was driving the taxicab, Charles Berman and Allen Sweet, the woman's husband.

Mrs. Sweet said that she, Berman and two other men were in Sullivan's cab when it struck an elevated pillar at 40th street and Drexel boulevard. After their injuries had been treated and described as serious by a south side hospital staff physician, the attorney threatened the company with four suits for $20,000 each.

Gen. Pershing Visits City on Way to Lincoln, Neb.

Gen. John J. Pershing spent a few minutes in Chicago last night while changing trains from Columbus, O., to Lincoln, Neb., where he will spend Christmas at his home. By the general's side strode his tall son, Warren, who wore a voluminous raccoon coat. Warren is a student at Sheffield scientific school at Yale. With the Pershings were Beman G. Dawes, brother of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, and Mrs. Dawes, at whose home at Columbus Gen. Pershing has been visiting. Mr. and Mrs. Dawes accompanied the Pershings only as far as Chicago.

HOLD OWNER OF DRINK PARLOR IN SLAYING QUIZ

Frank Glowacki, keeper of a saloon licensed as a soft drink parlor at 2824 West Chicago avenue, was still in custody last night, having failed to satisfy West North avenue police of his innocence in a homicide that occurred in his resort shortly after midnight.

When a squad reached the saloon at 12:45 a. m., they found Raymond F. Savery, 42 years old, an unemployed printer of 25 North Ogden avenue, sprawled beside the bar rail with a mortal wound in his side. Savery died within a few minutes at the Norwegian American hospital.

The saloon keeper laconically declared he knew nothing except that a shot was fired as he tended the furnace in the basement. Other witnesses averred the pair had been drinking moonshine all afternoon, but none saw any person leave the saloon after the shot was fired. Police failed to find a weapon on the premises.

ROUTS BURGLARS FROM FACTORY.

Several burglars who broke into the factory of the Kuppenheimer Clothing company at 18th street and Karlov avenue were routed last night when August Neff, 1337 Washington boulevard, a watchman, saw them hiding in one of the rooms of the factory and fired several shots.

SOON now in the quiet neighborhood streets, the bands will be playing "O Tannenbaum" and "Silent Night," and for delayed candy buyers here's good news: DeMet's are making a holiday special (until New Year's) . . . two luscious pounds ($1.40 regularly) now $1.25 . . . and all DeMet's eight stores will be open on Christmas eve until midnight, when curfew rings.

In Paris on the nuit de Noël, the Boulevard des Italiens is thronged with people. Perhaps the snow is falling so that the air is blurred, and all you can see of the crowds in the brilliantly lit cafes are the gigantic shadows of waiters printed on the frosted window panes. An endless column of people is climbing and descending the wide stairs of the Madeleine, where with only a few tapers by the high altar, Mass is being said before hundreds who stand bareheaded in the dim light, packed so close that the children are completely submerged by the dark bulky forms of their elders. So with worship and gaiety the night is spent until daybreak, when all good Frenchmen are in bed.

Her genius in so many fields of art Paris has extended, too, to the skill of the confiseur. Here in America this French tradition is the proudest tradition of DeMet's. Among the joys of the special DeMet's Holiday Box are fresh milk hand rolls with the cream centers. The pan caramels aux chocolats. The almond nougat which is so great a delight to the connoisseur's palate. True bon-bons ripe with juice. Many, many more.

And DeMet's, on this happiest Christmas, wishes all its friends and all good people everywhere the joys of the season. May its memory follow and enrich your days through the coming year.

FATE OF EMPIRES HINGES ON MOVE TO FREE FILIPINOS

Sugar, Dairy Interests Ruin Diplomats' Plans.

Trade Routes Exposed.

Withdrawal of America from the Philippines, it is contended, would make Japan the dominant power in the orient with China completely at the mercy of the autocracy of the Rising Sun. The outposts of the United States would be pushed back to the Hawaiian islands, for under the Washington treaty we are not at liberty to fortify the Aleutian islands or to strengthen the fortifications or establish a naval base on the Island of Guam, which tiny bit of land is all that we would retain in the western Pacific.

With the Japanese astride the Pacific our communications with the Dutch East Indies for supplies of rubber and tin, indispensable in time of war, would be left unprotected and at the mercy of the dictator of the orient.

In view of all these considerations the doubt arises in the minds of many American leaders that our descendants in the generations to come would thank us for withdrawing from the Philippines.

British Deeply Concerned.

Of more immediate concern is the relation of Philippine independence to the London arms conference. It is not doubted that the American delegation will be asked some embarrassing questions on this subject in the course of the five power parley. The British, particularly such British dominions as Australia, New Zealand and Canada, will want to know whether Uncle Sam purposes to pull down his flag in the orient. If he does, it is going to make a great deal of difference to the British.

If the United States gets out of the Philippines, the British dominions in the Pacific will be brought face to face with Japan. By their exclusion of Japanese the Australians, New Zealanders and Canadians have not been on the best of terms with the island empire. Australia and New Zealand would be a prey to speculation as to when Japan might grab the Philippines and thus establish herself several thousand miles nearer to their stronghold in the southern Pacific. With that possibility in their minds it is not doubted that the British dominions would insist upon the completion of the great naval base at Singapore, work on which the MacDonald government has virtually suspended, and would strenuously oppose the increased ratio of warships which Japan is to demand at London.

Japan Awaits News, Too.

That the Japanese delegation will evince great curiosity at London concerning the intentions of Uncle Sam in the Philippines is not doubted. If he were to signify an intention of withdrawal the Japanese would have ground for argument that the United States could not justifiably object to an increase of the ratio of Japanese naval strength.

According to the plans of the proponents of Philippine independence this proposed legislation will be before congress while the London conference is in session. Nothing could be more calculated to upset the conference than the passage of a Philippine independence bill by either or both houses of congress during the London negotiations. For this reason, no surprise would be occasioned if the administration were to exert its influence to cause the shelving of the whole Philippine question until after the conference.

Changed Attitude Hoped For.

There is no disposition on the part of the administration to dispute the fact that congress promised the Filipinos independence in the Jones act of 1916, contingent upon the establishment of their capacity for self-government. Nobody is advocating that the United States insist upon holding a disaffected, rebellious people in allegiance. But it has been the hope of the American government since the early days of the Coolidge administration that the Filipinos would come to realize that their welfare depends upon their retention of American sovereignty and that they would voluntarily give up their ambitions for independence.

It was to the achievement of this purpose that Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson dedicated himself when Mr. Coolidge sent him to the Philippines as governor general. He devoted himself to measures for improving the economic condition of the Filipinos. He succeeded to such an extent that the independence movement virtually died out.

Revived by Tariff Fight.

It was revived when Representative Charles B. Timberlake [Rep., Col.] pressed his resolution limiting Philippine sugar exports to the United States. The demands of the sugar beet and dairy interests for a tariff on Philippine sugar and cocoanut oil added fuel to the flames. If they were to lose their American market why not be independent and be done with it, the Filipinos asked.

Secretary Stimson says that the Filipinos when he left the islands were making great strides economically as a result of the business reforms he introduced.

"The previous anti-American agitation for complete and immediate independence practically ceased," he said. "Not only was I not subjected to any attack or annoyance, but political agitation on these subjects almost ceased and my relations with the political leaders and the people of the islands became most cordial and sympathetic. The Filipino newspapers which had previously been anti-American publicly announced that 'Filipino faith in the purposes of America had been restored.' The whole movement during the year had been based upon my appeal that we should forget recent controversies and should turn back to the policies that had been laid down 30 years ago by President McKinley and Secretary of War Root and had been inaugurated in the islands of Gov. Gen. Taft. This slogan was taken up by the Filipino newspapers and was referred to frequently as the policy to be pursued.

Withering Effect Seen.

"I subsequently witnessed the withering effect which the suggestion of raising a tariff barrier produced both upon political and business confidence in the islands just as soon as the press reports brought word of the introduction of the Timberlake resolution and the resolutions of various trade associations urging a tariff against cocoanut oil, pearl buttons, and other industries.

"The effect of these movements both politically and industrially in the islands was very marked, and at once slowed up the work in which we were all engaged. New investments which were under discussion were withdrawn. Political leaders and the press reported at once a recrudescence of distrust in America and a re-agitation of the question of independence. No one who was present in Manila at the time could fail to observe the effect. It was a dominant note in every newspaper and was on the lips of every business man and every public officer."

DEFENDS HOOVER AGAINST CHARGE ON SUGAR TARIFF

Representative Hits Back at Democrats.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 23.—(AP)—The national Republican congressional committee and the bureau of publicity of the Democratic national committee came to open warfare today over whether President Hoover had taken a hand in shaping the sugar tariff.

Replying to a statement issued two days ago through the Democratic national committee by Representative Garner of Texas, the Democratic leader, Representative Wood of Indiana, chairman of the national Republican congressional committee, said that there was nothing reprehensible in the action of the President in discussing public questions with individual callers. He added that no one familiar with official procedure could hold the President responsible for "what some third party says someone told him the President said to someone else."

Second Statement Made.

At the same time, Garner in a second statement through the Democratic national committee, followed up his earlier assertion by making public an "analysis of some of the startling testimony and correspondence" brought out by the senate lobby committee in its questioning of H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company, and Edwin P. Shattuck, a New York attorney. In his first statement, the Texan asserted that if Alfred E. Smith had been in the White House and similar disclosures had been made concerning him, impeachment proceedings would have been discussed in congress.

Denies Any Discussion.

The controversy arose from testimony by Lakin that he had employed Shattuck to aid in a campaign for a low sugar duty partially because of the latter's friendship with the President. Shattuck said that he had not discussed the sugar tariff with Mr. Hoover, but that he had discussed the duty and the proposed sliding scale with Walter Newton, one of the President's secretaries.

The statement of Wood read in part: "Hiding behind the name of Representative Garner of Texas, the Democratic national committee issues a statement to the press which by innuendo and implication impugns the motives of the President of the United States. The tactics are characteristic of that national organization but not of Representative Garner, and the house Democratic leader does poor honor to himself and his office by permitting the use of his name in such a manner."

YOUTH'S WARM CHRISTMAS FELT IN SIX CITIES

Causes Vaccinations on Wholesale Scale.

Brownee Wilson, 24 years old, a vagrant, often lacks a warm bed, to say nothing of a square meal, as he drifts from city to city. But last night Brownee appeared assured of a warm Christmas, and no charitable motives impelled the public authorities in caring for him.

Chicago health department officials yesterday notified health officials of five cities that Brownee had given them some work to do. Moreover, six doctors of the Chicago health department spent the larger part of Saturday night in vaccinating 571 of Brownee's erstwhile brothers of leisure in their quarters in the Salvation Army hotel, 623 West Madison street.

Other Towns Get Busy.

Brownee, it was discovered Saturday night, had smallpox. He had had it eight days. With his usual briskness he had covered quite a little territory in those eight days. Now the prisoners in jails in Springfield and Bloomington, and the police department of Joliet, must be vaccinated. Brownee asked for and got shelter from those jails and the police station.

All the lodgers in the North Inn and in the Buckeye hotel, Kansas City, on Dec. 14 and 15 must line up for vaccination. On Dec. 16 Brownee was in St. Louis, but he does not remember where.

At present he is receiving his due attention in a soft bed in the Isolation hospital, 34th street and Lawndale avenue. He is looking forward to the merriest Christmas in years.

Brownee did not go direct to the isolation hospital. Saturday afternoon he went to the Cook county hospital and was sent from there to the Illinois Research hospital, from which he was taken to the Isolation hospital. The attendants in the receiving wards where he was must be revaccinated.

Not Remembered at Hotel.

Perhaps none of the 571 men in the Salvation Army hotel remembers the guest who stopped there Friday night. In fact, a clerk in the hotel said he was not registered. But none of the guests will soon forget him, particularly as they will not be allowed to wander far until it is shown they do not develop smallpox.

A little before midnight Saturday a half dozen health department men roused the hotel guests, who paid 35 cents a night for their 571 rooms in a six story hotel. As they lined up in their ragged clothes for the unfamiliar ceremonial of receiving medical attention, Brownee, snug between clean sheets, decided it wasn't such a tough break. At last he had won, without the least effort, the solicitation which all his life he had hankered after.

Crash in Tripoli Swamps Ends Flight to Australia

PARIS, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Reports were received here today saying Capt. F. C. Chichester, New Zealand aviator, had ended his projected England-Australia flight in a forced landing in the swamps near Tripoli, North Africa, yesterday. His plane was wrecked, but he was uninjured. Capt. Chichester left Croydon on Dec. 20 in an attempt to beat Bert Hinkler's record of 15 days between England and the Australian continent.

DISMISSAL DENIED IDAHO OFFICERS IN LIQUOR CASE TRIAL

Coeur D'Alene, Idaho, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Their motion for dismissal denied, attorneys for 28 officials, business men, and others in Mullan, accused of widespread liquor activities, today massed their forces to tear down the case federal attorneys have presented in court.

For a week, a long parade of federal agents, former liquor venders, bankers, public officials, and others friendly to the prohibition law, have painted Mullen as a "wide open" town for liquor, gambling, and vice.

Hoyt T. Ray, United States district attorney, generalissimo of the crusade which developed the indictment of some 200 persons in ten towns of the picturesque Coeur D'Alene mining region, where some of the world's greatest silver-lead-zinc mines are located, said the situation was unique in the history of prohibition. Despite the fact that "donations" had been demanded for many years, apparently not a cent was spent for graft, he said.

The Garden theater in the Center avenue district of Harvey was almost demolished by fire yesterday morning. The loss was estimated at $125,000.

One fireman was seriously hurt and eleven others barely escaped. Fire companies from Phenix, Hazelcrest, and Blue Island were summoned to aid the Harvey fire department as the flames swept the building.

A dozen men were on the roof, playing hoses on adjoining buildings, when the joists gave way under the terrific heat inside. At a warning from below, eleven of the men ran to the roof edge and clambered down ladders safely.

James Reed, member of the Harvey department and father of a ten year old boy, slipped on the rungs and fell twenty feet to the icy pavement. His right leg, right arm, and five ribs were fractured, it was later ascertained at the Ingalls Memorial hospital, Harvey.

Joseph Yuidick, the theater janitor, discovered the blaze in the basement. According to the manager, John George Hruby, some sort of explosion in the boiler caused the blaze.

Upon the collapse of the roof it became apparent that the theater, a link in the Publix chain, was doomed to destruction. Efforts were concentrated on protecting adjacent buildings.

These suffered but little damage. The Garden, located at 15409 Center avenue, was wrecked on the inside and only the walls were left standing.

Chicago firemen, after searching 22 hours in the ruins of the Hine Soap factory, 4023 South Ashland avenue, came upon the crushed body of Leo Serafin, 32 years old, 3627 South Paulina street.

Serafin was pushing a wheel barrow along the south wall of the three story brick structure when a steam boiler burst Saturday afternoon. The south and north walls collapsed, allowing the roof and floors to cave in. Three of the nine workmen in the building were seriously injured.

SANTA CLAUS WILL PASS UP TONY AND JOE

Boys Caught After Fake Fire Alarm Epidemic.

It was fun for two small boys to pull fire alarm boxes and see the fire trucks race through slippery streets, endangering the lives of the firemen, pedestrians, and motorists. But the fun was taken out of the prank yesterday. The boys were arrested and sent to the juvenile detention home, where no Santa Claus will find them on Christmas. At least two of their playmates may join them there.

The two boxes reporting the most alarms from all the city are those at Laflin and Harrison streets and Aberdeen and Harrison streets, and every one of those calls recently has been a false one. Yesterday Joe Sturnello, 10 years old, 1101 Vernon Park place, and Tony Delaurentis, 9 years old, of the same address, sent in four false alarms from those two boxes. They also sent eight alarms from Taylor street and Blue Island avenue, six from Van Buren and Morgan streets, and five from Sangamon and Harrison streets.

It's a Costly Prank.

Every one of those calls is what is known as a 2-11, and because the neighborhood is a "high value" district the underwriters insist that full equipment be sent on each call. Every time one of those boys pulled down the lever seven to ten pieces of apparatus, costing over $200,000, responded.

The nearest fire station is engine No 103, but five engine companies raced at top speed to the scene at each call and they were joined by a water tower, a squad wagon, a high pressure wagon, two hook and ladder trucks, a fire insurance patrol and two battalion chiefs' cars. So many large factories are in the district that, no matter how many false calls were received, the department dared not risk withholding any of its apparatus, although certain that each new alarm was a hoax.

But Firemen Peter Kelly and Policeman Joseph McNally of the Maxwell street station were assigned to watch for the offenders who since the blizzard had been making life unbearable for the firemen and hazardous for every one in that vicinity.

Boys Caught in the Act.

Yesterday at Aberdeen and Harrison streets Kelly and McNally saw Joe and Tony building a pile of snow high enough so they could climb up to reach the alarm box lever. They learned later that the boys would be throwing snowballs when the fire trucks arrived and would thus appear to be innocent bystanders.

When taken to the fire station the boys confessed their misdeeds and did not think they were in danger of any great punishment. They named two other firebox pullers, Angelo Colendo and Patsy Fatagodile, but because of the uncertainty of spelling of names and the lack of addresses the others had not been taken into custody last night.

Joe and Tony had to listen to what a lot of firemen thought of any one who would send in a false alarm, and how they had endangered many lives. As they were led to the detention home they realized that it wasn't going to be fun any more.

Pacific Ocean No Longer Bows to Proud Atlantic

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HONOLULU, Dec. 22.—It is a big new year that is casting the gray streaks of its dawn across the Pacific, and the brain and eye of the American business man and capitalist are directing the rays. Pleasure tours and exports are by no means decreasing across the Atlantic, but travelers and tonnage are growing by leaps and bounds across the Pacific. Europe is still paying her war debts and can buy only her necessities from us, and the high American tariff compels our merchant marine to return in ballast to a considerable extent.

Not so the Pacific, with its vast continent of Asia, the near continent Australia, New Zealand, the myriads of islands in the South seas, and the East Indies. All have need for American products and the United States has much use for their raw material, and American tourists, who are steadily increasing, are leaving behind the money to assist the dwellers in the Pacific to buy from American industries.

U. S. Ships Dot Pacific.

New lines of steamers, from hundreds of sturdy U. S. shipping board boats to palatial liners, are as rapidly increasing, and more is to be heard of this development before long. A great year is in prospect, and only the trade missionaries have laid the groundwork. Now the tourist is helping.

Honolulu, the paradise and the crossroads of the Pacific, is one of the most striking examples of this, even though it is American, for here commerce is steadily gaining and the number of ships that call here is rapidly increasing. Since early December the Aloha chorus and the Lei Girls' union have been meeting big ships nearly every day, and the season is only begun.

The Matson line, which normally operates between San Francisco and Australia via Honolulu, Samoa, and Fiji, dispatched its steamship Malolo on a round the Pacific tour and put into Honolulu Dec. 14 on her return for a two days' stop.

Honolulu Popular Place.

Only the day before the newly engined Empress of Canada made her maiden call at Honolulu, to be followed by the other Empress boats, and as soon as the Empress of Japan is in service it will have a fortnightly service from Vancouver to Honolulu and thence to Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghair, Hongkong, and Manila. The Dollar line boats from San Francisco make fortnightly calls on the same route in both directions, and the round the world boats of the Dollar line also call at Honolulu every two weeks. In addition the Dollar line has recently inaugurated a new service from San Francisco to Honolulu and thence to Manila and Singapore.

Also in mid-December an arrangement was made for an interchange of traffic at Honolulu on through tickets by the Canadian Pacific and the Los Angeles Steamship company, with a similar arrangement by the Matson line and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha. These new traffic alliances for trans-Pacific service attest in themselves the increasing travel across the Pacific and the fast growing importance of Honolulu as the place of breaking voyage.

Hotels Expect Great Business.

Hotels in Honolulu have prepared for a great increase in business. Several have been renovated and improved in the way of service, while a group of hotels at Waikiki Beach, on the eastern end of Honolulu, has spent $160,000 for additions and improvements, and the owner is looking forward to the greatest winter in history. One hotel announces 1930 bookings are 50 per cent higher than any previous year, and it estimates that its business for January will be 50 per cent greater than in January, 1929. The "season" in Honolulu is from December to April, but business is good throughout the year.

In addition to traffic improvements by the eight steamship lines mentioned, the Canadian and Australian Royal Mail, from Vancouver to New Zealand via Honolulu and the Fijis, and the Union Royal Mail line, from San Francisco to New Zealand and Australia via Tahiti and Rarotonga [Cook islands], are improving the service in view of increased travel by Americans and in order to stimulate tourist traffic.

These British lines probably will arrange with the Matson line for an interchange of tickets to avert long lay-overs, since boats of each line are three and four weeks apart.

Henning Resigns as Judge in Southern California

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—United States District Judge Edward J. Henning of the Southern District of California today announced his resignation, effective at the close of the year. He plans to practice law in New York, but will maintain his home in San Diego.

RAIL PRESIDENTS DELAY COMMENT ON REMAP PLAN

Await Further Details of I. C. C. Program.

Railroad presidents who live and make their headquarters in Chicago yesterday said they were unprepared to express themselves concerning the plan by which the interstate commerce commission would consolidate the railroads of the United States and Canada into 21 major systems. Their remarks were few and in general to the effect that they must give the commission's plan careful study before they will be able to say that they consider it good or bad.

W. B. Storey, president of the Santa Fé system; Henry A. Scandrett of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific; Fred W. Sargent of the Chicago and North Western; and Frederick E. Williamson, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, were some of the men who made brief statements. President L. A. Downs of the Illinois Central, and James E. Gorman, head of the Rock Island lines, were away from home and could not be reached.

Story Awaits More Details.

"I have seen nothing on the proposed consolidation beyond the press reports and those are rather vague as to the details," said Mr. Storey of the Santa Fé. "I am not quite familiar with the projected eastern consolidation, comprising some four or five roads—at least not to the point of commenting on it.

"It appears from the newspaper accounts that the change suggested for the western roads, such as the Chicago and North Western, the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific, comprise extensions to the gulf rather than in east and west service. It would be premature, however, to speculate on these points until the full details of the plan have been digested."

Mr. Sargent, Mr. Scandrett and Mr. Williamson declined to make any statements beyond saying they were not prepared to talk about the proposal of the commission.

Others Postpone Comment.

"I am hardly ready to express an opinion on the proposal," Mr. Sargent said. "I have just read of the plan and I want to think it over carefully before making any statements. I may have something to say in about 24 hours from now, but not just yet."

"The consolidation plan announced by the interstate commerce commission will require a great deal of study before we feel we can make statements about it," Mr. Williamson said. "I have received no official information yet; all I know is what I read in the newspapers."

"It would be foolish for me to express myself on the proposal until I have the detailed information before me and have had a chance to study it," said Mr. Scandrett. "The newspapers told the story in a general way but they did not give enough of the details to make comment at this time possible."

The presidents all agreed they may have some definite statements concerning their opinions of the efficacy of the plan early this week.

School Boys Adopt Rule to Gag Chattering Girls

East Orange, N. J., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Disturbed by the chatter of their co-ed classmates, East Orange high school boys will put into effect a gag rule for girls during the 40 minute study periods. Girls guilty of communicating by any means whatever during these periods will be haled before a tribunal of boys and fined from one to five hours' extra time in school after hours. The boys recently complained the girls chatter prevented them from concentrating.

THE CONTROL OF THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Henry B. Joy resigned from the Republican club of Detroit because he could not subscribe to the Republican attitude on prohibition. It was hypocritical and unworthy of the traditions of the party. The individual Republican in his contact with the law was as likely as not to be a violator, but Republicans collectively were tolerating doctrines of excessive punishment for offenses which in a more intelligent theory of law would not be crimes at all.

There are many Republicans in the same boat with Mr. Joy, even if they have not publicly declared themselves. The party which would square its principles with their ideas could not, of course, attract Bishop James Cannon Jr. He finds the Republican party organized and controlled to his satisfaction. That is why he worked for the Republican national ticket. To keep Mr. Cannon and his fellowship the Republican party cannot be such a party as Mr. Joy with self-respect can indorse. For the time being Mr. Cannon, lately of the Democratic party and of the dry south, is running the Republican party.

MANCHURIA AND THE KELLOGG TREATY.

The report that Tokio does not favor the secession of Barga, just declared, and has formally protested to the soviet government, is highly probable, though not yet officially disclosed. Barga is a Mongol district in east northern Manchuria and its recent declaration of independence was undoubtedly the result of the same Russian strategy as established the pseudo-independency of northern Mongolia, with a capital at Urga, where the Reds run the machine. Barga is a district, John Powell says, 200 miles within the Manchurian boundary, hitherto recognized, and its separation would be a substantial loss to China as well as an important advance of Russian power. The recent battle of Tan-Kiang-Kou also took Russian forces into Chinese territory.

Thus it is clear that Moscow is carrying on a general military and diplomatic offensive against China, absorbing by military force, or political intrigue backed by force, considerable territory. It is territory inhabited by Mongols, and bolshevik diplomacy can pretend that its activity is in the interest of self-determination and the release of the Mongols from foreign domination. But its practical result is the substitution of active Russian domination for rather inactive Chinese, and the actual expansion of Russian control in northeastern Asia.

In the face of this movement the Japanese can hardly afford to be complaisant. They have no illusions as to the meaning or motive of soviet foreign policy in the far east, and unless they are willing to relinquish their very important hopes and existing interests on the mainland they must do what they can as circumstances unfold to check the expansion of Russian territory and of Russian interest. The present situation, as it has developed between Nanking and Moscow, presents a complicated problem for Tokio, for while the Japanese do not wish to encourage the former in setting a precedent for the expulsion of foreign interests in Manchuria, they cannot view the Russian advance without concern.

If, as seems probable, a protest has been lodged against the secession of Barga, Moscow will probably reply with a denial of complicity or responsibility. But meanwhile the Russians seem to be in possession and it will be interesting to learn whether the Japanese government considers it time to act directly, which would mean war with Russia, or will seek other means of resistance, as by more or less surreptitious aid to the Chinese or by some international pressure. Neither of these alternatives has been very effective against the soviet government. The prospects of hostilities are not imaginary.

Meanwhile the situation, and especially its Russian aspect, will repay some consideration by those in America who think the Kellogg-Briand treaty has brought the world into a new epoch of peaceful adjustment of international differences and of general reduction of armament. If they will consult events, rather than their theories, they will discover that there are no observable differences between the objects and even the methods of Russia's foreign policy under the czars and those of the soviet. And why should we expect any difference? The soviet government is composed of Russians and of partisans as determined to magnify their power and prestige as the czars and their ministers. The soviet government was created by ruthless violence and is sustained by organized force. It did not acquire its authority by suasion, but by force, and it preaches the use of force and maintains one of the most formidable armies in the world. To imagine that the Kellogg treaty, initiated by capitalist governments, transforms the bolshevik philosophy and reverses soviet policy is to be blind to one of the most momentous factors in international relations, the existence of a government created and maintained by force, commanding the resources of one of the greatest countries in the world, and both ready and willing to use them ruthlessly to impose its will whenever and wherever it seems expedient to do so. Only among our comfortable idealogues and sentimentalists can there be either the expectation or the wish that other nations in Europe or Asia, confronted by such a reality, should impair such powers as they possess for their security and the protection of their interests.

SECRETARY HURLEY STANDS PAT.

Secretary of War Hurley has indicated that he will do nothing for the present toward ordering a reduction in the diversion of water through the drainage canal. He took that position after listening to the attorneys for the various lake states who argued that the matter was now in the hands of the Supreme court and the secretary was without jurisdiction, even though the war department's permit under which the present diversion is permitted has expired.

The significant aspect of the hearing was the failure of counsel for the lake states to raise the question of present lake levels. It is a question which they naturally do not wish to go into. Their whole case against Chicago and the lakes-to-gulf waterway is based on the premise that lowered lake levels have interfered with shipping. The facts, of course, are starkly opposed to this line of argument. The levels are not low; they are unduly high. They have seldom been higher. The effort of the attorneys for the lake states is to prevent any consideration by the secretary or the court of the facts regarding lake levels which have developed since the taking of testimony in the lake level controversy was closed.

THE STATE OF WILLIGAN.

The many intelligent compilers of proposed state lines seem to us to miss the correct dimensions of the most important state in the Union.

The territory at the south end of Lake Michigan forms the economic center of the nation. It is as important to have this state properly outlined as it is correctly to bound all the other states.

The state of Willigan or Ohiana—we avoid the title "state of Chicago" to keep away from the petty jealousies of other cities—should comprise all the territory necessary for the functioning of the economic center.

Such a state line would run from a point beyond the suburbs of Milwaukee, passing north of Madison to give the university the advantage of association with the practical and useful population of the metropolis; west to take in the Tri-Cities—Davenport, Moline, and Rock Island—on the Mississippi; south to a line beyond Peoria on the Illinois and the coal country, including Springfield; crossing Indiana above the Ku Klux line and, running east, would cut off Toledo from Ohio gangdom.

Detroit may be left out, taking with it that part of the state of Michigan which includes the bigots who put widows in jail for life for selling a pint of whisky while furnishing to depraved criminals an asylum free from police interference.

The state of Willigan, which now contains the rail center of the nation in the city of Chicago, would then have water terminals on Lakes Erie and Michigan and on the Illinois and Mississippi rivers. In this way it could expedite the business of the nation to the greatest advantage.

Such a state, containing the principal termini for transportation, a large percentage of the industries, of the banks, the principal universities, and the population who furnished a majority of the fighting men in the civil and world wars, would give to this nation in greater degree what Paris and London furnish their countries, a national hub.

NAVAL PROPAGANDA ABROAD AND AT HOME.

We'll say for the London Telegraph that its broadside of perverted naval statistics is at least an attempt to help its own government in the coming naval conference. The method is pretty crude, and is likely to have reactions not desirable from the British standpoint, but the intention of the Telegraph is obviously to serve the British interest and not weaken it. It presents a sharp contrast to the Shearer inquiry in this country. If there was not in that incident a deliberate effort to discredit patriotic resistance in this country to further sacrifices of American naval strength, that effect was the most likely result of the inquiry, and it was only avoided because the effort to expose Shearer was a fizzle. It was not shown that Shearer at the Geneva conference of 1927 had given out any information which was untrue or which the American people ought not to have had. If his employment by shipbuilding companies was improper, it was not shown that he had acted in any way contrary to the nation's interest. It was shown that he was no longer in the employ of shipbuilding interests and that his past employment was irrelevant to the present situation and the coming conference. But all of these facts could have been ascertained without a sensational public inquiry which promised only to discredit the American case in the eyes of the world and to encourage pacifist clamor at home. This was a strange way to prepare for renewed negotiations unless we wished our interests to be presented with the least possible prestige, with a presumption of apology and self-doubt at home.

Editorial of the Day

HE SHOULD BE HAPPY.

[Detroit Free Press.]

James Thomas Heflin of Alabama ought to be pleased rather than otherwise because the Democratic executive committee of his state has read him out of the party. Mr. Heflin thrives on persecution, whether it comes in the form of "misquotation" by newspapers or in the guise of a flying bottle thrown in New England at somebody else. He expands upon being made a target for "poison plots" and nefarious machinations of assorted kinds and sizes. And now comes a tangible, concrete assault upon his sacred and devoted person with the force of a whole political organization behind it, an attack especially delectable because it gives James Thomas a chance to don the garb and aspect of martyrdom for a cause and walk up and down the nation and to and fro in it for months and months.

We predict that Mr. Heflin is going to have a real good time from now on until election day next year. And meanwhile the country may revel in satisfaction at the thought that a continuation of the full flow of his warm, fervid, southern eloquence is assured.

DRESSING FOR COLD WEATHER.

In the midst of the world war Great Britain summoned Dr. Grenfell from Labrador to have him tell the men of the homeland how to dress for comfort in the winter. The garments he recommended for them differed radically from those they were wearing. In the main they were designed to hold the warm air next the body and to prevent leakage around trouser legs, waistbands, neckbands, and cuffs. Shoes did not press the feet nor did they leak. It cannot be claimed that Dr. Grenfell's recommendations accomplished much.

Now we find Dr. W. F. Draper, assistant surgeon general, United States public health service, trying his hand with men's garments for summer wear, and for the seasons between heat and cold. For midsummer he recommends a short sleeved shirt, short legged trousers not much longer than running trunks, socks that do not reach the knee—something of a Scotch highlander garment—and sport shoes. The only undergarment is about the present day summer shorts. The shirt has a loose collar, perhaps a roll. There are pockets on both right and left. The trousers, being very light, can be readily supported by buckles attached to the shirt, the weight being carried from the shoulders.

For wear in somewhat cooler weather he recommends a combination blouse, coat and trousers. The blouse coat has a soft or roll collar. At no point are there bands or belts. Air, heated by the legs, rises unimpeded by the abdomen and back, flows by the waistline and escapes at the neck. There are pockets in both the shirt and trousers. The weight of the lightweight trousers is suspended from the shoulders. In order that as much sunlight as possible may reach the skin, the cloth used is an open fabric, and the only underwear is light summer shorts.

Dr. Draper admits the difficulty in getting men to dress for comfort, in spite of the example their sisters have set. He pleads for comfort on occasions even though fashion decrees that men shall live in discomfort. His especial plea is for a comfortable dress suit. As things now are, men go forth to dance—the hardest work they do and the most trying in endurance—clad in tight collars, stiff cuffs, a starched shirt bosom and assorted garments, each provocative of incapacity and discomfort.

LEMONS WON'T REDUCE YOU.

D. G. writes: I read where you recommended lemon juice every morning to a young lady. Will you please tell me if a half lemon in a glass of warm water every night and morning will help me to reduce?

REPLY.

No.

A LIPOMA AND ITS CARE.

C. W. S. writes:

1. Is it possible to starve out by dieting a lipoma or fatty tumor?
2. This is located on the thigh and, while it is fairly large, gives me no trouble. One surgeon advises me to have it removed before it becomes larger, while another, equally skilled, says as long as it gives me no trouble it calls for no treatment.

REPLY.

1. It is not practicable to starve out a lipoma. Other bodily fat will go first.
2. Lipomas do little harm. Have yours removed if it inconveniences you. Otherwise, not. You are in the best position to judge.

CATS AND DANDRUFF.

Mrs. J. W. writes:

1. Is it harmful to have a cat in a small apartment? The animal seems to be perfectly healthy, but her hair flies in all directions and I am sure it can't help but get into food.
2. What causes cat dandruff to turn rusty color when it becomes moist?

REPLY.

1. I don't see how it will do any harm unless some one in the household is subject to cat asthma.
2. I don't know.

INFANT MUST HAVE VISA.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—[Friend of the People.]—Is it possible, or necessary, for an infant born in Canada to obtain a visa to enter the United States to live. Both parents have permanent visas.

F. G. L.

The immigration law provides that every alien, regardless of age, who enters the United States for permanent residence must be in possession of an unexpired immigration visa, either quota or nonquota, as the case may be.

S. D. SMITH,
District Director of Immigration.

NOT SUBJECT TO DEPORTATION.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—[Friend of the People.]—Would you please tell me if the following alien is liable to be deported. He entered this country without a passport about seven years ago from Tasmania, South Australia; has committed no offenses of any kind; has married a Belgian girl who came here with passports, but is not naturalized; has bought his own home, and now intends to adopt a baby born in this country. C. J.

An alien who entered the United States seven years ago illegally is not now subject to deportation for that reason alone.

TWICE A MONTH, THE RULE.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—A corporation with factory and main office in the state of Michigan and branch office in Chicago, now paying employés twice monthly, is to start paying once a month after Jan. 1. Is this lawful in Illinois? D. H.

Illinois law requires corporations to pay twice a month.

FAIRY TALES.

"I," said the Flat Chested Female with the Long Skinny Legs, "I am the traveling representative of the great National Association of Prominent Educators, Leaders of Thought, Modernistic Parents, and Truth Spreading Reformers, sent forth to disabuse the childish mind of belief in fairy tales, Santa Claus, and other ridiculous superstitions!"

"Oh gosh!" said Little Laura. "Sit down."

"First," said the Flat Chested Female, "do you believe in Santa Claus?"

"Before I commit myself," replied little Laura, shyly, "I must first ask you, do you believe in Bishop Cannon?"

"Santa Claus," resumed the visitor, ignoring the question, "could not possibly journey down from the North Pole in a single night and crawl down all the chimneys in the world, leaving presents for all the children of the earth. It is very silly to think he could. Your father does not believe any such nohsense, my child."

"I don't know about that," said Little Laura. "Father believed that Amalgamated Soup Label, which he bought at 72, would go up to 250. Instead of that it went down to 16¾ and is still going. Father walks home now because he has no seven cents to pay the street car company. Putting this and that together, I should say that Father would believe in anything, including Santa Claus, the Sleeping Beauty, Republican Prosperity, and A Thousand and One Nights."

The Flat Chested Lady with the Skinny Legs frowned.

"Fairy stories are absurd," she said firmly. "Imagine the mice in the Cinderella story turning into gleaming white horses and a pumpkin into a royal coach!"

"But the farmers think that Mr. Legge and his Farm Board will wave their wands and turn wheat into solid gold," replied the little one. "Cinderella is small time stuff compared to that."

The Flat Chested Female shook her head impatiently.

"No sensible child would believe in fairy tales," she continued sternly. "They are figments of a distorted imagination. In fact, they are very wicked, for they do not prepare you for the Problems of Life. How can you expect to grapple with the Problems of Life when you believe that Little Red Riding Hood went to see her grandmother and was fooled by a wolf dressed in her grandmother's clothes? Your Mother does not believe any such nonsense, you may be sure."

"Not so fast," piped Little Laura in her sweet childish treble. "Mother believes the 18th Amendment, the Volstead Act, and the Jones 5&10 have stopped people from drinking and that all the bootleggers are in jail. Mother can tell you taller tales than Little Red Riding Hood."

"And," said the Flat Chested Lady hurriedly, "there's that preposterous story of the little boy (John or Jack, I believe his name was) who was supposed to have killed dozens of huge giants, and the other one about the Beauty and the Beast. I suppose you believe in those ridiculous tales, too, do you? Piffle!

"As to that," said Little Laura, "I suppose you believe the Kellogg Peace Pact and the Five Power Disarmament Conference in London will abolish all wars forever, don't you?"

"You are evading the question," snapped the Flat Chested Female angrily. "Can you honestly tell me that you believe in Santa Claus, Cinderella, Hansel and Gretel, Puss in Boots, Little Red Riding Hood, and all those other foolish superstitions that are fed to gullible childish minds? You should be more sensible."

"Maybe so," said Little Laura. "But can you honestly tell me that you believe in the 18th Amendment, the Farm Board, Republican Prosperity, the Kellogg Peace Pact, the Five Power Disarmament Conference, or that Mr. Hoover will ever stop appointing commissions and do something?"

"Of course I do!" said the Flat Chested Female huffily. "Any——"

"Then you're a bigger sap than I am," said Little Laura sweetly. "And as I've got to wash my stockings so as to hang 'em up on the mantel all ready for Santa Claus tomorrow night, I wish you'd gituhell outtan here."

With a snort of disgust the Flat Chested Lady marched out and slammed the door.

This Is Too Much! We're Going to Move.

AT CHRISTMAS EVE.

Let's all be children again that night,
With a child's desires and a child's delight
In the simple and homely and happy things
That only the yuletide season brings.

Let's powder the World's wan face with snow
Till never a scar of the past shall show;
Let's redden his cheeks with the candle's rouge
And make him like it—the mean old Scrooge!

Let's fill with cider his trembling cup,
And make him forget that he ever grew up—
Ply him with puddings and fruits and cakes
Till his eyes bulge out and his stomach aches.

Let's cram his stockings with useless toys,
While sleighbells deafen him with their noise,
Till he acknowledge that Santa Claus
Is, and will be, and always was.

Let's chasten him, cheer him, till over him
Hovers the spirit of Tiny Tim,
And he bows to the Christmas benison
And prays "God bless us, every one."

Then, over his couch, may a certain Star
Bend, with a message from ages far—
Bend, with such greetings as angels call:

LAGNIAPPE.

UNCLE SAM had a touch of the good old Christmas spirit Friday. Congress decided to give each Chippewa Indian in Minnesota twenty-five dollars for a Christmas present. Good old Uncle Sam, he's certainly right there on this Yuletide stuff. (Of course the twenty-five dollar presents come out of the Chippewa tribal funds, which belong to the Indians anyhow, but there's no use of mentioning that.)

OVER in benighted Roumania they've sent a Vox Pop writer to jail for four months. But over here we've got a sense of humor; we just let 'em rave and rave. After all, the law requiring everybody to read the Vox Poppers was repealed a long time ago. Or we think it was. Anyhow, we don't have to read 'em if we don't want to. So, why send 'em to jail?

THIS is the shortest day in the year! And there's only today and tomorrow—and then—Christmas! Shortest day—shortest last line: Gitit now! R. H. L.

THE CAUSE OF THE DELAY

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY.

DECEMBER 23, 1864.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Gen. Grant in a dispatch from City Point, dated Dec. 22, says: "Richmond papers say a dispatch from Washington, dated Dec. 21, stated that the advance of the Union fleet arrived off that point during the night. It continues: "Over thirty steamers are now assembling and more are following."

NEW YORK.—The Herald has details of Sherman's grand march through Georgia. His army moved 300 miles, devastating forty-two counties, capturing 4,000 prisoners, 10,000 Negroes, 15,000 horses, and thirty pieces of artillery. He lost not a gun, and our entire casualties were about 500 prisoners from straggling and 300 killed and wounded, including losses at Fort McAlister. Kilpatrick defeated Wheeler in a skirmish near Macon and could easily have taken the town had Sherman desired it.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A dispatch from Gen. Thomas dated Nashville, Dec. 21, announces the report that Gen. McCook overtook Gen. Lyon's rebel command at Ashbyville, Ky., on Dec. 17, and after a sharp battle defeated and routed it.

INDIANAPOLIS. — In accordance with the sentence of a court martial four soldiers convicted of bounty jumping and desertion will be shot between 12 and 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at Burnside barracks.

CHICAGO.—The Rev. M. J. Krohn, pastor of Our Savior's Norwegian Lutheran church, Chicago, and Miss Mary Ann Olson, daughter of Elias Olson, superintendent of Graceland cemetery, were married at the residence of the bride's father in Lake View on Dec. 20 by the Rev. Mr. Otteson.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

DECEMBER 23, 1899.

QUINCY, Ill.—Eleven children were burned to death in the school hall of St. Francis' Catholic parochial school while rehearsing for a Christmas entertainment. Seven others, including Father Andrey, the pastor, and three sisters, were seriously burned in trying to save the children. All of the dead were little girls.

LONDON.—The Daily Mail prints a story from Paris which indicates that the Boers are not unwilling to consider terms of peace. The dispatch says: "Dr. Leyds, the Transvaal agent, who reached here from Brussels, waited on the French minister of foreign affairs, M. Delcasse, and asked for his services in the cause of peace."

EAST NORTHFIELD, Mass.—Dwight L. Moody, the famous evangelist, died at his home in this village this morning at the age of 62. He had been ill for several weeks with heart disease and when it became known last night he could not recover, he said: "The world is receding and heaven is opening." Mr. Moody went to Chicago in 1856 and after a time set up a mission in the slums of the north side. From that beginning his fame grew.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY.

DECEMBER 23, 1919.

ROME.—Mustapha Kemal, Turkish insurgent leader in Anatolia, and leader of the Turkish Nationalist movement in Asia Minor, has been assassinated, a Smyrna dispatch to the Tempo says.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Admiral William S. Sims, commander of the fighting forces of the American navy in the war with Germany, has declined to accept the Distinguished Service medal recently awarded him by President Wilson on recommendation of Secretary of the Navy Daniels. This high honor is refused under circumstances so sensational that they bid fair to create a naval scandal that will attract the attention of congress. Admiral Sims' letter conveys his indignation at the action of Mr. Daniels in awarding the Distinguished Service medal to many officers who got no closer to the war than navigating their swivel chairs in Washington.

LONDON.—"Great Britain cannot accept the separation of Ireland." These words in Premier Lloyd George's speech on Ireland to the most crowded house in the history of the commons roused the assembly to a high pitch of enthusiasm. Subject to this reservation, however, the premier declared that Britain is prepared to grant Ireland the largest possible measure of self-government at the earliest possible moment.

RELIGIOUS RACKETEERING.

New York, Dec. 16.—Your editorial printed Dec. 14, in which you charge me with "Religious Racketeering," came to my attention this morning.

This editorial contains so many qualifying statements that manifestly you have written it without sufficient evidence. Furthermore, you have mixed matters rather badly, with the result that my position is not clearly stated. I would therefore ask you to make the following corrections:

I was never employed by the moving picture censorship commission of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ. I was simply serving as a member of the motion picture commission of the federal council, which has nothing whatever to do with censorship.

I was appointed a member of this commission at the request of the social service commission of the council upon a voluntary basis, just as I have served upon other commissions of the federal council. As a matter of fact, I attended only one meeting of this commission during all of its existence and resigned some months ago of my own volition.

For nearly a year I have been the publicity counselor of the Federal Council of Churches, but during this entire period I never wrote a single line for any publication with reference to the work of the moving picture commission and I had no authority to write about the commission itself.

It is not true that the federal council ousted me because of my alleged activities in behalf of the motion picture producers and distributors of America. This was definitely announced in the press in New York City by the general secretary of the federal council, Dr. Samuel McCrea Cavert; nor did former Secretary William C. Redfield resign from the chairmanship of the motion picture commission of the federal council because of my alleged activities in the commission. This was also stated by every New York newspaper which printed the story. Indeed, he knew nothing about these activities because they had never taken place.

So far as my relationship to the motion picture producers and distributors is concerned I was requested, as publicity man, to write a series of articles for the religious press on motion pictures in general. This I could do with perfect freedom and without violating any laws of ethics or common decency because of my long time interest in the use of motion pictures by the churches.

You evidently mistake my relationship to the general matter of publicity. It is twenty years since I have functioned as a preacher, although I am still a member in good standing of the New York Presbytery and render such voluntary service for the church as I find possible. Your reference, therefore, to "the field of pious activity," "the traditional responsibilities of this sacred office," making "use of their cloth to their own benefit in cash or complicity," are altogether beside the point.

Furthermore, let me say that as a publicity counselor I am serving at this moment a dozen organizations, all of them in the field of social and humanitarian activities, and not one of them is contrary, as I see it, to the interests of the other. Before I accept a contract I make a study of the work which the prospective client is engaged in, and the contract is accepted only if such work meets with my personal approval.

Whether or not the so-called Hays organization in its attempt to have producers make better pictures is a worth while enterprise may be subject to a difference of opinion, but the question of one's sincerity should not be determined even by the editor of a daily newspaper who has not gone to the trouble of securing all the facts but who charges a man a thousand miles away with racketeering without that independent inquiry which the federal council in all of its departments has repeatedly requested should be made, but which no one to date has had the nerve or the courage to undertake.

BIRDS IN THE SNOW.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Due to the heavy snowfall bird life throughout all sections is suffering keenly from lack of food. I feel if just a little more interest were taken in this matter the death toll of birds could be considerably reduced. It occurred to me that THE TRIBUNE could promote a campaign toward this end by printing the suggestion, Remember the starving birds. Just the waste crumbs and crusts.

I never leave my home without a small bag of bread crumbs or birdseed in my pocket, and it is indeed a pleasure to see how quickly the birds respond. We will have considerable cold weather before us until spring, when the little creatures can again take care of themselves.

BRITISH SEE U. S. NAVY THROUGH TRICK MONOCLES

Use Aircraft Carrier Figures This Time.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Dec. 22.—The ballyhoo which the London Daily Telegraph began last week, in an endeavor to prove that the American navy was vastly superior to the British navy, in order to pave the way for further skillful bargaining of the type, in which America has already proved that the Yankee is not a very sharp trader, continues today. The ballyhoo goes on with further plausible figures educated to the point where they can prove almost anything the manipulator wants them to prove.

The Telegraph's first contribution towards preparatory propaganda for the naval disarmament conference was exposed by THE TRIBUNE, and was backed up, so far as air strength is concerned, by the aeronautics bureau of the United States navy, which pointed out, exactly as THE TRIBUNE had done, that the six British aircraft carriers, totaling 115,000 tons, were able to carry a good many more planes than America's three ships, adding up to only 79,000 tons. Hence the possession of a larger number of planes was no great advantage.

Another Feat in Figures.

Now the Telegraph has procured a new set of figures, indicating that three boats can carry more planes than six—a feat which requires figures possessing a high degree of sophistication.

"Our six carriers can accommodate, between them, about 190 machines," the Telegraph states. "The three American carriers have a total capacity of 212 machines, and all three ships, it is understood, have a full complement of aircraft permanently aboard."

It may be that 190 is the correct figure for Great Britain's six ships, but the edition just issued of "Jane's Fighting Ships," a publication whose figures were checked by the British admiralty, gives the full strength of Great Britain's fleet as follows:

The Hermes, Argus, and Eagle have flights each; the Furious, four flights; the Courageous and Glorious, six flights each, or a grand total of 36 planes, as one flight comprises nine planes.

But Britain Gets the Edge.

For America, the Telegraph counts 72 planes each for the Lexington and Saratoga, which are designed to carry 81 each, of which Jane's says, are able to carry 78. In that case, they could only operate about half of them; 55 for the Langley, which is full displacement, although the ship is actually carrying only 34 planes. The correct American count should be 199, giving Great Britain an edge of 45 planes.

The question of comparison of aircraft carriers brings up a couple of interesting points. America does not possess a single ship built for aircraft purposes. The Lexington and Saratoga were originally designed for battleships, and official opinion, is that they are twice too big for efficient service as aircraft carriers. The Langley is an old converted collier, originally launched in 1912, which loafs along at a speed of 14 knots per hour. Great Britain has one ship specifically designed for the purpose—the Hermes—a boat incorporating the lessons learned in the war. The other ships were converted from fighting ships, except the Argus, which was converted from a liner. It is not, by any means, the most efficient of British aircraft carriers, but it is interesting to remember its origin, when Great Britain insists that its big liners cannot be successfully converted for war purposes.

Figures Only Come Close.

The Telegraph finally points out that more individual American fighting ships carry planes than British ships. It is true enough, but not enough plane carrying ships meet in any one battle to swell the air force to an appreciable extent, while planes attached to ordinary fighting craft are only useful for reconnaissance work for that particular ship, a concerted aerial action being possible only with flights, acting together under the orders of a single command.

Thus far the Telegraph has not attempted to answer any of the other points on which THE TRIBUNE took up the issue.

TWO STRIKES VOTED BY TEXTILE WORKERS IN EAST AND SOUTH

Paterson, N. J., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Determination to call two national strikes was voted today by the two day convention of the National Textile Workers. To work up sentiment for these strikes the delegates agreed to appoint fifteen organizers to work in the eastern states and twenty-five organizers in the southern states.

One strike is to be called in the event that the court's decision in the appeal of the seven Gastonia (N. C.) strikers is unfavorable to the defendants. They were convicted of the murder of Police Chief Aderholt, the outcome of textile strikes several months ago at Gastonia.

The other decision calls for a strike of silk workers of Paterson, Scranton and Allentown, Pa., and Pawtucket, R. I., next spring.

CROAT CHIEF HELD FOR PLOT TO KILL KING AT MASS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELGRADE, Jugo-Slavia, Dec. 22.—Dr. Wladimir Macek, president of the former Croatian Peasant party and successor to the fiery leader, Stephan Radich, who was shot and killed by a deputy six months ago, was arrested by the Zagreb police late this afternoon after having been under surveillance for more than two weeks.

The official Jugo-Slavian news agency, Avala, reports that the police discovered the details of a plot to assassinate King Alexander at Zagreb cathedral on Dec. 17 during the high mass on the king's forty-third birthday. Dr. Macek and many other Croation leaders were implicated. Secret hiding places for bombs and other terroristic material were found.

Among the arrested persons are more than fifty well known Croation autonomy partisans, such as Cvetko Hadzija, Anton Stefanitech, Prof. Jakob Jellacitch, and Col. Begitch. The police say several of those arrested already have confessed their part in the plot.

GUNMEN ROB THREE IN CAFE.

Three masked men, all carrying revolvers, held up William Picco-o in his restaurant at 1133 West Madison street last night and robbed him of $300. From James Fallanco, the cook, they took $41, and from A. Dominick, a waiter, $10.

WOMAN KILLED WHEN COAL GAS FILLS BUILDING

Chimney Plugger Sought by Authorities.

New York, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—A malicious hand came near sending quiet death to the tenants of an entire section of an apartment house in the Bronx early today.

By plugging a chimney with newspapers so that coal gas softly flooded all the apartments from the first to the fifth floors at the south wing of the building, the plotter caused the death of one woman, and seven others were overcome, but were revived by ambulance surgeons. Fifty persons were routed to the street by the fumes.

The dead woman is Mrs. Anna Blinder, 54, who occupied an apartment on the fourth floor. She collapsed in the bathroom. Her unconscious daughter, Mildred, 22, was carried into the air by rescuers but no one remembered the mother. It was not until the daughter, recovering her senses, called for her mother, that the body was found.

The papers which clogged the chimney were wedged 14 feet down it from the top, so that they were just below the roof level.

With the chimney's outlet cut off, the stirring of the furnace early in the morning sent a rush of coal gas through the vents that lead indirectly from the chimney into the kitchen of each apartment. The vents were originally constructed to draw off into the chimney the extraneous gases from gas stoves.

The novelty of the crime brought a personal investigation by District Attorney John E. McGeehan and the police but no arrest had been made late tonight. Although police admit that a unique kind of murder might have been planned, they are more inclined to think that some one with a grudge against people connected with the building sought to harass the tenants.

As a precaution against the possibility that a maniac was responsible, however, the police investigated other nearby buildings and plumbed the chimneys on other apartment houses in the neighborhood.

Mexican Troops Execute Guard of Kidnaping Gang

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—A dispatch from Teocelo, state of Vera Cruz, said tonight that Rafael Peredo had been executed by a firing squad after troops had dispersed a bandit gang and rescued Eufrasio Gomez, son of a wealthy rancher. Gomez was kidnaped a few days ago. Peredo, who was guarding the prisoner, was the only member of the gang captured.

GERMAN RECOIL CAR TESTED WITH NEW LIQUID FUEL

BERLIN, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Max Valier, rocket car enthusiast, tested his recoil automobile with liquid fuel instead of rockets on the Avus speedway here today. The test was made without a hitch, but Herr Valier failed to equal his record of 235 miles an hour made with the rockets.

The fuel used was liquid carbonic acid combined with benzine. The speed in today's test was estimated at more than 63 miles an hour. The Junkers company has been reported as experimenting with the same fuel as a means of raising airplanes from the ground or water with a great saving in motive power.

Herr Valier said the new fuel insured the driver's absolute control. The start was made in a great cloud of smoke from the exhaust, but the machine worked smoothly throughout. The car is without springs. The driver's seat is in the center and there are four fuel containers in front of

MOVE TO REVISE ARMY, NAVY PAY GAINING GROUND

Prospects for Increase Grow Brighter.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Sponsors of the movement for a revision upward of army and navy pay received encouragement from both ends of the capital during the last week.

In congress, the senate and house took steps to expedite action on the James-Reed resolution providing for appointment of a joint committee of five senators and five representatives to investigate and report recommendations relative to the readjustment of the pay and allowances of the commissioned and enlisted personnel of the two services.

Action Is Approved.

During the same period Secretary of War Patrick J. Hurley, Undersecretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ernest Lee Jahncke issued statements or wrote letters affirming their approval of legislative action investigating the pay situation. In his letter, written to Secretary Hurley, Mr. Jahncke stated that he was redably informed that a congressional investigation of the pay situation had the full approval of President Hoover.

Immediately following the publication some time ago of the report of the interdepartmental pay board recommending a revision of service pay, steps were taken to obtain legislative action carrying out the board's suggestions. Joint resolutions calling for investigation were offered in both the house and senate.

Action Is Favorable.

Just before the senate adjourned Saturday the military affairs committee at a special session voted to report favorably on the investigation resolution. In the house the joint resolution still is in the hands of the rules committee, but efforts are under way to bring it to a vote in the house.

Secretary Lamont, in a letter to the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house, disclosed that President Hoover is having an investigation made into the careers and pay of personnel of the army, navy, coast guard, coast and geodetic survey and the public health survey.

Victim Identifies Gangster as One of Garage Robbers

William "Dutch" Emmerling, a south side gangster, was identified at the detective bureau showup yesterday by Frank Warchol, an employé of the Town of Lake garage at 4559 South Marshfield avenue, as one of the four men who stole a motor truck from the garage on Dec. 13 after slugging him. Emmerling was seized in a raid at 4730 South Wood street several days ago. A second member of the gang of four was arrested shortly after the robbery as he was driving the truck away. He is William Wagner, who the police say has a long criminal record.

Movement Started to Enact Universal Draft Law in '30

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—A new movement to bring about congressional action in 1930 on universal draft legislation has been inaugurated in the house and senate.

Under the present plan, legislation calling for enactment of draft legislation at once has been sidetracked in favor of a joint resolution providing for the appointment of a special congressional commission to study the draft project and prepare bills for submission to congress a year from now.

The senate military affairs committee has acted favorably on the resolution and action is expected soon in the rules committee of the house. Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], is sponsoring the resolution in the senate while Representative J. M. Wainwright [Rep., N. Y.], introduced the bill in the house.

Bill Proposes Study.

The Reed-Wainwright bill calls for the appointment of a commission to make a thorough study of the need of the universal draft and then frame legislation empowering the President immediately to mobilize all the resources of the country in event of war. The commission would be composed of four house members, four senators, the secretaries of war, navy, agriculture, commerce, and labor, and five other persons not holding any position with the government but selected with a view of representing in a general way the views of labor, industry, capital, agriculture, and the professions.

Legion Backs Project.

Although the Reed-Wainwright resolution does not go into details, it is designed to expedite the passage of legislation giving the President authority in peace time to draft man power and industry immediately in event of war. Efforts to pass universal draft legislation have failed each year, although the American Legion has backed projects in each session of congress the last few years. Reluctance on the part of a majority of congress to give the President what has been described as dictatorial powers in peace time has hitherto frustrated attempts to write the universal draft on the national statute books.

Paris to Name Street After Late Ambassador Herrick

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Dec. 22.—"To recall to future generations the gratitude they owe America's great ambassador," a new street in Paris is soon to be named Herrick. It is the extension of Avenue Victor Emmanuel III., through to Rue de Courcelles, and promises to be a smart shopping and residence thoroughfare. A project to raise a monument of Ambassador Myron T. Herrick somewhere in the middle of the street is before the council.

Strife Parts Laundrymen; 50 Form New Association

Recent strife in the membership of the Chicago Hand Laundry association resulted yesterday in a split into two organizations. Fifty members of the old association met at the Hotel Sherman, disowned their affiliation with the association and formed the Progressive Hand Laundry association. Max Newman was chosen president. The activities of Abe Schaffner, alleged racketeer, who is said to have begun a campaign to gain control of the parent organization, is declared to have influenced yesterday's action.

2 Ships Wrecked on Coast of Blizzard Swept Iceland

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Dec. 22.—A blizzard which broke over western and northern Iceland Saturday night caused the wrecking of two ships and severed all telephone and telegraphic connections with the country districts. The German trawler Alteland sank, but the crew of 13 was saved. Rescuers are still fighting in a blinding snowstorm and a furious surf to save 13 of the crew of the Icelandic inspection ship Thor, which is on a reef. Eight members of the crew were brought safely to shore in a lifeboat.

ROME BEATIFIES SCOTCHMAN WHO DIED AS TRAITOR

Pope Is Present at Rites for Jesuit Martyr.

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Pope Pius XI. this afternoon descended from the Vatican into St. Peter's to venerate the relics and to pray for the repose of the soul of John Ogilvie, Scotch Jesuit who was hanged as a traitor in Glasgow three centuries ago.

At the last of the beatification ceremonies of the year the decree of beatification of the Scotch martyr was read by the secretary of the congregation of rites in St. Peter's this morning. The ceremonies were attended by a large number of Scotch pilgrims including many kilted Boy Scouts.

New York Prelate Attends.

The pope was accompanied by his noble guard in their picturesque medieval costumes and by all cardinals resident or visiting here including Cardinal Hayes of New York. Also participating in the function was George MacDonald of New York who wore the gorgeous attire of a papal chamberlain.

Father Ogilvie, born in 1580, was brought up a Calvinist but became a Catholic after studies at Louvain university. He became a priest in 1613 and requested that he be sent to Scotland as a missionary although he knew a price was on his head. After nine months of preaching in Edinburgh and Glasgow he was arrested and some months later was executed.

After the ceremony the pontiff conversed with Cardinal Hayes and said that he was so pleased at having him in Rome and had enjoyed so much his conversation during an audience a short time ago that he wished to see the cardinal again before the latter returns to America.

May Delay Departure.

The cardinal plans to leave Rome on Dec. 27 but would delay his departure if an audience is arranged. He will go to San Remo for a vacation such as he spent there in 1924. He intends to sail for New York on the steamship Vulcania on Jan. 16.

Mr. MacDonald will also receive a farewell audience from the pope whom he wishes to thank for conferring on him the tile of marquis, the first ennoblement of an American citizen since the reestablishment of the Vatican city state.

Chicago Catholics Observe Pope's Golden Jubilee

The golden jubilee of the ordinations of Pope Pius XI. to the priesthood was commemorated yesterday at solemn pontifical mass at the Holy Name cathedral, celebrated by Cardinal Mundelein. A solemn mass of thanksgiving in honor of the pope's jubilee will be celebrated today at the Quigley Preparatory seminary in the presence of the faculty and student body, with Cardinal Mundelein giving benediction.

WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Returning from a stroll with her daughter, Mary, Mrs. Sarah Marr, 55, collapsed on the porch of her home, 3030 West Harrison street, late Saturday night, and died, presumably of heart disease.

LIST 5 HARMFUL EFFECTS OF NOISE ON CITY DWELLER

Doctors Conduct Test in Bellevue.

New York, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Five harmful effects of noises are listed in the preliminary report of the committee on effect of noise on human beings of the noise abatement commission, made public today by Edward F. Brown, director of the commission. To ascertain the effects of sudden violent noises a series of experiments were undertaken at the Bellevue hospital.

Members of the subcommittee have come to the conclusion that taxi drivers and motorists, boiler workers, and mechanics exposed to a constant riveting noise are becoming deaf.

Pressure Within Skull.

Dr. Foster Kennedy, one of the members of the subcommittee, has directed the experiments at Bellevue hospital to ascertain the effect of noise on blood pressure, heart rhythm and brain pressure.

A number of patients who have major defects in the bony covering of the brain were selected and subjected to different noises, varying from mild sounds to the sudden bursting of a paper bag. The experiments were carried out with the aid of specially constructed apparatus to determine the pressure within the skull.

Pulsations of Brain.

Over the patient's skull a drum, containing a partial vacuum, was placed. The vibrations from the drum are communicated to a sensitive needle acting on a revolving drum, and in this way the pulsations of the brain have been registered.

The following are the five harmful effects of noises, as recorded by the members of the subcommittee at the present stage of the investigations:

1. Hearing is apt to be impaired in those exposed to constant loud noises.

2. Noise interferes seriously with the efficiency of the worker. It lessens attention and makes concentration upon any set task difficult.

3. In the attempt to overcome the effect of noise, great strain is put upon the nervous system, leading to neurasthenic and psychastenic states. Because of the incessant noise of the city, quiet needed for recuperation has to be sought in the country.

Effect on Day Sleepers.

4. Noise interferes seriously with sleep, even if a few become tolerant. All noises on streets and within doors should be minimized during the sleeping hours [11 p. m. and 7 a. m.]. Day noises interfere with innumerable convalescents in hospitals and in private homes and with night workers who are compelled to sleep during the day.

5. It is a well established fact that the normal development of infants and young children is seriously interfered with by constant loud noises.

The subcommittee, made up of Dr. Bernard Sachs, chairman; Dr. Arthur B. Del, Dr. Samuel J. Kopetzky, Dr. Frederick Tilney, and Dr. Foster Kennedy, in its general summation, finds that "noise is harmful if sufficiently evidenced by the feeling of annoyance it causes almost every one."

Four in Church's Service; Fifth Ordained Priest

Quincy, Ill., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boll Sr. of this city received a cablegram late last night that their son, Father Joseph Boll, had been ordained a priest at Rome. This makes five out of ten children this family has given to the Roman Catholic church, four sisters being nuns.

MOTHER AND HER 3 LITTLE GIRLS ARE FOUND DEAD

Prison Keeper's Wife Ends Lives with Gas.

Ossining, N. Y., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Mrs. Charles E. Culp, 33, wife of a keeper at Sing Sing, and her three small daughters were found dead in a gas filled kitchen of their home here this morning. The death of Mrs. Culp was reported as a suicide by the police and County Medical Officer Amos O. Squier.

Mr. Culp told the police that his wife had been suffering from a nervous disorder and had been despondent for two and a half months.

Room Sealed Carefully.

The police found evidence of great care in sealing the kitchen to prevent escape of gas. The key hole was stopped, a towel had been stuffed in the crack under the door and papers had been put in the cracks of the kitchen window.

The mother and children must have died soon after Mr. Culp returned home from his duties at the prison.

Mr. Culp's work keeps him at Sing Sing with the night shift from 10:30 p. m. to 6 a. m. He returned home a little after 6 o'clock this morning and went to bed at once, according to the police. Mrs. Culp arose when her husband entered the house and supposedly started to make preparations for breakfast.

Door Forced Open.

A little later a roomer in the house, who usually had access to the kitchen, started to enter the room and found the door closed. He tried the door several times until 11 a. m., when he noticed the odor of gas.

The roomer awakened Mr. Culp, and together they forced the kitchen door. When the door was opened they found that it had been held fast by the body of Mrs. Culp, slumped in a chair against it. On the floor were the bodies of the three children—Marjorie, 9; Verona, 6, and Catherine, 2½ months—all in their night clothes. Gas was flowing from an open burner of the range.

Mr. Culp called Dr. R. J. Wren, who summoned an ambulance from Ossining hospital. Futile attempts to revive Mrs. Culp and the children by means of artificial respiration were made.

IF I WERE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

The Tribune invites pithy, brief statements describing what you would do if you were President of the United States. The invitation is to Tribune Readers everywhere. Address Government Editor, The Tribune.

Editor: I would work to have a law passed whereby small estates left to widows and orphans could be administered by the United States government, thereby insuring perpetual safety.—Geo. W. Thum Jr., 2331 Whitemac avenue.

* *

Editor: I would compel the board of health to insist that chain store lunchrooms and others prohibit counter men to act as cashiers and handle food at the same time.—O. G. Goohous.

* *

Editor: I would let Henry Ford have Muscle Shoals, put a million men to work and make cheap fertiliser for the farmer.—F. J. Ziller, Oak Forest.

* *

Editor: I would sign the pension bill for that noble band of government employés, the letter carriers. I would give them $100 per month and pension them after 30 years' service, regardless of age.—C. F.

* *

Editor: I would have a law passed to standardize all home brew bottles to a certain height to simplify the work of capping.—J. H. Johnson.

* *

Editor: I would make it compulsory for all "vaudevillians" to achieve a new facial expression for the year 1930. The monotony of the present one is rather trying.—A. C. C.

* *

Editor: I would seek to lower the taxes on the small home owner, especially the mortgaged home or farm.—L. B. H., Centralia, Ill.

Editor: I would assemble the entire standing army and wage war on the gangsters until their forces were wiped out. The result would be a better America and Chicago.—Marian Gray, 6733 Ridgeland-av.

Negro Hunted for Fatal Shooting of Man, Woman

Henry Jacquote, 36 years old, 5131 Prairie avenue, a West Indian Negro, was being sought by the police yesterday after an unidentified Negro was shot to death and another Negro and a woman were wounded in Jacquote's flat. The woman, Margaret Thomas, 35 years old, colored, died at the Lakeside hospital. The wounded man, Al Ewing, 25 years old, 6229 Eberhart avenue, who is expected to die, told the police Jacquote started shooting when he surprised the two men in his flat with the woman.

GENERAL SMUTS DUE DEC. 30 AS LEAGUE'S ENVOY

Former Premier to Speak in Several Cities.

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The itinerary of Gen. Jan C. Smuts, former premier of the Union of South Africa, who is to represent the league of nations in the United States and Canada during the league's tenth anniversary celebration next month, was announced tonight by the American committee for the celebration.

Gen. Smuts is to arrive in New York on Dec. 30 and will appear in New York, Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, New Haven, Boston, Cambridge, and Ottawa, Canada, the committee said.

Gen. Smuts will leave for Ottawa the night of Dec. 31. He is expected to spend Jan. 1, 2, and 3 in that and other Canadian cities.

On Jan. 4 and 5 he will be in New York and on Jan. 6 he will visit Harvard university and speak at Symphony hall, Boston. On the evening of the following day he will speak at Yale university.

Gen. Smuts will return to New York on Jan. 8 and remain there until Jan. 11, when he will go to Cincinnati for an address on the 12th at Emery auditorium. The same evening he will go to Washington, where next day he will be received officially by government officials. On Jan. 13 he will have luncheon in Washington with the minister from South Africa and will speak at a conference on "The Cause and Cure of War."

The following day Gen. Smuts will devote to discussions on Negro education at Howard university. In the evening of the same day, he will be entertained at a dinner at the British embassy by Sir Esme Howard.

BURLINGTON

Be Fair to Street Car Riders

TODAY and tomorrow hundreds of thousands of Christmas shoppers, delayed by the severe storm, will be added to the usual heavy traffic on street car lines. Approximately 3,000,000 passengers (not including transfers) will ride on the street cars each day.

It is only fair to these millions of people that they be given the use of car tracks with as little interference from other traffic as possible.

The Chicago Surface Lines last week, with every ounce of available man power, battled the worst storm in recent years for 48 hours and spent more than $200,000 in maintaining service.

The tracks were cleared of snow, but automobiles and trucks hindered operation on many lines because car tracks were the only open traffic lanes. Broken down motor vehicles and wagons caused frequent blockades and snow crushed into the tracks by tires derailed cars and tied up important lines. In spite of this the system carried on, serving 2,000,000 passengers per day, not counting transfers, on the worst days.

The snow has now been moved back by plows and wider paths opened. Vehicular traffic can contribute immensely to orderly transportation by keeping out of the way of street cars.

To the trainmen, trackmen, shopmen, laborers and the supervisory force who labored with such loyalty and energy during the storm in the interest of the riding public the highest praise is due.

The full benefit of their efforts can be obtained only if vehicular traffic co-operates by giving street cars the right-of-way.

BORNO DEFIES BORAH AND OTHER HAITIAN CRITICS

Tells Why He Governs Without a Congress.

BY WILLIAM LAWSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti, Dec. 22.—Haiti is peaceful again, orderly, and proud of its place in the family of nations. It stands today as a monument to the Yankee pledge, Louis Borno, Negro president of the republic, said today. The people of Haiti have been rescued from unbelievable depths of degradation and have built a free country out of the wreckage of a century or more of oppression and tyranny with the help of the Americans, he added.

"Where once waste and graft ruled public offices there is now an honest government," he said. "Loathsome diseases have been conquered. The peasants, once terrorized by bandits or revolutionary bands, travel American built hard roads, and for the first time in its history the republic has a substantial cash reserve, where pilfaging politicians cannot touch it."

"Coöperation Did It," Borno.

"Coöperation, rather than occupation, is the word," said President Borno, sitting in his presidential palace, from which one may view the Haitian capital, transformed from a veritable pesthole into a modern city with paved streets, electric lights, sewerage, and a water system, since 1915. "One must have been in Haiti before the Americans came in order to appreciate the miracles they have accomplished. The transformation is itself the most eloquent answer to those who criticize the American protectorate.

"It is my great satisfaction to pay tribute to the great work of our American coöperators, and I feel it my duty to say how devoted has been the aid of Brig. Gen. John A. Russell, your high commissioner."

President Borno is ending his eighth year as president and radicals here and in United States have refused to accept as sincere his renunciation of ambitions for another term. It is charged that he has refused to convene congress because of his hopes for reelection next April by the council of state, which he appointed and which, it is charged, he will reorganize at the last moment in order to insure reelection.

Brand Borno as "Tyrant."

It is particularly charged that since the recent riots and declaration of martial law conditions throughout the republic have become intolerable. With the help of the American occupation troops his régime, it is asserted, has been marked by tyranny as real, if not as bloody, as that of the old preoccupation régimes.

"Senator Borah, for instance," President Borno said, "has charged on your senate floor that conditions in Haiti are intolerable and I have no doubt that the senator is honest, but it is strange to me that a man of his importance should make such statements. I call upon Senator Borah to indicate what act of cruelty my government has performed to any citizen under the constitution of Haiti.

The congress, consisting of a senate and a house of deputies, by law must elect the president, but if for any reason there is no congress, and there hasn't been any under the Borno administration, the president is elected by the council of state representing the various districts of the republic. President Borno defends his refusal to call congress on the ground that the members are elected by the illiterate mass of people still incapable of exercising the franchise intelligently.

No Congress Ever Elected.

"Many Americans," he added, "consider it monstrous that there has been no congress in years. The truth is there never has been a free election of a congress in Haiti. Past congresses have been appointed by presidents under military authority, and the so-called democracy was in reality a mere facade to hide military despotism."

Records Smashed Again

Mr. and Mrs. Customer:

We were happy to announce that on last Thursday—with the terrific blizzard at its worst—we were privileged to carry 788,710 people—150,000 more than on a normal day—and without the slightest injury to a single person.

We are now pleased to further report,

That—

On Friday we exceeded Thursday's figure by 34,176, transporting the extraordinary total of 822,727 people.

(This is the equivalent of the ENTIRE POPULATIONS COMBINED—men, women and children—of such cities as Milwaukee, Springfield, Peoria, Decatur, Danville, Aurora, Elgin and Joliet.)

Then—

On Saturday we carried 812,915 people, the largest number handled on a corresponding day of the week in the history of the Elevated Railroads.

The speed with which our trains were "snapped" across the two tracks in the "bottle neck" of the congested Loop—more cars than have been operated by any railroad in the world over two tracks in a corresponding number of hours—was due to the exceptional co-operation of the public in loading and unloading.

It cost the Company many thousands of dollars for snow removal, extra shifts and storm fighting and protection equipment, the latter of use only in such a crisis, but we aren't crying about that. Winning this scrap is worth the price.

The 5,800 men and women composing the "round-the-clock" service organization of the Rapid Transit Lines give our customers a rousing vote of thanks for their invaluable help in making our transportation feat possible. With you as a second in our corner we have proven that the sturdy Elevated Lines—backbone of Chicago's transportation—can whip Old Man Weather at his best.

RAPID TRANSIT LINES
FAST—RELIABLE

P. S.—Elevated railroads have sometimes thoughtlessly been referred to as OBSOLETE by those who claim they believe automobiles might take their place. The blizzard offered some tangible proof that mass transportation can only be handled on steel rails.

The Rapid Transit Lines organization offers its congratulations to the North Shore Line, the South Shore Line and the Chicago, Aurora and Elgin Railroad (Sunset Lines) on their remarkable performance during storm week of not canceling a single train and the safe handling of vastly increased passengers who were ordinarily fair-weather automobile riders. Indeed they maintained their slogan

CHICAGO ELEVEN WINS BATTLE OF LOYOLAS, 26 TO 6

FLYNN SCORES THREE TIMES, BURKE ONCE

New Orleans Held to Four First Downs.

New Orleans, La., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Loyola of Chicago showed marked superiority over the local Loyola team to win a 26 to 6 football victory today in freezing weather.

LES MOLLOY.

The teams battled to a 6 to 6 tie in a driving rain Armistice night. The field today was almost as slippery from recent rains, but the Chicago players found the going much better than in the previous game. They scored two touchdowns in the second and third periods and one in the first.

Southerners Score Late.

The Chicagoans ran for consistent gains through the local line, with Burke, Malloy, and Flynn running hard on criss-cross bucks and straight off tackle plays. Fine line play and fast running backs proved too much for the New Orleans lads, who were unused to playing in cold weather.

The New Orleans touchdown came in the last period. The southerners, profiting by a 25 yard penalty when Flynn was put out of the game for slugging, carried the ball to the five yard line, from where Quarter Back Lopez ran around right end for the score.

Flynn scored three of the Chicago touchdowns. A pass from Collins to Burke accounted for the other. Burke drop kicked for one extra point, and Connelly, who replaced Collins, ran around end for the other.

Chicago Makes 19 First Downs.

The Chicago eleven made 19 first downs and New Orleans 4. Chicago lost 30 yards on penalties, New Orleans 10. Chicago attempted three passes, one of which was intercepted and one completed for a 16 yard gain. The southerners attempted four passes, completing three, for a gain of 49 yards. Lineup:

LOYOLA (SOUTH).		G. LOYOLA (CHICAGO).

MEMPHIS ELEVEN BEATS BEARS, 16-6; KEN STRONG STARS

Scores Touchdown and Field Goal.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—The Memphis Tigers defeated the Chicago Bears here today in the final football game of the season. The score was 16 to 6.

By the victory Clarence Saunders' team was revenged for a previous defeat by the Bears and completed their season with 11 victories against one setback. Four thousand watched the game, which was played under adverse conditions. It was the coldest day of the year.

The Tigers were considerably strengthened over their previous encounter with the Bears. It was the same lineup which one week ago defeated the Green Bay Packers, champions of the National league. Doug Wycoff and Ken Strong, National league players, had been secured for these games.

Ken Strong kicked a 35 yard drop kick for the first points of the game. Later he made a running grab of a pass for a touchdown. Bucky Moore took a ten yard pass and sprinted 50 yards for another touchdown. Lineup:

MEMPHIS [16].		BEARS [6].
Fannin	L. E.	Garland Grange
Wycoff	L. T.	Nelson

Dece Wins Riviera Racing Opener at Marseilles

MARSEILLES, France, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The winter racing season on the Riviera opened today. Paris tracks will be idle until Feb. 15, while the thoroughbreds are performing at Marseilles, Nice and Cannes.

The Par Borely stakes, a hurdle race of two miles and one furlong, went to Count Derivaud's Dece, with Vieux Soudre second and Sans Peur third. Nine started and the winner paid 12 to 1 in the betting.

Helen Wills Weds Today; Omits "Obey"

Berkeley, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Helen Wills will be married tomorrow to Frederick S. Moody Jr. in rustic little St. Clement's chapel at the foot of the Berkeley hills.

Miss Wills will promise to "love, comfort and honor" Moody and "keep him in sickness and health, forsaking all others," but she will not promise to obey.

And Moody will not promise Helen. "With all my worldly goods I thee endow."

The new Episcopalian marriage service will be read by the Rev. Lindley H. Miller, pastor of St. Clement's. The word obey and the endowment promise were eliminated from the Episcopalian marriage service two years ago.

The ceremony tomorrow will be attended only by parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Moody Sr., parents of the bridegroom, and by the younger Moody's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Corbitt Moody of Burlingame.

Kane Objects to Dempsey in Ring at Mandell Bout

Miami Beach, Fla., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, and Manuel Quintero, Cuban fighter, may fight here Jan. 10, but if Eddie Kane has anything to say about it, Jack Dempsey will not be the third man in the ring.

EDDIE KANE.

Kane, as Mandell's manager, today issued a statement that he would not permit his charge to enter the ring if Dempsey were the referee.

Dempsey had tentatively accepted an invitation of G. R. K. Carter, promoter of the fight, to serve as referee.

The manager refused to give reasons for his attitude against the Manassa Mauler.

"Dempsey can never referee any fight in which any boxer under my management participates," Kane said. "That's flat. If Mandell is to fight the promoters had better forget about Dempsey as a referee."

Kane was manager of Tommy Gibbons when he fought Dempsey for the heavyweight championship in Shelby, Mont., in 1923.

FIELDS TO FIGHT THOMPSON JAN. 3 IN GARDEN RING

Dempsey's Plan Thwarted by Boxing Comish.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Jackie Fields, welterweight champion, and Jackie Thompson, colored contender, will fight for the title in New York on Jan. 3 instead of in Chicago on Jan. 17, it has been announced.

Jack Dempsey ten days ago made it known he had signed the boys for a championship fight in the Coliseum on the 17th and intimated that he had received assurance from the present Illinois boxing commission that a rule of its predecessor against mixed matches would be rescinded.

The commission, however, has not rescinded the rule against the matching of whites and Negroes, causing Dempsey to abandon his plan in time for the fighters to arrange the New York meeting.

Recall Other Fight.

Fields and Thompson, who were the principals in the fight at the Coliseum last March which resulted in a panic, during which one spectator was killed and several others were seriously injured.

That the rule passed as a result of the disturbance should be deadlettered to permit the same men to fight in the same place with the added condition of an undisputed title being at stake, caused considerable comment at the time Dempsey announced the match.

Dempsey to Continue Jan. 17.

The New York fight will be held in Madison Square Garden and was arranged by Tom McArdle, matchmaker of the garden, after Dempsey, during a vaudeville engagement in New York, had revealed he was meeting opposition to the proposed staging of the affair at the scene of the previous riot.

Though deprived of the championship attraction, it is said to be probable that Dempsey will resume his series of Coliseum shows on Jan. 17.

HACK RECEIVES CHRISTMAS CARD SIGNED "SHIRES"

Martinsburg, W. Va., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Although Hack Wilson and Art Shires did not get to greet each other in a Chicago prize ring, Wilson, at his home here today, received a greeting from the White Sox first sacker, in the form of a Christmas card. At least, the card was signed "The Great, Great Shires" and was mailed from Chicago.

The Cubs' outfielder said he appreciated the card, which read: "A very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year." He plans to answer it tomorrow extending to Shires similar greetings.

While displaying the card to friends today Wilson referred to his decision not to go through with the fight. He said the more he thought of the affair the better he was satisfied with the move he made.

"From now on," said Hack, "I'm going to follow no sport professionally but baseball. Right now, however, I'm greatly interested in the basketball team I am coaching. It won the City league pennant for me last year and I believe the boys will come through again."

BROOKLYN HOLDS PRO LEAD; TRIMS ROCHESTER, 31-16

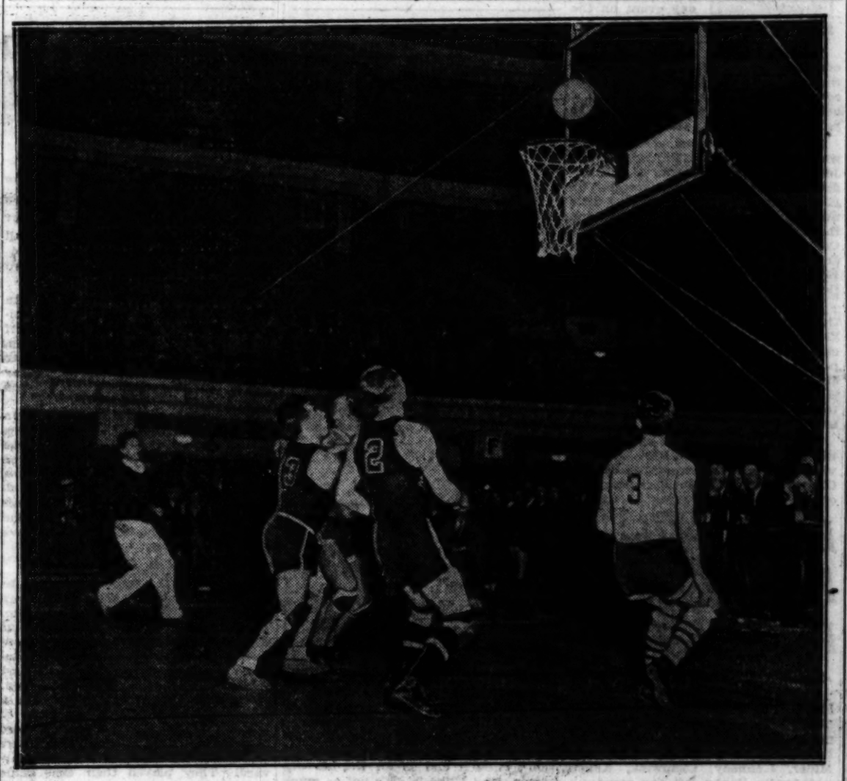
A PUSH IN TIME SAVES A GOAL



Honey Russell fails to score on this shot in the second half of the Bruin-Fort Wayne game at the Stadium. Russell got away several times, but Davey Banks, his guard, had a habit of pushing and climbing on his back which ruined his aim. Falcaro Rolls 12,932 to Win Bowling Title

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Joe Falcaro of New York won the world's individual bowling championship from Joe Scribner of Detroit in a special 60 game match completed here tonight. Falcaro scored a grand total of 12,932 to 12,803 for Scribner.

Trailing by 157 pins this afternoon, Scribner made a great comeback in the night block, rolling 245, 267 and 265 in his fourth, fifth and sixth games to come within 60 pins of Falcaro. The New Yorker, however, gradually increased his lead through the remaining games.

The first three blocks of the match were rolled in Detroit where Scribner piled up a lead of 158 pins. Falcaro reduced this to 38 pins in the fourth block here yesterday, went into the lead by 157 pins in the fifth block, and yielded only 26 pins of this advantage in the final block. The scores of the last block follow:

PIRATES TRADE M'CAFFERY TO LES CANADIENS

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Bert McCaffery, veteran defense man of the Pittsburgh club of the National Hockey league, has been traded to the Montreal Les Canadiens for Gordon Fraser, it was made known here today. The management hopes, through the acquisition of Fraser, to strengthen the Buc defense which has been more or less weak since the opening of the season.

Fraser will report to Pittsburgh in New York next Saturday and McCaffery will join the Montreal team on the same date.

Bruins Whip Ft. Wayne, 18-15; Climb to Tie for Third Place

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Chicago's Bruins defeated Fort Wayne last night, 18 to 15, to tie with the losers for third place in the American Basketball league. Four thousand, the second largest crowd of the season, were attracted to the Stadium to see Davey Banks, Rus Saunders and others of the Hoosier five which lost the championship series last year to Cleveland.

Many also came to cheer the South Bend Stephensons, who defeated the Midwest Athletic club, 18 to 16. The South Bend five is composed of former Notre Dame basketeers and Johnny Howe, former Illini. Howe contributed most of the points in his team's victory but it was John Colrick who scored the winning basket.

Moynihan Still on Crutches.

Tim Moynihan, who is listed in the personnel of the team, was with them last night, but Tim still is on crutches, the result of a football injury received in the Northwestern game.

In the other preliminary the Taylor Trunks won from the Western All-Stars, 22 to 7.

The pro game last night was a battle of defenses. And like most contests between the squads, it was close all the way. Thirty-nine personal fouls were called by Referee Sinnott, 20 on the Chicago players and 19 on the visitors. A conservative estimate is that there were 39 more fouls that were not called.

Five Ejected on Fouls.

Five players were ejected because of personal fouls. Nothwithstanding the many fouls, there was more of interest for the spectators than in recent contests. Few long shots were tried and both teams kept the ball moving rapidly in center court, striving for the opening which would bring a short shot.

Rus Saunders handled the ball most successfully for Fort Wayne on the free throw line, but his mates were unable to break away consistently from the tight guarding of the Bruins to cut under the hoop. Each team scored five times from the field.

Each of the Chicago regulars scored once. Shimek counted twice for Fort Wayne, Miller being the only regular failing to connect for two points. This demonstrates the even distribution of offensive power—nine men scoring the ten field goals.

Free Throws Decide It.

The game was decided on penalty tosses. Here again each team was awarded 12. Chicago made eight of its 12 chances and Fort Wayne connected five times in 12 efforts. Saunders was the worst offender, missing four of his six free throws, enough to have won the game for Fort Wayne.

The teams alternated in the lead in the first half until it was 6 all. Here Hickey scored two free throws on Shimek's foul and Russell did likewise on Chadwick's foul to give the Bruins ten points. Saunders scored a free throw on Ely's foul and Chicago led 10 to 7 at the intermission.

After Russell's one point to open the second half, Saunders and Chadwick broke away to get short shots under the basket and the count was deadlocked at 11 all. Hickey and Ely then drilled through the Fort Wayne defense to score and with ten minutes left to play the Bruins led, 15 to 12.

Then came the procession of substi-

New York, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—The Rangers won their battle with the Chicago Blackhawks for second place tonight at Madison Square Garden. The score was 3 to 1. Victory enabled the Rangers to climb one point ahead of the touring Chicagoans, who have lost three straight since leaving home to invade the eastern loop of the National league.

The New York team took a 2-0 lead in the first period and had all their counters in the basket before Chicago scored, about three minutes before the final gong.

Fans Dislike New Rules.

A crowd of 15,000 attended and showed displeasure at frequent halts occasioned by the latest amendments to the playing code, framed last Monday and put into effect here for the first time tonight.

At the start the players, accustomed to crossing blue lines at will, as hitherto permitted, overstepped the bounds so frequently that the whistles were tooting every minute. Later the players seemed to tune in with the new restrictions, and the third period was as hard and fast as any fan could wish.

The effect on the play is shown by the scoring of saves by the rival goalies. In the first period each had six, which set a new low for this season. There were eight for Gardiner and twelve for Roach in the second period and goal stopping was back to normalcy in the third, nine for Gardiner and sixteen for Roach, the disparity telling of the desperate fights of the Hawks in their effort to stage a last ditch victory.

Frank Boucher counted twice for the Rangers, scoring the game's first goal in 4:41 of the first period and the second period goal in 11:31.

Wentworth Gets Through.

The other Ranger goal was a second string job. When Boucher tallied the game's first goal, Manager Patrick sent in the No. 2 line. About a minute later Thompson circled behind the Chicago goal and flipped the puck to Keeling, who came in front of the net to shoot home the puck in 5:54.

The solitary Chicago marker came as a result of a similar plunge by Wentworth in the closing minutes. The visiting defense man fairly tore his way through the Rangers' back field to overpower Roach's blockade and punch in the lone Blackhawk point in 17:46 of the final chuckker. Lineup:

COUGARS, 6; PIRATES, 1.

Detroit, Mich., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates tumbled further into the cellar of the National Hockey league here tonight when they took a 6 to 1 beating at the hands of the Detroit Cougars.

A total of five penalties gave evidence of the game's slow action. All of the penalties were charged to the Pittsburgh team, four of them specifically to Roger Smith, Pirate defense man.

Ebbie Goodfellow and Herb H. Lewis, Detroit wingmen, boosted their scoring averages with two goals apiece. Lewis also was given credit for an assist. Bobby Connors and Capt. Reg Noble got the other Detroit goals while Hib Milks, Pirate center, scored the lone Pirate tally.

Pittsburgh's passing attack was ragged throughout the play and the Pirate defense crumbled after the first period. Two of the Detroit goals were scored while Smith was absent on one of his frequent penalties.

The teams were evenly matched at the halves, but in the second session Columbus, by expert shooting, pulled away. Columbus turned in the best game it has play this season. O'Conner disposed of Marquette to maintain an unbeaten state, while De Soto smacked Brown, 35 to 20. O'Connell trounced St. Cyr, 20 to 17.

TULSA HOCKEY CLUB DEFEATS ST. LOUIS, 2 TO 1

Tulsa, Okla., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The Tulsa Hockey club regained possession of first place in the American association pennant race this afternoon by defeating the St. Louis Flyers, 2 to 1, in an exciting game. Teddy Graham, Tulsa defense man, won the game with a solo goal counted less than two minutes before the end of the third period. A 1 to 1 tie had held up to that time and a seventh consecutive deadlock threatened.

The game marked the close of Tulsa's long home stand, during which the Oilers won five games, lost one, and tied six despite the handicap of injuries and illness. Tulsa has not been defeated since Nov. 19.

HENDERSON TEAM TOPS CHICAGOANS IN PIN TOURNEY

Toledo, O., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Henderson Plasters led Chicago bowlers in the Central States tourney today. Their score of 3,126 earned a tie for third place with Edelweiss, Chicago. The Duffy Florals were next with 3,097 for fourth place. Funeralites followed close behind with 3,066 for fifth place and Baby Ruth next with 3,053 for seventh position.

S. Thoma and F. Kartheiser made 1,321 for sixth place in the doubles, and J. Gratz and Pherson, 1,296 for ninth place. Kartheiser also starred in the singles. He shot 781 for the lead in this event. B. B. Reinicki made 722 for fourth place and took first place in the all events with 2,090.

ST. LOUIS PLANS TO ENTER HOCKEY LEAGUE IN 1930

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Ben G. Brinkman, president of the National Exhibition company, which owns the arena here, said last night that St. Louis will be represented in the National Hockey league next season.

Brinkman said he is forming a company for the purpose of operating a big league hockey team at the arena next season and that he was assured by Col. John S. Hammond of Madison Square Garden while in New York City and by other hockey officials that a National league hockey franchise would be granted St. Louis provided the necessary $50,000 is forthcoming.

Smith's 280 Wins Tourney at Pasadena

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Horton Smith of Missouri today won his third open golf tournament of the winter Pacific coast campaign by taking the Pasadena $4,000 event with a card of 280 for the 72 holes. He led the field by six strokes.

HORTON SMITH.

The 21 year old pro swept into a three stroke lead for the first time during the three day event on the morning round, bagging five birdies for a 68. He continued his attack on par through the first nine of the afternoon eighteen, but the tricky thirteenth and a bad approach on the 17th cut him to par 71 for the final round.

Finishing in second place today were Ed Dudley of Wilmington, Del.; Johnny Golden, Paterson, N. J.; Eddie Loos, Pasadena, and George Von Elm, amateur from Detroit. This quartet had scores of 286. Trailing them by a stroke came Denny Shute, Columbus, O., with a 287, while Leo Diegel, P. G. A. champion; Johnny Farrel, runner-up, and three others tied with 288.

Craig Wood of Port Chester, N. J., the defending champion, had a bad 82, eleven over par, for his morning card, after having played consistent par golf. He staged a comeback for even perfect scores on the afternoon eighteen, but this was not sufficient to place him among the money winners.

Smith received $1,000 as the winner's share of the tourney. His previous victories were scored in the Oregon open and the Berkeley, Cal., open.

tutions as the regulars went to the bench because of the five foul rule. Miller, Kennedy, Chadwick, Kellett, and finally Banks left the game.

Al Kellett found the loop for a field goal and with three minutes to go Ely added the final Bruin point on a free throw. During this time Saunders scored one point and Shimek intercepted a Chicago pass to dribble under for two more, the extent of Fort Wayne's offense.

The second game of the series will be played Christmas night. The South Bend five also plays a return game with the Midwest quintet.

GRIFFITH, RISKO ON HOLIDAY CARD AT N. Y. GARDEN

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—The heavyweight herd thunders into Madison Square Garden here on Friday to furnish fistic fans with their outstanding attraction for Christmas week.

Battling in the ten round final of the Garden's Friday night show will be Gerald Ambrose (Tuffy) Griffith of Sioux City, Ia., and Johnny Risko, the bouncing rubber man from Cleveland, O.

Risko has been counted out of the heavyweight picture many times. But the Clevelander has a happy faculty for bouncing back into the limelight just when all hope seems lost. He has battled all the leading heavyweights of the last four or five years, and he has won more often than he has lost.

In Griffith he will be meeting one of the most promising of the younger fighters. The Sioux City lad can punch and box. Griffith is a much improved fighter over the Griffith that was knocked out in two rounds by James J. Braddock here some months ago.

Pair of Chicago Schools Enter Pontiac Tourney

Pontiac, Ill., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Bloom of Chicago Heights and Tilden Tech and Lindblom of Chicago are entered in the fourth annual basketball tournament of the Pontiac High school here Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Sixteen of the outstanding prep teams of the state will compete.

A consolation tournament has been arranged in connection with the major event so that each squad will play at least two games. Southern Illinois will be represented by Olney, Carbondale, and Benton.

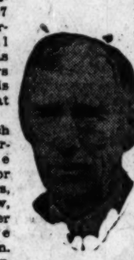
Connie Mack Is 67 Today; Won't Retire

Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Connie Mack, veteran leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, will be 67 years old tomorrow and will spend the day as most of his days are spent—in his tower office at Shibe park.

"I'm not much of a hand for parties," said the dean of major league managers, "and, anyhow, what's another birthday? I've had a lot of them. It will be an ordinary day in my life, but I think Mrs. Mack is planning a little dinner somewhere and perhaps we will got to a theater. That will be the extent of the celebration."



CONNIE MACK.

Mack put an end to speculation definitely today when he said he had no thought of retiring and turning over the managerial reins to a younger man.

"I'm going to retire only when I'm forced to retire," he said. "This is my life—baseball. I'm going to stay in it until I'm physically unable to continue. Most men quit because they can't stand the traveling. I don't mind it and as for the nervous strain, why I like it. It's not as much of a strain as most persons think."

The world's champion Athletics will take the field in 1930 with no changes in the batting lineup, Mack said. His outfield will be unchanged and his infield, with the exception of third, will be the same. Dykes will draw the assignment there as a regular in that position succeeding Sammy Hale, who has been sold to St. Louis.

"I see no reason to change a man," the tall skipper said. "We will start the same as we finished the world series. We have capable players for every position, but the lineup that won the series from the Cubs will take the field in 1930."

BROWNS' SPRING SCHEDULE CALLS FOR 28 GAMES

St. Louis, Mo., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The 1930 pre-season exhibition schedule of the St. Louis Browns, announced last night, will include 28 games, the largest number the club has ever booked for spring training. Only five games, however, will be with major league teams. The Browns will train at West Palm Beach, Fla. The exhibition schedule begins March 14. It includes three games with the Brooklyn Dodgers and two with the St. Louis Cardinals to wind up the training season April 12 and 13.

Tubbs, Superior Teachers' Coach, Will Resign Jan. 31

Superior, Wis., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Irv Tubbs, athletic director and coach of the Superior Teachers' college for the last nine years, today announced his resignation effective at the close of the present school semester, Jan. 31. Tubbs developed many stars, among them Ernie Nevers, Stanford's all-American full back of 1925, and invented a lateless football and basketball.

Columbus Senators Will Train at Lakeland, Fla.

Grid Teams on Coast Start Final Drill for Big Games

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., Dec. 23.—With five elevens scheduled to launch intensive practice tomorrow and a sixth to start for the west on Wednesday, football interest will center on California, where three intersectional games will be decided during the holidays.

The six teams which will engage in these battles are composed of the country's greatest players. After a brief rest following the regular season, these men again are rounding into form and should be ready to display the brand of football which earned them places on honorary elevens.

It will be east against west, and in two of the contests, California elevens should have an advantage. In the other, the battle between two picked teams of eastern and western stars, neither eleven has an advantage, although the eastern outfit, in charge of Dick Hanley of Northwestern and Andy Kerr of Colgate, appears to have stronger reserves.

Interest in Cadet Visit.

The first of the three games will be played Saturday when the Army clashes with Stanford at Palo Alto. This is the first time a West Point eleven ever journeyed across the continent for a football game, and naturally the fans in the northern part of the state are eager to see the eleven.

Although the Army did not win a major game last fall, it is a team of power and speed. The Cadets were defeated by Yale, Illinois, and Notre Dame and were held to a tie by Harvard. They played their best game against Notre Dame, losing 7 to 0. Many who saw this game, including Coach Warner of Stanford, declare the better team lost.

Whether Coach Jones again can inspire his team as he did for Notre Dame is a question. Stanford, one of the four elevens which tied for the Pacific coast conference championship, is a powerful aggregation which displayed its true strength in its decisive victory over California. Coach Warner has a powerful line, experienced backs, and splendid reserves.

Prepare to Stop Cagle.

Capt. Cagle and Murrel are the ball carrying aces of the Army eleven. Warner has a defense which is expected to stop the fleet Cagle, and the veteran coach believes his line will take care of Murrel. Warner and his players are bent on winning, and indications are they will.

Both elevens will settle down to hard work tomorrow. Scrimmage will be held for the next three days. The offense will be polished in these drills and the defense strengthened. The second elevens will use opponents' formations and the first team given instructions to meet them effectively.

Southern California, another eleven tied for the coast conference title, will indulge in scrimmage practice tomorrow on Bovard field for its clash with Pittsburgh, undefeated eastern eleven, in the Rose Bowl here on New Year's day. Since its victory over Carnegie Tech, the Trojans have engaged in two light workouts, but strenuous preparation will start tomorrow.

Trojans Fit for Battle.

Coach Howard Jones announced his entire squad is in perfect condition, and, barring injuries in practice, every player will be available. Jesse Hill, fastest player on the squad, who was injured early in the season, has recovered completely. He will be sent into the fray in the second half when Pitt is expected to tire.

It is doubtful if Pitt can maintain a sustained attack against the Trojans. The Panthers will gain for a time, but when the Jones machine gets into high speed it is one of the strongest I have seen in recent years. Like Stanford, the Trojans are a versatile eleven. On offense, Jones has players who can do anything with a football. Defensively, the players adjust themselves to meet opponent's attacks.

While Pitt has great backs in Uansa and Parkinson, Southern California has at least eight good ball carriers. There is plenty of reserve for the line and substitutions will be made the moment any Trojan fails to carry out his assignments. Jones has evolved plays in which there is plenty of power in advance of the ball carriers who always struggle for that extra yard.

Trojans are Favored.

It should be a great struggle with chances of victory in favor of the Trojans, providing they click as they did in the second half of the Carnegie Tech game. The Panthers are not likely to withstand the line crashing and off tackle driving of the Trojan backs or the end runs of Saunders, Pinckert and Edelson. It may be a close game, but the odds favor Southern California.

Pittsburgh is due to leave home on Wednesday and will arrive here on either Sunday or Monday. Coach Jock Sutherland has planned two workouts in the Rose Bowl.

The game between the eastern and western all-stars to be played at San Francisco New Year's day is arousing interest in the northern part of the state. All profits of the game will go to the Shriners' hospital fund.

Army Arrives Late

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal., Dec. 22.—[A. P.]—Bearing some 150 football players, coaches, and cadets, the West Point special train tonight was speeding northward from Los Angeles to Palo Alto, where it was expected to arrive shortly before midnight, about nine hours behind schedule.

The late arrival of the cadets made it necessary for Palo Alto city officials to cancel plans for a reception at the station, and instead the army men will be taken from the train to Branner hall on the campus. They will occupy Branner hall until next Saturday, when the West Pointers, headed by Capt. Red Cagle, face the Stanford varsity here.

SCHMELING BOUT AT ATLANTIC CITY IS POSTPONED

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight contender, will fight an opponent yet unnamed at the Atlantic City auditorium March 29, instead of Feb. 22, as previously announced. Jack Sharkey may be Schmeling's opponent. These statements were given out today by Herman Taylor, one of the promoters.

The postponement was made at the cabled request of Schmeling, who wanted more time to rest an injured ankle and get himself in perfect condition.

9 GAMES LISTED FOR WESLEYAN'S DIAMOND TEAM

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Nine games make up the baseball schedule of Illinois Wesleyan university, completed by Coach Ned Whitesell. There is a possibility, however, that one or two additional games will be booked later in the winter. The list follows:

April 19—Wheaton at Bloomington. April 26—Bradley at Bloomington. May 2—Millikin at Bloomington. May 6—Wesleyan with Bradley at Peoria. May 10—Wesleyan with St. Viator at Kankakee. May 16—Wesleyan with Millikin at Decatur. May 17—Wesleyan with Eastern Illinois university at Charleston. May 23—St. Viator at Bloomington. May 29—Millikin at Bloomington.

Chaca Wins 26 Mile Marathon in California

Valejo, Cal., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Harry Chaca of the Los Angeles Athletic club won the pre-Olympic national marathon today over a 26.2 mile course from Fairfield to Valejo. Chaca's time was 2 hours 41 minutes 25 seconds. He trailed in tenth and eleventh position until the last five miles when he spurted to the lead.

Florida Fight on Horse Races Shifts South

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The battle for horse racing in Florida shifted from the northern section of the state to the southern part tonight with the definite announcement that Keeney Park near here, would not be opened again all season.

All hopes that the Florida Jockey club would lease its racing plant to New York and other capitalists for the remainder of the season, following upon its sudden closing Friday, were dashed last night with announcement by W. E. Ford, manager of the park, that the colts would not run again there this year.

Pompano Opens Christmas.

Ford had been in touch with Frank A. Keeney, majority stock holder of the club, who disappeared immediately after closing down the racing plant. Keeney, he said, repeated his statement of Friday that insofar as his park was concerned the racing season in Florida was off.

But in the meantime, operators of tracks at Pompano and Hialeah, on the lower east coast, went ahead with their plans for their meets. The Pompano track near Fort Lauderdale, is scheduled to open Christmas day, despite threats of Fred O. Eberhardt, publisher of the Tallahassee State News, to close all tracks in the state by injunction.

"Corporation Betting O. K.'d."

The Miami Jockey club which holds an annual meet at its Hialeah plant was equally emphatic that its regular season would start early in the new year.

The dogs also are scheduled to run again in Florida. The St. Petersburg Kennel club plans to open its winter season on Jan. 1.

The "corporation" plan of operation will be in force at this track as well as at Pompano. This system of operation was recently ruled within the bounds of Florida law by Attorney General Fred Davis. The St. Petersburg meeting is scheduled to last for 75 days.

A large number of racing dogs already are at St. Petersburg. More greyhounds are expected before the opening.

INGRAM WINDS UP POST-SEASON DRILL FOR NAVY

Annapolis, Md., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Post-season football practice at the naval academy has ended, and Head Coach Bill Ingram has left for his home in Jeffersonville, Ind. The practice after the regular season has been only a moderate success, according to Ingram, and it is unlikely that it will take the place of spring practice, though the work at the latter season may be shortened.

It has been found that many of the players wanted by the coaches found it necessary to brace up their scholastic work and others were not in the best physical condition for extra work.

HUSKER CAGERS START EASTERN TOUR THIS WEEK

Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 22.—(AP)—The first week of the Big Six 1929 basketball season became history last night when Kansas won an exhibition contest from Missouri, 17 to 12, here. It was the ninth Big Six game of the week, but none affected the standings.

Only two teams will see action this week. Nebraska plays St. Louis at St. Louis Saturday, starting its season and an eastern jaunt that includes games with West Virginia, Butler and Pittsburgh. The same night Iowa State engages Central college at Pella, Ia.

Peoria Manual Bids Adieu to Retiring Grid Coach

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Harvey Benson has been elected captain of the 1930 football team of Peoria Manual High school. A farewell was arranged for Coach Wilford, who has resigned, and his successor, Telfer Mead, was welcomed.

ILLINOIS MEETS STRONG DEPAUW QUINTET TONIGHT

5 Veterans Hold Victory Over Indiana U.

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—Illinois' young basketball players expect a lively and probably an uphill battle with De Pauw here tomorrow night, for the Tigers have five veterans who have defeated Indiana this season. Lindblom and Englewood of Chicago are among the 300 state high school basketball squads which have accepted the invitation of the Illini to be guests at the game. With favorable traveling conditions, it is expected that 4,000 prep athletes will attend.

May at Center.

Although the Illini were encouraged by their victory over Washington, it is realized they have a long way to go and that De Pauw's veterans are likely to prove too experienced. "Horse" May, Ruby's center, seems to have improved considerably, but Mountz, De Pauw's center, is as tall and May will have difficulty controlling the tipoff.

Eddie Kawal, football center, is developing, but must improve his ball handling. Against Earlham, De Pauw made 40 per cent of its shots. Moffet and Ragsdale made uncanny basket. Illini scouts reported.

Harper Temporary Leader.

Bur Harper, forward, whose shooting against Washington was sensational, has been chosen by Coach Ruby as temporary captain during the absence of Doug Mills. Mills probably will go home to Elgin this week, but hardly will be ready for competition in January. The Illini basketball squad will hurry home immediately after the De Pauw game, but 20 players will return Saturday for drill of five days before they travel to Butler Jan. 7.

The conference season will open here Jan. 6 against Ohio State.

Cold Wave Kills Starlings in Midwest

BY BOB BECKER.

The European starlings which have worked their way westward from the Atlantic coast and now are nesting in the central states have suffered numerous casualties from the recent cold waves, according to reports from Indiana during the last week. C. W. Heinserling of Garrett shipped an "unknown" bird a few days ago which in his letter he said the bird fans of Garrett were unable to identify. It was a starling and had been found half dead on a highway.

E. F. Steinhauer of Vandalia reported five starlings frozen to death. Mr. Steinhauer writes: "The public in general knows but very little about the starling. It begins to look as if they were going to become as plentiful as the English sparrow, another importation from England. Such being the case, can you give us the good and bad points regarding the starling?"

This bird is increasing its numbers in the middle west. It's gradually working westward from the east coast where in some localities it is nothing more than a pest. According to the ornithologists who have been studying its food habits, this foreign bird, brought in from Europe some years ago, has both good and bad points, as far as its economic relation to agriculture is concerned. The biological survey points out:

"Bird lovers, lamenting conflicts between the starling and native birds (the former picks on blue birds, martins, flickers, and wrens), seldom consider the relative value of the starling and some of its breeding competitors on economic grounds. In this respect the starling is superior to the robin, flicker, or the English sparrow, and it has food habits fully as favorable as the house wren, which in recent years has been shown to be a pest despoiler."

CUDAHY SEES GOOD YEAR FOR MEAT PACKING

Firm's 1929 Profits Off Slightly.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The American meat packing industry has had a fairly satisfactory year on the whole, according to the views expressed by E. A. Cudahy, chairman of the Cudahy Packing company, who issued his annual report last night. The report shows that the business of the company was slightly larger but profits were slightly smaller than in 1928.

"The affairs of the company are in good shape and show quite a marked improvement for the year, although our profits are somewhat below our hopes," Mr. Cudahy says. "Demand for our products was well sustained throughout the year, our sales showing a gain over the preceding year, but the margin between cost and market prices was unusually narrow on account of the prevailing high prices for live stock.

"It would appear that as a marketing agent we have rendered valuable service to the farmer during the past year and it is to be hoped that this service will encourage and result in the increased production of live stock.

Expect No Decline.

"I do not apprehend any falling off in our business as the result of the recent drastic decline in security prices. There is certainly no evidence of it yet. But even assuming that the effect of this decline on industrial activity is more serious than now appears probable, it should be borne in mind that our profits are not dependent on general prosperity."

Sales for the fiscal year ended Nov. 1 were $287,960,000, compared with $311,150,000 in the preceding year. Net profit, after all charges, was $2,512,-, equivalent after preferred dividends to $4.13 a share on 467,489 shares of $50 par value common stock. After paying dividends, surplus was increased by $106,858, bringing this item up to $16,473,098. Net profit for 1928 was $2,567,327, equivalent to $4.68 a share on 414,990 common shares, and surplus after dividends was $388,832. The common stock outstanding was increased last January by an offering of 10 per cent in new stock to stockholders.

Balance Sheet Changes.

The chief items in the current balance sheet show the following changes, compared with a year ago: Current assets, $45,176,727, decrease $3,959,825; investments, $631,566, decrease $272,-; fixed assets, $36,117,418, increase, $1,277,841; bond and note interests, $69,178, decrease $40,522; current liabilities, $16,571,827, decrease $4,507,-; sinking fund, $12,600,000, decrease $60,000; first mortgage bonds, $7,991,-, decrease $320,000; capital stock, $21,824,350, increase $2,124,950; total assets and liabilities, $79,660,885, decrease $3,990,562.

English Cotton Group Moves to Regain Lead

[Copyright: 1929: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Dec. 22.—A desperate effort to regain supremacy in the cotton industry, which may reflect heavily on American export trade, will take place at the beginning of the new year when the Lancashire Cotton corporation increases its capitalization to $10,000,000 by issues of income debentures of the value of $7,500,000.

The organization was formed early this year with the backing of the Bank of England in an attempt to consolidate the industry and eliminate many of the wasteful factors and competition. It already includes seventy-one companies controlling 6,750,000 spindles and 20,000 looms, while forty-five other companies are negotiating for entrance into the association. As the total English spindles are 56,000,000, the combine includes one-eighth of the entire industry. The present increased capitalization marks the organization's determination to make a practical monopoly of the English cotton industry.

Aid Reorganizations.

The corporation is assisting in the reorganization of old plants, supplanting old fashioned machinery by up-to-date equipment and entirely revising the demoded methods of manufacture, distribution, and marketing. Offices have been opened in Liverpool and Manchester, where raw cotton is purchased in bulk, the members of the corporation thus getting the benefit of the cheaper price possible by mass buying, while the various grades and qualities of cotton best suited to handle each type are allotted by the central organization mills.

The middlemen, between the makers of yarn and the spinners, who generally belong to separate concerns in England, yarn being sold to the merchant, who in turn resells to the spinner, is entirely eliminated, the corporation handling sales of this kind through a central selling department, while the same economy is effected in selling cloth to the finishers. The corporation hopes to cut out all the middleman's profits in every stage, from the buying of raw cotton through the manufacture, transport, and final sale.

To Eliminate Waste.

The waste in manufacture and transport will be cut out, with orders being taken by the central organization and distributed where it can be handled most economically. An interesting development will be the selection of certain standard types of cloth and concentration of their production.

Corporate Trust Shares Holders Given Rights

In addition to a regular semi-annual dividend of 35 cents per share and an extra cash dividend of approximately 46 cents, holders of Corporate Trust Shares will receive on Dec. 31, 1929, rights entitling them to subscribe to additional shares at 5 per cent under the market price, it was announced by the American Depositor corporation of New York, sponsors of Corporate Trust Shares. Directors of Inland Investors, Inc., have declared an extra of 15 cents.

HOLDING GROUP ACQUIRES STOCK OF OIL CONCERNS

Oil City, Pa., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Merger of the Empire Oil Works company, with plants here and at Tidioute, and the Wolverine Lubricants company of New York was announced today.

A holding concern known as the Wolverine-Empire Refining company has been formed and already owns all stock of the Wolverine Lubricants company and nearly ninety per cent of the Empire Oil Works.

E. W. Chase, Oil City, is chairman of the board of the new firm; C. H. Ellingwood, New York, president; F. W. Baer, New York, treasurer; A. W. Scott, Oil City, secretary, and F. S. Smith, New York, assistant treasurer. Headquarters of the company will be in New York.

Expansion of the Empire Oil plants will be undertaken at once, it was said. The Wolverine Lubricants company distributes motor oil along the eastern sea coast.

Caterpillar Tractor Co. to Increase Working Force

The Caterpillar Tractor company will add two to three thousand men to its force in Peoria within the next ninety days, according to word received yesterday from President R. C. Force by the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The additional men will be employed upon completion of the expansion work on the company's plants. A general price reduction ranging from $100 to $500 per unit on the company's products was also announced.

Report Mellon Group to Merge Gas Companies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—The Koppers-Mellon interests of Pittsburgh are reported to be projecting an increase of their holdings in the Brooklyn Union Gas company and a consolidation of this company with the Brooklyn Borough Gas company, which is practically entirely owned by the group.

Industry Dips for Fifth Time in November

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Industrial production declined in November for the fifth consecutive month and dipped below the level of last year, but the federal reserve board in making this known today through its monthly bulletin said that the decline in employment had been less than that in the volume of production.

Retail sales at department stores, the review said, continued at a larger volume than a year ago but wholesale commodity prices moved downward in November and the first half of December. Production in basic industries declined by 9 per cent in November and was 5 per cent lower than a year ago.

Decline Began Early.

"The decline in production, which began in midsummer," the bulletin continued, "was restricted prior to November largely to industries in which the expansion during the earlier part of the year had been exceedingly rapid, particularly iron and steel, automobiles and related industries. The same industries showed the largest reductions in November, but there were declines also in the copper, cotton and wool textiles, and shoe industries, and, in smaller degree, in silk textiles and coal. Production of crude petroleum was also curtailed. Volume of building contracts awarded during the month continued to be considerably smaller than in the corresponding period of 1928.

"Employment in factories was also reduced during November to a level slightly below a year ago and there was a somewhat larger decrease in factory pay rolls. The decline in employment since midsummer, however, has been relatively smaller than that in the physical volume of production."

Report on Credit.

The board reported that liquidation of bank credit, which had begun in November, continued throughout that month and the first two weeks of December when total loans and investments of reporting member banks were at about the same level as on Oct. 23, prior to the increase caused by the withdrawal of funds by non-banking lenders.

The board found that the number of banks operating branches decreased by 17 in the fiscal year ending last June 30 but the number of branches in operation increased 210 to a total of 2,446. Of the number of branches, one-half were in New York, California, and Michigan.

In California, where branch banking is permitted under state law, the number of branches was 861, in Michigan 61 banks out of a total of 742 were operating 455 branches, while in New York 106 banks out of a total of 1,141 were operating 682 branches.

First National Corp., Old Colony Merger Effective

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—The merger of the Third National corporation of Boston and Old Colony corporation as the Third National Old Colony corporation becomes effective tomorrow. It creates an international investment banking organization and forms one of the largest corporations of its kind in the United States with widespread and diversified activities.

'Best Minds' Ponder Methods for Regulating Utilities

BY SCRUTATOR.

How we shall regulate our electric utilities in future is a question that is agitating some of the best minds in congress, in the utility business and among those who naturally like to complain about what the second group is doing.

The only vocal complaint against state regulation of electric supply comes from those who want to see the governments of one sort or another go further and operate the utilities themselves. Utility companies, with reservations, approve the proposition that each state should see to it that its people are given fair rates for service and the stockholders of the companies allowed to make a reasonable return on their investments.

This belief in the advisability of regulation, however, has its limitations. It is difficult to find any indications that control over holding companies or financial organizations not directly engaged in production is admitted necessary by the big men in the industry, or even advisable. The boiled down statement of the position is that the generating and distributing facilities are all that directly concern the public and that these alone should be regulated.

Favors Reconstruction.

There is and has been something of a movement toward the establishment of a national commission that would have jurisdiction over electric power that crosses state lines.

President Hoover, in his latest message to congress, asserted that the federal power commission should be reconstructed and that three full time commissioners should take the places of three cabinet officers who now compose the body. Moreover, he said, this organization should be allowed authority to handle regulatory matters when the states disagreed or failed to take action in interstate matters.

The President stated that only 10 per cent of the power generated in the United States crosses a state line in distribution. The National Electric Light association has furnished the detailed figures on this. They find that the percentage crossing state borders on its way to consumers is 10.73.

Two-thirds of this, it was found, or 6.62 per cent of the whole, was generated in one state and distributed in another by the same company. The remaining 4.11 per cent is generated in one state and sold to another company for distribution in another state.

Real Point at Issue.

It is possible that sometime in the future the electric utilities may be regulated from Washington in the same manner that the railroads are. Railroad security issues are as much subject to control as the manner of operation. It is, of course, a long jump from the present situation to a Washington oversight of all utility matters, and one for which there appears little necessity.

The real point at issue is whether the financial affairs of companies holding stocks and bonds of operating utilities should be goldfished as railroad companies have been. With large holding companies spreading over many states, it is obvious that regulation of them, if found necessary, would have to be under federal auspices.

WATCH MARKET FOR INKLING OF FUTURE'S GIFTS

But Christmas Is a Poor Index.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—It is an old Wall street tradition that Christmas week should be a season of good cheer, not only in the social intercourse of individuals, but in business affairs and on the stock market.

Perhaps the "Christmas trade" itself brightened the outlook of merchants and manufacturers; yet it is also true that, in four of the last five years, the highest stock exchange prices of the twelve months have been reached in the last weeks of December.

No doubt, preparation for the new year's "reinvestment demand" had much to do with this; expectation of easy money in the January Wall street market possibly had more. It used even to be asserted that declaration by the railways of their January dividends, which were announced around Christmas week, provided the basis for financial exhilaration.

EXPECT U. S. TO SUPPORT WHEAT MARKET HERE

Cash Interests Willing to Meet Price.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Maintenance of wheat prices around the level of $1.18 for No. 1 hard in Chicago is to be continued by the government, it is understood. Cash interests are also willing to pay government price to 1c over for country run grain, but it is not believed that either will get much.

There are millions of bushels of elevator wheat to be had at Chicago and Missouri river markets, but this is not wanted at present. It is intimated that the trade is likely to have the same experience off and on as they did Saturday after a big break, when the market becomes oversold. It makes for a good trading market for big interests to swing immense lines, selling on bulges and buying on breaks, also through sales in the privilege market which creates a bad market for the small operators.

For some time to come, it is believed, there will be nervous markets with sharp fluctuations.

The wheat market in the United States is in a position where foreigners can have 160,000,000 bu in the next six to seven months if desired, and there are a few operators who believe that they will take that quantity by Aug. 1, 1930. Others, however, assert that if 60,000,000 bu are taken it will be rather a surprise. There are operators who predict that wheat will sell very much higher, while others who base their opinion on the big supplies, do not believe that more than 40,000,000 to 60,000,000 bu will be exported between now and July 1. Disposition of the trade is to sell on all bulges. New York interests were credited with selling heavily throughout the week and buying during the 5c bulge on Saturday which came as a result of the government's offer to buy cash wheat at the loan basis, $1.18 in Chicago. On the bulge they were willing to accept profits.

Foreign Markets Turn Upward.

Foreign markets have shown rather surprising strength, Argentina and Australian crop news is more bullish, quality and weight of the Argentina crop being poor, which should increase the demand for good wheat, especially with the protein content in the Argentina grain lower than last year.

Supplies of wheat back in the country are larger than last season owing to farmers' taking the government's advice to hold for higher prices. In the northwest where more than 60 per cent is usually marketed by farmers by Jan. 1 there is said to be greater quantities of wheat still back in the country as the regular ratio of marketing has not prevailed. The situation in Canada is somewhat similar to that in the United States, ample supplies being in the show windows.

An increase of 11,000,000 bu in the final government report over previous figures, also an enlargement of 870,000 acres in winter wheat, suggesting a prospective yield of about 575,000,000 bu on an average basis, presents a prospect of almost the same as the harvest of 578,000,000 bu this season and was taken by the trade as bearish.

Open interest in wheat is 187,290,000 bu against 187,670,000 bu last week. In December there is 3,934,000 bu, against 4,638,000 bu the previous week, representing mostly hedges and spread. The interest in May is 152,730,000 bu, against 154,289,000 bu last year.

December wheat closed at $1.21¼; March, $1.27⅛@1.27¼; May, $1.30⅝@1.30⅝; July, $1.31⅝@1.31⅝; net gains for the week being 1⅝@3¼c, after a range of 7@8c for the week.

Shortage of Feeds.

Corn traders who are bullish are buying on all breaks, basing their opinion on an immense shortage in feedstuffs and light marketing with increased farm consumption as a result of cold weather and heavy snows over a large part of the corn belt. The government report was about as expected, 2,622,000,000 bu, a shortage of 196,000,000 bu from last year. In the eleven states there are 1,876,000,000 bu against 2,117,000,000 bu last year, or 296,000,000 bu less.

Stocks in all markets are light, and consumers are taking the small arrivals so that accumulations are limited.

LARD AT SEASON'S LOW

Lard prices are at the lowest of the season for nearby deliveries and the market is said to be well liquidated. Packers are buying the near futures and selling the distant. Prospects are for a better run of hogs this week, many having been held back recently by storms. Lard stocks are decreasing as consumption is said to be a good average. Cash trade in meats is fair with shipments in excess of last year.

At the close lard was 12½@30c lower for the week and materially under last year's, while bellies were off 12½@17½c. Prices follow:

Interstate Hosiery Mills.

G. V. S.: Interstate Hosiery Mills, Inc., was formed early in 1929 and acquired the total outstanding stock of Brilliant Silk Hosiery company, Lansdale Silk Hosiery company, and Finery Silk Stocking Company, Inc. These companies had been in profitable operation since 1923 in the manufacture and sale of women's full fashioned silk hosiery.

The consolidation of these three mills resulted in the formation of a company equipped to serve the trade with a wide variety of merchandise distributed through various channels.

Consolidated net profits for the four years ended Dec. 31, 1928, adjusted for nonrecurring charges, and after provision for federal income taxes at present rates, were as follows: 1925, $257,544; 1926, $310,087; 1927, $438,029; 1928, $386,247.

As of Dec. 31, 1928, the adjusted balance sheet showed current assets of $1,475,804, and current liabilities of $543,272.

A decline in the 1928 earnings in the Brilliant mill was sustained, due to sale of inventory incidental to consolidation.

The new company was capitalized at 250,000 shares of no par capital stock, of which 110,000 shares were to be outstanding. It was stated that there would be no funded debt or preferred stock.

Shares of capital stock were offered at $30 per share in March, 1929. Later the stock was admitted to listing on the New York curb.

Earnings for the first quarter of 1929 were $1,270,113, compared with $908,278 for the first quarter of 1928, a gain of approximately 40 per cent.

Sales for the eight months ended Sept. 1, 1929, were $2,852,933, compared with $2,461,333 in the first eight or 15.9 per cent.

Dividends are at the annual rate of $1.80 per share.

Copenhagen, Denmark.

H. B. H.: City of Copenhagen, Denmark, $15,000,000 5 per cent bonds, dated June 1, 1927, and due June 1, 1952, are the direct obligation of the city of Copenhagen, which agrees that in the event it shall create or guarantee any loan or bonds secured by lien on any of its revenues or assets months of 1928, an increase of $391,600 or assign any of its revenues or assets as security for any guaranty of any obligation, this issue of bonds will be secured equally and ratably therewith.

These bonds are subject to call on July 1, 1937, or on any interest date thereafter at par on sixty days' notice. They are listed on the New York stock exchange.

They are regarded as a sound investment.

Seiberling Rubber.

H. L. B.: Seiberling Rubber company and subsidiaries reported net income of $132,207 for the year ended Oct. 1, 1929. This compares with $511,968 in the preceding year.

Directors have omitted declaration of the dividend on the no par common stock. The last previous dividend was $1 paid Dec. 15, 1928. The company has stated that the common dividend omission was due to the fact that no appreciable earnings existed for the common stock. It was stated that earnings were sufficient to cover preferred dividends, which are $8 per year.

The preferred stock is medium grade. The common is speculative.

New Mart to Aid Chicago as Trade Center

BY HOWARD CARSWELL.

The opening of the Merchandise mart about May 1 is expected to signalize a newly achieved eminence of Chicago as the central wholesale market of the continent.

Manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers and resident buyers anticipate that this event will emphasize this city's strategic location not only as the transportation center but also as the largest wholesale market nearest the geographic and population center of the nation.

The success of the American Furniture mart has established Chicago as the central market for furniture buyers from all parts of the world. The new enterprise, it is said, should entrench this city still further as a market leader.

Where New York formerly was predominant, Chicago has progressed in rapid strides during the last seven years. One indication of this growth is seen in the number of resident buying offices now located here, with more expected after the opening of the gigantic merchandise building now being built. Many manufacturers whose lines have not heretofore been displayed in the Chicago market will represent their goods in Chicago.

The newer aspect of mergers and chain store developments will react to Chicago's advantage, in the opinion of J. C. Sherman, a resident buyer. The competition of this "big business" will compel middle western merchants to concentrate their buying in this city because of its proximity and the savings effected in buyers' time, expenses and freight and express charges.

In Chicago the middle west merchant gets his newly purchased merchandise on the freight or express loading platform on the same day as the purchase. These goods are received at his store the following day, allowing the display of newer and fresher items to the local retail trade.

CONSTRUCTION BUDGET OF N. Y. EDISON GROUP EXCEEDS 76 MILLIONS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—A budget of $76,848,053 for construction purposes has been approved by the New York Edison company and Associated Electric Light and Power companies serving Manhattan, Bronx, Queens, Brooklyn and Yonkers, according to an announcement by Matthew S. Sloan, president of these companies.

This budget, about $3,000,000 less than the amount spent in 1929, will be expended during 1930, the major part of it going into extensions and improvements in the transmission and distribution lines of the companies. The budget covers both supplies and labor for the construction work, and wages represent a substantial portion of the total.

The principal items included in the budget are transmission and distribution, $50,250,930; generating stations, $20,581,095; sub stations, $1,204,008; buildings and yards, $2,458,000 and miscellaneous, $2,354,000, of which transportation equipment will take $1,000,000.

CARRY ON WITH THE TRIBUNE!

Winter nerves---does your wife get them?

Open the door that winter locks on women. Don't make a four months' prisoner of your wife. Confined within doors by bitter weather and dangerous footing, her daily round of household duties grows deadly in monotony. Loneliness develops into winter nerves.

Let your wife have a chance to get about in winter! Keep her happy. Save her the discomfort of wading through drifts and puddles. When you drive off in the morning in the family car, put a second warm, comfortable one at her disposal. You can pick one up at small cost by checking through Tribune Want Ads. Chicago's best used values are advertised there. Hundreds of serviceable cars attractively priced are advertised daily. You can readily find the model which you would like to have, advertised by a reliable firm on convenient terms.

Turn to the Want Ad Section now and choose the car that will keep your wife independent of weather this winter.

REPORT RETAIL TRADE STRIKES HOLIDAY STRIDE

Conditions Satisfactory, Merchants Say.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—Retail trade, naturally, is the most interesting and lively commercial department at this season. From present indications the dollar volume of what may be termed holiday sales will compare favorably with that of a year ago.

In some sections Christmas buying is ahead of last year's, but in all parts of the United States retail trade livened up measurably last week, and it is generally described by merchants as satisfactory.

Weather conditions duging the early part of the week were unfavorable, retarding normal trade, but in the latter part declining temperatures stimulated retail business generally. Wholesale lines and industry generally, however, are slower, which is not an unusual development at this time of year.

Reports by telegraph from the federal reserve districts indicate spotty conditions throughout the country. Blizzards throughout the west retarded activity during most of last week. Boston reported a moderate recession in business generally, and similar reports came from the Chicago district. Business on the west coast, from these reports, is relatively more active at the moment than in the east. The cotton belt reflects the further declines which have taken place in the price of that staple. Bank clearings have risen further at Kansas City.

Throughout the United States a moderate recession appears to be under way. This is tempered by the fact that this is the normal time for taking inventories and that it is not at all unusual for a recession to develop at the year-end, especially in view of the activity of last summer in most lines.

SYNOPSIS.

John Andrew Kellogg, heir to millions, asks Barbara Thornton to marry him. She agrees but not very graciously. When she hears that he has just lost his job she scolds him and calls him a playboy. He calls on his attorney, David Craig, who tells him that he will never inherit the money his father left if he doesn't prove himself capable of managing his life in a sensible way. He tells him that since he has lost one job after another he will have to double five thousand dollars in thirty days or live on an income from a trust fund for the rest of his life. John Andrew telephones this to Barbara and she offers to give him five thousand to turn over to Craig. He refuses and tells her he is going out to Hollywood. She is furious with him and breaks the engagement. He decides to go to San Francisco and starts for California. On the train he meets Anne Abbe who is on her way to Hollywood with a letter of introduction to a movie producer. They become interested in each other. Before saying good-by in Utah, John Andrew tells Anne that he will see her in Los Angeles in a few days.

Around in San Francisco, John Andrew meets an old school friend, Peter Merriam, on the street. Pete is selling Mercury cars and tries to sell one to John Andrew. They go for a trial spin and with John Andrew at the wheel have a slight smash up.

INSTALLMENT XIII.

A FIVE THOUSAND INVESTMENT.

The interior of the columned palace was very brightly lighted; the assistant manager came forward to meet them.

"Are you satisfied now, sir?" he asked Kellogg.

"Um," John Andrew said. "Fast car, but I've seen better brakes."

"Our brakes, sir, will stop the car almost within its own length."

"Didn't tonight," John Andrew said. "You see, we were coming along that boulevard near the ocean, and——"

"Mr. Kellogg was driving," Merriam said, in a dull, weary voice which hurt John Andrew. Cheery old Pete, who was once one of the happiest.

"I was driving," John Andrew admitted. "And I'll gladly pay for any necessary repairs. Just a smashed fender; as a matter of fact the accident was unavoidable. It might have happened to any one. We——"

"Hal, I take it, been drinking?"

John Andrew waved this away: "A cocktail or so; nothing much. In about a month, I'll seriously consider a Mercury."

Ellingerson's face was a puzzle; he was still suaveness itself, save for the one remark; his eye, now, was traveling over Kellogg's train rumpled suit.

"You're just from the east?" he asked. "At which hotel are you stopping?"

John Andrew misinterpreted. He said, "Don't send Merriam down to give me any further demonstrations; when I'm ready to buy I'll get in touch with him."

"It might be better if—if you call, that you get in touch with me; Mr. Merriam may not be with us." Real doubt was in his voice now; not about Merriam, and John Andrew understood that Pete was shortly to be beheaded, but about John Andrew himself. "May I be frank with you, Mr. Kellogg?" Anderson went on. "I'm not blaming you at all; it was a good scheme. Merriam knew we were about through with him. He brings you in as a prospect, and we keep him on thirty days more, until we discover that you aren't going to buy a car from us. A good scheme, and it almost caught me.

'Look into it when I have time," he said. "Is it a perpetual motion machine? No? Thank heaven for that."

There aren't any hard feelings about it, but—a forty-nine hundred and eighty dollar custom built prospect should have sent his clothes to the tailor sooner."

"You just think I'm pulling a bluff, eh?" John Andrew laughed. "I've been accused of that before—once. Well, let it go; think whatever you will. How much will it cost to fix that fender?"

"That comes out of Merriam's commissions for the month."

John Andrew glanced at his friend; old Pete, with a wife and youngsters and rent to pay and the fibrous remainder of scraped round steak for dinner. He saw, and recognized misery, but his lips closed tightly, and all he said was, "Don't do that; it's really on me. I've a deal on which——"

"Ah—those deals!"

Kellogg laughed raefully, but said, "Why not take a chance on it? Keep Merriam on for a month; after that, whether the deal goes through or not, I'll buy your car."

"Why not now, then, if you're determined to have a Mercury?"

"Can't explain," John Andrew snapped.

It wasn't his pride, exactly, which was being hurt; it wasn't entirely the morbid appearance of Merriam. All of John Andrew's life was rising in protest to a situation entirely different to any he had ever been in.

John Andrew said in a cold voice, "I'll take the car just as soon as you put on a new fender and tighten the brakes." And would have given anything to get the words back; he hadn't actually spoken. Something had forced him to speak, had put the words where they slid out of his mouth.

Indecision spread subtly over the assistant manager's face, and as he watched Kellogg fill out a check he said, "On New York, eh?"

"Right," John Andrew agreed. "And you can wire the bank in the morning. Have the car at the Pacific as soon as you've fixed the fender and found out the check's good."

He didn't want either gratitude or explanations from Merriam; he didn't want to think about what he'd done.

Whatever John Andrew thought in the cab, as he was driven to the hotel, was so jumbled, so bitterly accusing, and yet at the same time curiously satisfying, that he was still confused as he went to the desk for his key. The room clerk told him that a man was waiting for him; the elderly man sitting over by the tubbed palms. John Andrew, still in a cold sort of daze, obeyed as if the clerk's words had been an order, and asked automatically: "You wanted me?"

"You're Mr. Kellogg, sir? You had an advertisement in tomorrow's paper—that is, you will have one in when it comes out?"

"Tomorrow?" John Andrew asked; then, wearily, "I suppose I will." Blankly, he added, "Why?"

"I—I came here, sir, intruding—I was told—a friend of my daughter told me—you see——"

"I don't see anything," Kellogg snapped. "I don't want to see anything. I'm blind as a bat." Glancing as if for the first time at the old man, he went a more gently. "Excuse me—what is it you want?"

John Andrew stopped him with a gesture; he needed no figuring to realize that $4,980 from $5,000 left him in his New York account—the money which was to be doubled within thirty days. "I'm afraid I'm not interested in inventions now," he said. He did not lie, and said, "I can't give you the money, no matter how good it is."

The old man stood up. "I'm sorry, too," he said, "The materials are costly, but only a couple of hundred more—I've got all the plans, and the machine is almost completed—perhaps a couple of hundred—I wouldn't really need several thousand dollars, sir—but if you can't, you can't."

"That's very good sense," said John Andrew. He found himself gazing at the old man's stained fingers; a darker color than the latakia brought by excessive cigarets.

What could be done with a couple of hundred? Make it grow twenty-fold, and become ten thousand? Why not be the complete fool?

"Did you ever read Little Black Sambo?" John Andrew asked, less mirthfully than he felt. His shabbily dressed companion shook his head. "'Why, said the tiger,' said the tiger," quoted John Andrew, as closely as he could.

"Will what, sir?"

John Andrew beckoned to a boy, and asked for several sheets of hotel stationery. "This is going to make my fortune, isn't it?" he said. "I knew it. I could let you have three hundred. That help any?"

In amazement the old man said, "I might be able to have the machine in working order for that. I've already submitted the plans, but I haven't heard about them yet. You—you're going to——"

"I don't know how to do it legally," John Andrew said. "We'll have to trust each other about that. We'll just write that—what's your name?—that William Blake and J. A. Kellogg, in consideration of the sum of $300 furnished by Kellogg to Blake, are to share equally in all profits accruing from the invention of Blake." How's that?"

"If I need a little more cash to get the machine ready——"

"We'll write that in, also: 'and J. A. Kellogg further agrees to furnish additional capital if necessary to complete said machine, up to'—say a thousand—'one thousand dollars.'" He signed his name, and handed the agreement to Blake.

"I haven't told you what my apparatus is designed for," the old man said, signing also, and taking the bills Kellogg gave him. "I've brought the plans, and——"

John Andrew took the sheets which Blake offered him, and stuffed them into his coat pocket. "Look into it when I have time," he said. "Is it a perpetual motion machine? No? Thank heaven for that."

The old man stood, and said timidly, "My daughter laughs at me for being useless, sir, but—you're putting your good money into this; don't you want me to explain how my machine will work?"

John Andrew was very tired of everything, and said shortly, "I'll get it from the plans."

"What will I do when the machine is ready, sir? Send it here? Or——"

"I'll be at ——," he named a Los Angeles hotel; "you let me know when it's done. Then——"

The old man's eyes drew together, and a curious expression, of mingled anxiety, fear, and hope, came into them: "You knew what it is!" he said.

"I knew it isn't a perpetual motion machine," John Andrew said wearily; "and perhaps it will turn out to be one after all. It's getting late; run along before you get your feet wet."

By Mae Tinee.

Good morning!

If you are an admirer of Belle Baker you will like this picture. She is practically ever present in it and sings numerous songs in her accustomed fashion. If you don't care for her—I do not—you still will admit that she acts and sings with sincerity, and you will get a good deal out of the film because of the presence of little David Durand, who, you will remember, played with Maurice Chevalier in "Innocents of Paris." Ralph Graves completes the trio of principals satisfactorily and Arthur Housman and Eunice Quedens are present as effectively as the vehicle permits.

The picture is far too long for its story which lacks the backbone of originality. It tells of a vaudeville trio: father, mother, and little son, known as "The Three Gibsons," whose act is dispated because of the mother's determination to give her boy a normal childhood and home. The father, a good natured sap, falls for the lures of the cold, calculating blonde who is his new partner in the act. He and his loving wife separate, she to maintain herself and "Buddy" by phenomenally successful singing in a night club and, later a headliner vaudeville act, he to know failure, loneliness and despair until the last reel, when guess what happens!

David Durand is a darling with his sensitive little face and grownup manners. Photography, synchronization and staging are good. Direction would have been better if snappier.

See you tomorrow!

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question E. Folley, 50 East Monroe street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

The Answers.

Stanley L. Bonczek, 2103 North Hoyne avenue, salesman.—New Year's eve, every time. That's the one big night that every one can go out and celebrate, decorate, and what not. It's the one night of the year when every person is on speaking terms with every other person. Dine and dance, that's my usual way.

Mrs. Rose Hellbronner, 4459 North Monticello avenue, housewife. — Christmas eve. We have a darling little child and I take the greatest enjoyment imaginable in preparing for her Christmas. There are presents to be bought, the Christmas tree to be looked after, and so on. And that's only one reason why I like Christmas eve the better.

L. H. Webber, 2107 West Adams street, salesman.—I always have enjoyed New Year's eve more than I have Christmas eve. Mrs. Webber and I go out to a dance, or something like that. Sometimes liquid refreshments come one's way on that evening.

Miss Eleanor Moore, 1416 Chase avenue, secretary.—I enjoy Christmas eve better. It is the one occasion when all the family is together, regardless of distance. It is interesting to see the facial expressions and hear the comments as each opens his or her presents. On that evening each one is as happy as when a child.

H. R. Fuller, Downers Grove, Ill., millworker.—Christmas eve. I am past the stage where I like to go out and celebrate New Year's eve. I enjoy seeing the youngsters with their new toys and the older persons surrounded by their gifts. Regardless of age differences, all eyes gleam, all minds are happy.

Rosenwald Fund Reports $4,000,000 in Gifts for Year

Four million dollars of its capital assets of $30,000,000 were appropriated during 1929 by the Julius Rosenwald fund for the establishment of schools and libraries, philanthropic and research activities of several national committees, medical clinics, and Negro higher education. The expenditures of the fund, created by Julius Rosenwald "for the well-being of mankind," were detailed yesterday in the annual statement of Edwin R. Embree, president of the fund.

Mr. Embree's statement showed that one-tenth of the year's expenditures were devoted to the building of 553 Negro school units, making a total of 4,739 Rosenwald schools established in the south. The schools are located in 818 counties and 14 southern states.

Under the terms laid down by Mr. Rosenwald for the handling of the fund, both the principal and any interest that may accrue must be entirely expended within twenty-five years after his death. The $4,000,000 appropriated during the last year included both capital and interest from the $30,000,000 capital fund.

A statement was made public through the Associated Press showing the following principal expenditures during 1929:

"The sum of $100,000 to the national advisory committee on education appointed by Secretary Wilbur to survey the relations of the federal government to education; $200,000 for demonstrations of county library service in southern states; $85,000 to the national illiteracy crusade and to a campaign against illiteracy in Louisiana; $62,500 to the Canadian mental hygiene committee for studies of child growth in Toronto; $50,000 to the social science research council for southern fellowships in the social sciences; $37,500 to the new school of social science research in New York City, and $30,000 to the International Association of City Managers.

"For medical services, the fund appropriated $250,000 to the University of Chicago clinics; $150,000 to the Massachusetts General hospital for a pavilion for patients of moderate means, and $40,000 to the national committee which is studying the cost of medical care.

"In addition to the $400,000 appropriated for the building of Negro rural schools, other gifts included: $250,000 to Howard university for biological research work and for additions to physical plants; $200,000 to Fisk university; $100,000 each to Morehouse and Spelman colleges in Atlanta; $50,000 to defray fellowships for advanced study by Negroes, chiefly to train teachers, physicians and nurses, and in addition appropriations for four Negro hospitals and to colored public health nurses in sixteen counties of five southern states."

Two New Plays, One Native, Start the Christmas Influx

"BIRD IN HAND":

Comedy, in three acts, by John Drinkwater: made known in Chicago (by Lee Shubert) December 21, 1929, in the Harris Theater, with this cast:

Joan Greenleaf.....Jill Esmond Moore
Alice, her mother.....Amy Veness
Thomas, Joan's father.....Herbert Lomas
Gerald Arnwood.....Charles Hickman
Sir Robert, his father.....Roddy Hughes
Mr. Blanquet.....Ivor Barnard
Cyril Beverley.....Charles Maunsell
Godolphin, K. C.....Frank Petley

MR. DRINKWATER'S is an amiable, decent, cheerful, humorous, and at times witty piece about a nobleman's son and an inn-keeper's daughter each in love with the other; about the opposition they encounter from the girl's father; about the help they receive from three overnight guests in his primitive, clean tavern; and about the manner in which the inn-keeper is so turned about that he ends by insisting that the youngsters be married. It is quite unlike any other play now in town or likely soon to be in town; and its quiet charm explains to me, at least, why London adored it through a year and New-York has been enticed by it since April. If Mr. Drinkwater can and will turn out other pieces so delightful, he will in time live down "Abraham Lincoln," not to mention plays of his I have seen about Mary, who was queen of the Scots, and Robert E. Lee.

The tale is so simple that I believe I told it in the first sentence, above. The old inn-keeper's opposition is motivated by his belief that girls should not marry above that social station into which they were born. He is of yeoman stock; so, his girl, to be happy, must marry into the yeomanry. True, his wife came from an itinerant circus, whose owner, her father, didn't think that she should marry a stationary lout like Thomas Greenleaf; but, then, as Thomas Greenleaf explains, her father was just an old mule. When Jill defies him and goes off for a ride with Gerald, he knows that nothing is right. Guests arrive—three of them; more than the inn has ever before had in a night. One would like to telephone; but there is none in the inn, and there will be none so long as Thomas Greenleaf is landlord of the Bird in Hand; the telephone, he explains, is just a device for letting you know a bit sooner something you don't wish to know at all.

The guests find him a nice, reasonable old codger to deal with when, as they try to sleep, he rouses the inn with his rage on learning that, in a storm, Jill and Gerald have taken refuge in a wayside pagoda. But the guests compel him to talk the matter over with Jill present; and then, the affair being none of their business, they decide to do all they can to thwart the old man. They are quite successful: he is rather well beaten by breakfast-time, and makes complete surrender when Gerald's noble father comes along and intimates that the girl is not good enough for his son—an intimation which drives old Greenleaf into a complete volte-face. The noble father really doesn't mean it: the intimation is his strategic contribution to the defeat of the cross-grained inn-keeper.

The comedy is acted in the spirit of Mr. Drinkwater's writing by the English players named above. If a special mention be the right of any of them, it belongs to Mr. Barnard, who is unforgettably droll as a wisp of a salesman of sardines. . . . The comedy and the acting are hereby recommended to you.

Another Play About Love in the Taxi-Dance Belt.

This opus was called "Veneer" in New-York, where some of the reporters said it was good; and I don't know why it was called "Veneer" there. For that matter, I don't know why it is called "Blue Heaven" here. It is another of the plays written on a basis of rough talk about sex: Mr. Stangé, who started so innocently by making a play from Booth Tarkington's "Seventeen," had a deal of such talk in his note-books, and proceeded to put it all into his dialogue. Making mental note, as is my wont, of the repercussions of ribaldries, I found that the longest, loudest, nastiest laugh was evoked by a jest lifted bodily from a recent number of Life, which can hardly be called a dirty publication; and my having found that reaction is, I think, interesting, in proving that even clean wit can easily be sullied through the wrong association. . . . And "Blue Heaven" is hardly worth so much of profound thinking.

Well, it is about Charley, a self-labeled sheik, and the ease with which he makes a fool of Alla, a nice girl who works in the Public Library [the time is the present, and the place New-York], dreams a deal about the far-off places, regards herself as educated and aware, and is really so much of a dub that she cannot safely be trusted with the simplest of the tasks belonging to her job. He is a joke among the hully-gee lads and the what-de-Hell lassies with whom he associates in the cheap dance-halls, but he persuades Alla to live with him until he shall have made his fortune, explaining that, if made to feel the obligations of formal marriage, he would be unable to use his brain in battling Wall Street. She finds in three months that he is a loafer and a rat at heart; and by that time there is to be a baby. He permits her to pay for their tawdry little flat, and steals the money she has saved and gives it to another girl, who quickly spends it on an outfit in which she hopes to vamp a captain of industry. Charley, learning of this, undergoes some sort of craven reformation; but Alla dies. That is about it.

There is no drama in the piece, which is just an arbitrary arrangement of episodes; and these have the effect of having been designed to carry the rough talk: talk which is, I think, as near Farthest North as any of the native dramatists have so far managed—always excepting Eugene O'Neill, of course. . . . The piece is acted con amore by Mr. Tracey, Miss Roos, and their associates, and is staged with a skill that meets the requirements of the arrangement of scenes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Noren to Celebrate 50th Christmas

Their fiftieth Christmas together will be celebrated by Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Noren in their home, 4988 North Kolmar avenue, on Wednesday. For they were married in La Porte, Ind., Dec. 24, 1879. Both had been born in Sweden, Mr. Noren in 1853 and she in 1860.

MRS. NOREN.

MR. NOREN.

Mr. Noren retired from business after he and Mrs. Noren reared a family of 12, of whom 9 still are alive. To their reception on Christmas day will come as many as possible of their four sons and five daughters, and their 13 grandchildren. Several of the sons and daughters live outside of Chicago.

There will be a Christmas tree, an exchange of presents, and a reunion with many of the Norens' old friends.

Call Sup. 0100 to Enroll with Good Fellows

And Add to Your Own Christmas Happiness.

BY THOMAS WREN.

To facilitate the last minute Good Fellow enrollments, communication with THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow department at 1 South Dearborn street can now be established by calling Superior 0100.

Miss Charlotte Ring at the Good Fellow department announced that Good Fellow registrations on Sunday did not come up to expectation. She states the department still has a large number of children's appeals for supplies of Christmas happiness on hand. And this condition prevailing with virtually everything in readiness for tomorrow's big parade of Good Fellows.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S Good Fellow athletic show will be staged this afternoon at the United States War Veterans' hospital at North Chicago, Ill. Katherine Forward Finnegan, the Red Cross director at the government hospital, states that approximately 500 of the institution's 674 mental patients will be able to watch the entertainment.

Dave H. Barry, the fight referee, arranged the athletic program, and despite a convalescent condition said he will endeavor to be the master of ceremonies at the performance.

The talent for the athletic show was selected by Barry after conference with Katherine Finnegan. Most of the war veterans confined at the North Chicago hospital engaged in conflict in the war and their condition will only permit of an hour's performance.

The musical program was arranged by Clarence Castelle, who has done extensive work for the entertainment of men at government hospitals. One of the main features arranged by Barry will be a wrestling match between Bill Tate, the old-time fighter, and Charles Cutler. Frankie Russ will sling the padded mitts with Jimmie La Barre for three fast rounds. All entertainment has to be in pantomime. Then there will be acts of juggling and card manipulation, and one of acrobatic nature. Individual Christmas gifts will be presented to each war veteran.

Oney Fred Sweet of THE TRIBUNE has made a survey of the tenement districts of the city and he reports there is much want in the homes of the poor children.

This year the organized charities were generous in their allotment of colored families.

Some of the Good Fellow enrollments yesterday included the Duro Metal Products, Chicago Beach hotel, Phi Beta sorority, Zeta chapter, Cosmopolitan School of Music, Standard Rate and Data service, the Thirtieth Ward Regular Republican organization, and the Woman's Neighborhood club of Rogers Park, Miss Agnes Callaghan of the Garfield school, and Jimmy Petrille of the Chicago Federation of Musicians.

There is still ample time to participate in this year's crusade of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE Good Fellows to brighten gloomy tenement houses. Call Superior 0100 to procure further information or visit main headquarters, which are located in THE TRIBUNE advertising and public service office at 1 South Dearborn street.

Scientists of the world are mystified as women succumb by millions to the Vallee lure—He sings!—and 10,000,000 feminine hearts beat time. He sings!—and all the world becomes an enchanted land of moonlit nights where lovers dwell and blood red lips plead for kisses.

Never before has a singer or a personality captured women as Vallee has done—he has the art to make them feel and experience the passionate themes of his songs.

AS ONE NEW YORK CRITIC SAID:

"Girls, go home after you have seen 'The Vagabond Lover' and TRY to forget Rudy."

Yale Glee Club Men Are Here; Given Parties

BY THALIA

If the Yale Glee club's stop in Chicago is a sample of the strenuous entertainment they are to be submitted to at every juncture of their Christmas tour, the young men will be weary when they get back to their studies at New Haven.

They got in yesterday, and what with the large and small parties to which they are individually and collectively invited, they'll be most awfully busy. Various Yale men are giving small luncheons today, and the entire club is invited to Mr. and Mrs. John Wells' tea at the Fortnightly for the performance at Orchestra hall; to Miss Barbara Poole's debut ball to be given at the Casino by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. Poole, and to the Lawrence Whitings' debut ball at their residence for Miss Henrietta Countiss. The club serves late tonight for a Christmas eve performance in Davenport, Ia., and will be back for a Christmas dinner to be given on Christmas day by the Chicago Yale club at the University club. They would undoubtedly have been invited to some of the large dinners being given tonight before the concert if their routine permitted.

The L. Newton Perrys are giving one large affair for Miss Marianne Stevenson; the Cornelius Lyndes of Winnetka another, and Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson Jr. still another. All of the hosts are taking their guests to hear the Glee club after dinner.

The Whiting ball should be one of the liveliest parties of the lot. The Duncan sisters are keeping a promise made five whole years ago to give "Rosy" a whirl at her debut party, and, while they are to attend in the role of guests, they are all set to be their most entertaining and amusing selves. The fact that there is a new baby in the Whiting household isn't detracting a bit from the gayety of Henrietta's coming out, and Mrs. Whiting tells me that later in the winter they're planning to have some winter sports festivities at their Lake Geneva place. The baby was christened Barbara Eleanor on Friday afternoon at a little ceremony in Mrs. Whiting's boudoir. Mrs. Mark Trude and Miss Florence Spofford officiated as godmothers, and Robert Stuart is the godfather.

Assisting Miss Wells at her tea will be Miss Anne Small, Miss Ann Noyes, Miss Mary Noyes, Miss Ruth Fisher, Miss Marianne L. Stevenson, Miss Charlotte Meyer, Miss Elizabeth Durkee, Miss Narcissa Swift, and Miss Grace Dewes. A dinner party for the assistants and their escorts will follow the tea, after which they will all go to the Yale concert.

After attending the Yale Glee club performance many members of Chi Psi and their guests will attend that fraternity's ball tonight at the Congress hotel. Henry Paulman Jr. is in charge. Among members and their wives who will attend are: Messrs. and Mesdames Eastman Dryden, Truman W. Brophy Jr., Edward E. Brown, Richard Hill Fleming, Gerald Grant, James L. Garard, John F. Hagey, Huntington B. Henry, Franklin B. Hussey, Oscar W. Johnson, Nelson T. Levings, George G. Thorp, Charles W. Lobdell, Volta F. Mashek, Richard P. Matthiessen, Robert C. Preble, Clark Swanson Reed, Henry A. Rumsey, Harold C. Strotz, Clifford Templeton, Hamilton Vose Jr., and Horace O. Wetmore.

The Wellesley club theater benefit at the opening of "A Bird in Hand" is another gay event on the evening's crowded calendar. Boxes have been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Madlener, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bartholomay, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wetten and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce MacLeish. Miss Jean MacLeish is to captain a group of girls who will sell programs.

The day's festivities for the younger folks who are home from school include a tea dance to be given by Mrs. Robert Joseph Graf and Mrs. George Morton McMurray at the Woman's Athletic club for Miss Barbara Graf and Miss Jane MacMurray, and a dinner dance at the Blackstone by Mr. and Mrs. T. Weller Kimball for their daughter, Miss Doris Kimball.

The Michigan Alumnae association is engaged in selling a large block of seats for the gala performance on Friday evening, Jan. 10, at the new Civic Opera house, to raise funds to complete its pledge to the Michigan league. Headquarters for mail orders and reservations are on the sixteenth floor, north, of the Auditorium building. Mrs. Nathan William MacChesney is one of the alumnae actively working for the success of the ticket sale.

Elizabeth Bunting, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Bunting, and Alma Leslie Acher, daughter of Mrs. Albert Acher, arrive on Friday from the Bolton Arms school in Washington, D. C., for the holidays, and the boys attending the Hun school at Princeton, N. J., who are here include Benson Leslie Behr Jr. and George Emily Braun, son of Mrs. William M. Braun.

Mrs. John H. Holland Jr. will arrive in Chicago on Tuesday.

All Girls Have a Chance at Beauty, Says Antoinette

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

One girl writes:

"I'm hopeless. My eyes aren't good." Another confides something unflattering about her hair; another about her legs; still another about her hands or her complexion. And so on and so on.

Why should any young person be dejected in this particular era of ours? Unless she is out and out deformed, the things a normal, spry young girl can do for herself are simply unlimited. She can make herself over from head to foot. (This is to be taken literally, for she can get a more becoming coiffure, a better complexion, a better figure and a smarter walk with far less trouble than it takes to abandon oneself to a state of dejection.)

We live in a simply grand age for every woman. One's income has comparatively little to do with the sprightly appearance one can put up. Witness the female noonday outpourings in any commercial district and believe that a girl can look terribly attractive on a comparatively small working salary.

Tall, lean, short, fat, freckled-nosed or snub, mouse brown or flaming red of hair—what does it matter today? The beauty judging arena is open to all types, all sizes, all shades. In fact, if you are clever you can even have a few pronounced liabilities, so long as they are subjugated while you play the assets for all they are worth.

But no girl need ever write that she is hopeless because her eyes are this way or her hair is that. There is no condition to be recognized today as hopeless, unless it is something in the spirit of the girl that can't be coped with. That will kill her chances, true enough. But in my time I have seen so many girls and women riding victoriously over handicaps that I'm not willing to admit there is such a thing as a hopeless case.

Believe in yourself! Believe in what you can do with yourself! Believe, in these modern beauty aids! Believe, of all things, in the beauty of hygienic living! Then go ahead and practice your belief.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

The Cress Garnish.

It is hard to write recipes for Christmas week. It is not the time to be trying to learn to cook. Although it may be a time for learning how to make foods prettier, set them uphandsomer, and in every way more effectively for the holiday feasts.

Not all the Christmas greens we get need to be in the shape of garlands and wreathes to hang in our windows and in such places as the mistletoe graces. There is no prettier Christmas table green than cress, and no piquant garnish that goes better with almost any Christmas meat—than water cress. And in the salads of the season it may do the prettiest sort of things.

People put cress on the platter with the beefsteak, although it is not wise for the cress to be put on a platter that is sufficiently hot for the fine and instantaneous serving of the steak. Hot platters give the cress a steaming that takes the crisp life right out of it.

Not long ago two of us were getting up a dinner at which there was to be a dish of chicken, with which I was sure some crisp cress would be the best relish. After the cress had been washed, rinsed, and drained, I gathered it up as though picking a bouquet, stem by stem, and put it into a low glass bonbon dish. Guests at this dinner said they thought it was a bouquet of violets.

Though cress is so lovely, and is also so changed with a French dressing, we often have to pay some price besides the cost price. I changed the water after washing each and every sprig of that bouquet, because it happened to be full of half decayed foliage, though it had no snails or other items like that, for which I examined it minutely. It is worth it to exercise all this care.

Up Spoke Johnny.

We were having dinner at the home of some friends who are quite formal and dignified.

Our young son, aged 4, was allowed to sit at the table with us. Everything was going along nicely, Johnny was behaving with his best party manners, when in a sudden lull in the conversation he announced in a loud voice: "Gee, this meat is tough!"

I tried to cover my embarrassment by hastily changing the subject.

Bright Sayings of the Children

Beverly had met at a summer camp a boy who seemed to be quite nice and who invited him to spend a Saturday at his home, which was a large place in a suburb. Before Beverly went I warned him to have good table manners.

When he came home he announced, "I had good manners, mother, but they were so busy having bad manners that they did not see my good manners."

SWEDISH CLUB SINGS "THE MESSIAH" HERE WITH SPLENDID SPIRIT

BY EDWARD MOORE.

Beginning the holiday season, Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," was sung by the Swedish Choral club at Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon. Leading in the matter of time the other performances of the work that are to be given during the present period of the year, it set a good standard of rendition as well.

The chorus consists of about 200 voices that have both sturdiness and quality to commend them, and their four choirs balance rather better than is the usual case with choral organization. With these as basis, Conductor Harry T. Carlson has developed an able singing organization, one that responds accurately to the beat, keeps well together, sings the English language clearly, is capable of fine suavity in "And the Glory of the Lord" and equally fine sonority in the dramatic outburst of 'For Unto Us a Child Is Born."

One of the soloists displayed unusual gifts for oratorio singing. This was Frederic Baer of New York, a baritone who had not been heard here before. His voice has both the power and the quality to make him a distinctive figure in any performance. Again the dramatic quality in Handel's music became evident as Mr. Baer swept through the part of the aria that contains the words, "For He is like a refiner's fire"; again the English language became a tongue in which to take pride. Mr. Baer would seem destined to develop a considerable reputation.

At the same time, there was other excellent solo singing by Else Harthan Arendt, soprano, and Lillian Knowles, contralto, both of Chicago, and Arthur Kraft, tenor, who used to live in Chicago, but now makes New York his headquarters. In fact it was an entirely competent performance throughout. Fifty members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, together with Stanley Martin at the organ, played the instrumental score.

La Argentina was back at the Studebaker yesterday, and again there was the same tale to be told: a crowded house, all the witcheries of pose and expression and gesture that go with this most fascinating of the Spanish dancers.

North Shore League Gives Fine Show of Paintings, Handicraft

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The North Shore Art league is holding an extremely fine exhibit of arts and crafts in the community house in Winnetka. The handicrafts are displayed in one room and the paintings in a larger gallery. Frank A. Windes shows several gorgeous platters in pewter, and Margery Windes offers work also in pewter. This is the result of evening classes at the Skokie school.

Willes S. Hilpert shows a pewter bowl for fruit. Mrs. Montague Ferry has a superb screen and exquisite lamp shades of parchment and beautiful batik work; Mrs. H. C. Edmunds submits several beautiful hooked rugs. Mrs. Samuel T. Burke, John L. Hamilton, Glennie Moseley, and Dr. James Ely help the exhibit with various contributions of iron and rugs and other crafts, all well done.

The room devoted to paintings is unusually impressive. The "Autumn Landscape," by Percy B. Eckhart, is of the brilliant pointilliste manner with river and trees in the colorful dress of fall. Grace Haskins has a glorious "Red Oak," one of the outstanding paintings in the room. Lill Lotz offers an intriguing "The Seamstress." Rudolph Ingerle lives up to his reputation of hauntingly beautiful landscapes with "Along French Broad River, N. C." John L. Hamilton shows an exquisitely painted "Old Barn."

There are several pieces of sculpture. The statuette of mother and child by Bertha Mechstroch is particularly delicate. Aiden F. Brooks reminds one of Whistler in his very lovely "Sunset on Lake Michigan." Kate Bond offers a charming portrait of a girl in crayon. It is one of the simplest and most beautiful things in the room. "Gloucester," by Julia Sulzer Griffith, is exceptionally fine.

Among the other artists represented are Hazel Crow Ewell, Alice Mae Jackson, Edna M. S. Johansen, E. M. Johansen, Dorothea Lineberger, Sybella Vennema, Elizabeth Peyraud (with a delightful flower study), and Allan Philbrick.

THREE INCHES BELOW KNEES OFFERED AS LENGTH FOR SKIRTS

New York, Dec. 22.—[Special.]—A skirt length reaching just three inches below the knee was advocated as the most comfortable and most becoming mode by members of the newly organized "Curves, Charm and Contour club," recruited from among the "Ladies of the Ensemble," which started its functions at the Ritz-Carlton this afternoon.

Skirts reaching three inches below the knee and on straight, simple lines were proposed for all practical purposes. Nipped in waists in paneled skirts were advocated for evening wear if becoming to the individual figure.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 22.—[Special.]—President and Mrs. Hoover entertained a few friends at their customary Sunday evening supper.

Representative and Mrs. John W. Summers of Washington have been joined here for the holidays by their daughters, Mrs. Hope Summers Wetherill of Evanston, Ill., and Miss Jean Summers, who is a sophomore at Northwestern university.

Former Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aviation and Mrs. William P. MacCracken Jr. have been joined in their apartment by Mr. MacCracken's father, who arrived today from his home in Chicago to spend Christmas with them.

Mrs. William Bass left last night for Chicago to remain for the winter with her brother, Gilbert Hart.

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"A Sympathizer of Unfortunates," she signs herself at 17! Not of the unfortunate starving Armenians nor of the "'eathen Chinee." Just a great big heart for girls of her own age, a bit younger, a bit older, who have to take their pleasures with pettings and maulings, or leave 'em alone. Leave the boys alone, that is.

My goodness, is it as bad as that! Can't a nice girl go out on a date any more and come home with her lipstick lotion intact?

"It seems that a decent, respectable girl is worth nothing to a boy, these days," says the sympathizer with the other unfortunates.

Right there is where the girl is wrong. Never, since that more or less mythical after war panic in girl stock, has there been such an appreciation of "Decency Preferred." I'll grant, of course, that there is some confusion because there is still in the open market a lot of "Decency Common," if you know what I mean. Girls, in other words, who are fundamentally sound but common, girls who have let their stock depreciate by promiscuous handling, by the stupid value they attach to themselves, so that when a boy goes investing, as it were, he isn't sure whether curb behavior or polite private exchange room conduct is expected of him. His motto is "Aim to please!" At least, that's what they tell me it is.

As I see it, what is the matter with all this behavior dissension is that the rules of conduct toward women are too complicated to become easily familiarized by the boys. One girl, perhaps essentially good, flops into a pair of extended arms and lets budding mustachios rumple her expensive complexion. The next girl, finer mettled as to character and woman value, is insulted. Her rigidity leaves character and complexion intact, but also her evenings. And that doesn't set well. It shouldn't, either, when one is young and date eager.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Dec. 22.—Mrs. Herbert H. Ferris will give a luncheon at Pierre's tomorrow for her daughter, Miss Barbara Reynolds Ferris, a sophomore at Vassar and a debutante of the season.

Mr. and Mrs. Catesby L. Jones, now in Santa Barbara, Cal., will go to Florida in February to remain until the spring.

Philip L. Mallory will give a tea dance in the Italian garden of the Ambassador on Friday for Miss Dorothea Barron Mallory, who is at home from school for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sykes Wallen left today for Palm Beach.

Their Choice Would Succeed C. P. Anderson.

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

A call for the election of a coadjutor bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago has been issued by the Most Rev. Charles P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago and national primate of that church. The election will be held on Feb. 4, the time of the annual convention of the diocese of Chicago, according to Bishop Anderson's letter. That letter will be received today by the Chicago clergy and the church vestries.

Bishop Anderson's request for such an election has been anticipated since his elevation to the primacy of the Episcopal church in November to succeed the Most Rev. John Gardner Murray, who died while presiding at a special meeting of the House of Bishops at Atlantic City in October. At a recent banquet of the Church Club of Chicago, Bishop Anderson mentioned the fact that his new office would require additional assistance in the administration of the diocese of Chicago.

Might Succeed Present Bishop.

The laws of the Episcopal church require that the presiding bishop, the office held by Bishop Anderson as the national head of that church, must also remain the head of a diocese. The presiding bishop may call for the election of a bishop to aid him in his local diocese, either a suffragan bishop who is simply an assistant bishop, or a coadjutor bishop who has the right to succeed as the next bishop of that diocese on the death or resignation of the bishop.

The Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold is the present suffragan bishop of Chicago. Unless Bishop Griswold should be elected coadjutor in the February election he will not have the right to succeed Bishop Anderson, but would remain the assistant bishop to the newly elected coadjutor.

"If my request is granted," said Bishop Anderson's letter which stated his intention to call for the election on Feb. 4, "I expect to assign to the bishop coadjutor a large part of the jurisdictional and administrative duties of the bishop of the diocese."

Calls Action Important.

Bishop Anderson's letter pointed out that he is not required by church laws to give advance notice of his intention to ask for such an election. Due to the fact that the bishop coadjutor elected may eventually become the bishop of the diocese, Bishop Anderson stated that his intention "should be made known so that the clergy and lay delegates may have time to reflect upon the solemn and far reaching responsibility which will be placed upon them."

On Feb. 24 Bishop Anderson will celebrate the thirtieth anniversary of his election as bishop of Chicago. Names of five clergymen are prominently mentioned as possible candidates. Suffragan Bishop Griswold is said to be favored by a considerable clerical group.

Others are the Rev. Dr. George H. Thomas, rector of St. Paul's church; the Rev. Dr. George Craig Stewart, rector of St. Luke's church, Evanston, and a member of the national council of the Episcopal church; the very Rev. Duncan H. Browne, dean of St. James' cathedral; and the Rev. Dr. F. S. Fleming, former rector of the Church of the Atonement.

Elmer Finds Yule Music Filling Air

W-G-N Program Has Two Pleasing Novelties.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Yesterday's radio programs were a Christmas musical festival; the Christmas atmosphere was evident everywhere.

Two distinct novelties were combined on the New York concert through W-G-N, 8:15 to 9:15. Humperdinck's merry "Hansel and Gretel" was given during the second half of the hour. This was an especially arranged version with a competent quartet of vocalists, orchestral accompaniment, and Announcer Graham McNamee acting as narrator. This no doubt made a hit. The first half was an orchestral concert, to direct which the celebrated conductor, William Van Hoogstraten, made a special trip from Portland, Ore. The program was made up of familiar short selections by Brahms, Bach, and Beethoven.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra concert, Frederick Stock conducting, through W-G-N, 2 to 3, was altogether delightful. Mozart's joyous Symphony in E flat was the keystone number, of which the special decoration was its marvelously lovely minuet. Handel's "Largo" was impressively rendered, the melody being played by Concertmaster Jacques Gordon. Strauss' tone poem, "Don Juan," gave the concert a touch of the heavier symphony orchestra tone character.

Charming was the carillon program from St. Chrysostom's church, with Harold Simonds at the carillon keyboard, console, or whatever it is, through W-G-N, 4:05 to 4:30. Hymns and carols were played.

The Sunday Evening club's special Christmas musical programs, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 8, from Orchestra hall, through WMAQ, were outstanding church broadcasts of the day.

The Musical Melange concert, Gaston du Moulin conducting, through W-G-N, 4:30 to 5:30, was not only a symphony orchestra concert of some dimensions, but it was further enhanced in musical worth by the excellent showing of George Nelidoff, a Russian baritone.

I suspect that Larry Larsen, W-G-N organist, has a large popular following. Anyhow, here's a word of recognition for the "Andantino," a work composed by one of Mr. Larsen's pupils, on Mr. Larsen's 3 to 3:30 concert yesterday.

C. A. SALOPOULOS, OWNER OF GREEK PAPER, IS DEAD

Constantine A. Salopoulos, 56 years old, publisher of the Greek language newspaper Saloniki, died yesterday morning at his home at 6527 Bosworth avenue after an illness of nine months which followed an attack of acute appendicitis. He was a brother of Dr. N. Salopoulos, former Greek consul in Chicago.

Mr. Salopoulos was born in Tegea, Greece, and came to Chicago in 1903 after receiving a Ph. D. degree from the University of Athens. For the last seventeen years he had been publisher of Saloniki.

Besides his brother, he is survived by his widow and four children, and three sisters. Funeral services will be held either Thursday or Friday at St. Basil Greek Orthodox church, 733 South Ashland avenue.

FIFTY NEW YORK CONVICTS FREED AS YULE GIFTS

New York, Dec. 22.—(Special.)—New York state's Christmas present to its convict population will be freedom to fifty prisoners who already have served minimum sentences, ranging from five to ten years.

These gifts in the form of paroles, will be distributed tomorrow and Tuesday in the four prisons, so that those fortunates on the lists will be enabled to spend Christmas with friends or family.

Even Auburn prison will send out a few, but the majority of the men decreed to have earned special consideration will come from Sing Sing, Great Meadow, and Clinton.

LA FOLLETTE'S EX-LAW PARTNER DIES IN NEW YORK

New York, Dec. 22.—(AP)—Gilbert E. Roe, 65, former law partner of the late Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, died at his home here today of heart trouble.

Mr. Roe was born at Oregon, Wis., and was associated with La Follette from 1890 to 1899, when he moved to New York. He was eastern regional director of La Follette's presidential campaign in 1924.

Surviving him are his widow and two children.

Mrs. Henrietta Torgler Will Be Buried Today

Mrs. Henrietta Torgler, lifelong resident of Palatine, died on Friday at her home at the age of 72. Two daughters, Mrs. Selma Plagge, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, and a son, Walter Torgler, survive her. Funeral services will be held at Immanuel Lutheran church, Palatine, at 2:30 p. m. today.

GEORGE B. HART DEAD; RITES TO BE HELD TODAY

Funeral services for George B. Hart, 44 years old, who died on Saturday night at his home at 815 Lincoln avenue, Highland Park, after a long illness, will be held at the home at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Hart, who was an attorney and treasurer of the Chicago Gravel company, was the son of the late James A. Hart, one-time owner of the Cubs ball park. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. James Hart, his widow, and two children, and one sister, Mrs. Carl A. Meyer.

Mr. Hart was born at Paxton, Ill., on Jan. 16, 1885, and came to Chicago with his parents as a boy. He attended the public schools and afterward studied law at Northwestern university. He was admitted to the Illinois bar in 1916. He was a member of Phi Delta Theta, of the Masons, the Union League club, and the Highland Park and Exmoor Country clubs. Interment will be at Memorial Park cemetery.

T. F. LESNIAK OF RECORDER'S STAFF IS DEAD

Thomas F. Lesniak, a clerk in the office of the county recorder and for many years active in politics, died yesterday at his home at 3005 North Kimball avenue. He was 55 years old.

Mr. Lesniak was born in Hartford, Conn., but came here with his parents when he was 3 years old. He had resided in Chicago since then. He first became active in politics in the old 16th ward 29 years ago, and later was employed in the city attorney's office. He served for a time as deputy bailiff of the municipal court, and in 1910 was a candidate for alderman from the 16th ward.

He is survived by his widow and one son and two daughters. Funeral services will be held at 9:30 a. m. Thursday at St. Hyacinth's church, with burial at St. Adalbert's cemetery.

W. W. MARSH, IOWA DEMOCRATIC CHIEF, DEAD FROM STROKE

Waterloo, Ia., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Wilbur W. Marsh, Democratic national committeeman from Iowa during the campaigns of Woodrow Wilson, died at his home here tonight. Death was caused by a paralytic stroke.

He was found unconscious at the wheel of his automobile on a highway near Hudson this morning. Physicians said he had apparently been unconscious in the car all night. Before losing consciousness he had stopped the car and shut off the motor.

Mr. Marsh was prominently mentioned for appointment as secretary of agriculture during the second Wilson administration. He recently retired from the presidency of the Associated Manufacturers' company, a farm implement concern. He is survived by the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Bennett Clark, wife of the son of the late Champ Clark.

Mr. Marsh was treasurer of the Democratic national committee for a time.

RUDDERLESS SHIP SAVED FROM GALE IN CARIBBEAN SEA

Boston, Mass., Dec. 22.—(AP)—Plucked from the storm swept Caribbean, the disabled freighter Santa Ana arrived at Grand Cayman, tiny British island possession 200 miles south of Cuba, at 8 a. m. today, in tow of the tanker Athel Chief, messages received by the Tropical Radio company here said.

The Santa Ana sent out an S O S yesterday, reporting her position as 130 miles south of the Isle of Pines. Just before the Athel Chief reached her side she radioed that she was wallowing in the trough of the sea, her rudder gone and barely able to keep afloat. The Athel Chief shot a line aboard and towed the Santa Ana through 100 miles of heavy sea to Grand Cayman.

"SELECTED" is just Seven Years Young

For years we cherished the idea that Chicago folks would welcome a milk specially produced for drinking. So in 1922 we carefully picked a few modern dairy farms near Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, and agreed to pay the farmers a substantial premium for following a rigid routine in feeding, milking and cooling.

After months of preparation, "Selected" was introduced to Chicago and suburbs as the milk with "The Sweet Natural Taste." People tried it, liked it, and ordered it regularly. Each year the demand has shown a steady increase. 1929 volume is 20% ahead of 1928.

Thousands of letters and personal messages have come to us from "Selected" users . . . telling how children of all ages love "Selected" . . . how "Selected" makes coaxing unnecessary . . . and how children thrive on it. Grown-ups write us they never knew milk could taste so good.

For Christmas baking, order Whipping Cream, Butter, Fresh Eggs, Cottage Cheese, Milk, Sour Cream, from Borden's

Of course, it all is music to our ears. Now we'd like to know how your family accepted "Selected." If you haven't yet tried "Selected," why not follow one of the three simple methods suggested below.

These Don'ts Help to Avoid Disaster on Christmas Day

A book on the care of babies by Miss Carolyn Conant Van Blarcom, a noted authority on the subject, can be had at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street, for 50 cents, or by mail for 45 cents.

As a rule we don't believe in don'ts. As you know the saying that the exception proves the rule.

But here is the exception—a whole batch of don'ts which have been coming to me and which I would like to pass on to those mothers or others in charge of children who are either inexperienced, or have forgotten last year's mistakes. Most of these don'ts apply to the younger children and are based on experience and observation.

Don't let Christmas upset your children's digestion. If you don't want to give them sweets, plan so that they have the harmless kind instead of the rich sort grown ups eat.

Don't let Christmas day wear your children out. Just the thought that Christmas day has come is exciting enough. Whep you add to that a long afternoon day of confusion, no matter how happy it may be, many people. A reluctance of gifts, extra early rising, noon, no nap, and a late bed hour, are putting a great strain on your children. Instead, at some time of the day handle the children outdoors whether they like it or not, take them for a time, either to nap or to lie down in a quiet room, try to have their meals at the usual hours, and put them to bed on time. Their evident awakeness at their regular bedtime is often merely excitement.

Don't excite them by rushing their gifts at them. I have seen sensitive highly organized little children actually tremble with the tension caused by the excitement in the air. Try to give your small children their presents one at a time, waiting until they've looked at each one slowly before giving the next. Don't rush their guests at them and overpower them. It's utterly bewildering to them.

And don't hang over them saying, "Oh, what a bee-yutiful donkey!" or "What a splendid express wagon! Don't Uncle George nice to give you such a wonderful wagon?" taking the edge off their enjoyment by your enthusiastic exclamations, expecting them to exclaim with delight, or to thank somebody, or saying so much that they are left dumb.

Let them alone. Leave a little pool of quiet—it can't be much of a pool, not a little one—around them so they can savor a gift.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

"Growing ferns indoors is quite a different matter from growing them outside," says Lea A. Minns, of the department of floriculture at Cornell university, "because a number of outdoor species normally die down in the autumn."

The evergreen varieties, mostly used for indoor culture, include the common polypody, maidenhair, spleenwort, and purple shieldrake and are considered best able to stand the dry atmosphere and heat of most living rooms. They should stand in a cool corner, protected from the sun, and should be sprayed with cool water once or twice a day. With but a small degree of care they can be grown with little trouble.

Fine treatment which tends to promote success with ferns will include the heavy or too rich soil, standing in water, wide variations in temperature, dry air, insect enemies, and brushing about the young leaves.

Ferns grow most rapidly in spring and summer and should not be expected to grow uniformly under house conditions. Repotting should be done when the plant needs it, at least once a year, until it is in an eight inch pot; but the size of the pot will depend on what will fit the window space. When the roots are badly crowded and the top appears starved and yellow, it is often better to throw the plant away and to start with a smaller one or divide and repot a portion if the plant allows of division.

When treating ferns for insect enemies, Miss Minns says not to use strong insecticides in sprays and fumigations, because ferns are delicate and must be handled carefully. It is often better to throw the plant away if it is badly infested with insects.

Ferns thrive in good light and do not need direct sunlight. Moisture in soil and air, and good drainage in pots is desirable. Ferns do best in soil containing much leaf mold, without fresh or strong fertilizers. Give ferns an even temperature, warmer than needed for most window plants.

Paris Sponsors Two Fabrics in Chic Gowns

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS.—[Special Correspondence.] —Materials that make Paris clothes are already taking on a springlike air. Dresses that are worn under fur coats on the boulevards are made of fabrics that will go south to Palm Beach a little after Christmas. Wool voiles, marquisettes and staminea, and their silken counterparts are the smartest materials for separate frocks that are worn under the heavy coat. Silk tweed is another material that has a smart present and a bright future in fashion.

Two materials combined in one dress is as accurate a forecast of spring as the crocus in the snow. When two materials are united one of them is usually printed and used for a blouse, for sleeves, for tie, jabot and cuffs. Printed underskirts peer out from beneath split outer skirts on some of the newest and smartest Paris frocks.

Woolens for dresses are so wraithlike they require a foundation and this is either plain or printed silk. Jerseys have lost an astonishing amount of weight, and gained thereby a corresponding quantity of smartness. They are scarcely heavier or more opaque than is voile, and this chic thinness gives them an important place in the material side of French fashions.

The model shown in our sketch is made of two materials and gets a great deal of its undeniable cachet from this combination. The skirt is fashioned of wool marquisette and the blouse of the new semi-transparent jersey in silk and wool. Jenny designed this dress to fill the gap left by the demise of the sports frock for city and town wear.

It is horizon blue and the blouse is striped in black and white, these stripes being restricted to the lower blouse body and the end of the scarf, which is a one-way scarf and narrows into the left half of the turn down collar.

The skirt is notably smart in line as well as in fabric. There is a narrow yoke at the top, covering the lower blouse, and from this yoke tucks descend to the knees, where they end and a ruffle begins, made by the fullness from the tucks above.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

White and Tan Paints.

"I wonder if you could get me some white and tan paints. I am anxious to do some decorating about the house, but I cannot afford to buy the paint. "M. H."

With the material left from your last painting job, this young housewife probably could accomplish a great deal in the way of interior decorating and beautifying her simple home. May she not have it?

Offers Phonograph.

"I have a lovely cabinet phonograph in excellent condition I would like to give to some shut-in or invalid who would enjoy a little music. Probably you can help me to find the suitable person. A. G."

Music can help so much to brighten up a dreary world and provides such a pleasant diversion for the invalid who must spend all his time indoors. If you'd like to have it for some one you know, write me; please do not telephone.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

This Parisian model is made in one of the sheer woolens, and has a molded yoke and a double tiered skirt with deep inverted plaits at either side of the front, which these provide the necessary ripple in motion. The collar is a plain, sheer woolen in a harmonizing tone, and is partial to a one piece, for it ends in a deep revere which serves to lengthen the silhouette. It is just the dress for street, afternoon or travel wear.

The pattern, 3081, comes in sizes 34 and 16 years and 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4 yards of 39 inch material with ⅜ yard of 32 inch contrasting and ⅜ yard of 35 inch lining.

WE MAKE SECOND MORTGAGES

We are home mortgage specialists.

We confine the loans we make to second mortgages on homes [construction up to 2 stories-flat buildings a-lso] homes—and because of this concentration on a single type of transaction we are able to give lower rates and better terms on second mortgage loans to home owners than can be obtained anywhere else in the city of Chicago.

Our charges are not based on a sliding scale, and do not vary. We charge 7% interest, which accrues monthly, and commissions which work out as follows:

$65 per $1,000 for 2 Years.
$90 per $1,000 for 3 Years.

Lowest Rate in Chicago on Household Loans
$100 to $300
2½% A MONTH

By reason of large volume of business and efficient management, "Household" has been able to reduce its interest rate from 3¼% a month to 2½%, which affords a saving of almost one-third.

Here Is the Cost

On loans payable in twenty Equal Monthly Payments:

$100—Average monthly cost—$1.32
$200—Average monthly cost—$2.63
$300—Average monthly cost—$3.94

Here Is What You Save

On Twenty Month Loans:

$100 loan.....You Save $10.50
$200 loan.....You Save $21.00

HOW WE MAKE LOANS.

Whether you make application in person or by telephone you will be treated courteously and served promptly. The entire transaction will be handled in strict confidence. Employer, relatives, friends, or tradespeople will not be notified. Loans are usually made payable in twenty monthly payments; however a loan is repaid sooner than 20 months you only pay for the actual time you keep the money. Signatures of husband and wife are all that is necessary. No outside signers required.
